Land and Mineral Decisions.

The following decisions are furnished The Independent by Woodford D. Harlan, Land Attorney, Washington, D. C.:

Coal Land—A second filing for same tract is not allowed to one who has failed to make proof and payment within the statutory period.

Contest, Practice—If an entryman fails to maintain his residence, during the pendency of a contest, involving priority of settlement, his laches cannot be cured by the resumption of residence prior to the institution of proceedings by the adverse settler charging said default.

Entry, Legality of Same, Practice—Legality of an entry will be considered by the department when before it for action, though the character of the entry when made was known to the general land office.

Final Proof—When new final proof is submitted pending appeal from the Commissioners' rejection of the first, the department will pass on the merits of the case as shown by the whole record.

Homestead—Cannot be made of land occupied in good faith by others.

Mineral, Agricultural, Practice—The burden of proof is upon an agricultural claimant for land returned as mineral, to show the fact of its non-mineral character, but he is not required to prove affirmatively its agricultural character.

It is intended for those who appreciate quality, for those gentlemen who enjoy a thoroughly matured, rich Old Kentucky liquor—I. W. Harper whiskey sold by F. E. Cornelius. adv

Her Disease.

One day Marjorie, aged three, wanted to play doctor with her sister. Marjorie was to be the "doctor" and she came to make a call on her sister, who made believe she was sick. "Do you want to know what you've got?" the doctor asked after a critical examination. "Yes," faintly assented the sick woman. "You've got dirty hands," said Marjorie, dropping in disgust the wrist on which she had been feeling the pulse.—Buffalo Commercial.

He Knew the Kind.

A small boy in Boston was rebuked by his father for swearing. "Who told you that I swore?" asked the bad little boy. "Oh, a little bird told me," said the father. The boy stood and looked out of the window at some sparrows which were chattering. "I know who told you," he said. "It was one of those damn sparrows."

He Fought at Gettysburg.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me."
