

Hillsboro Independent.

E. W. BATH, Editor and Proprietor.

APRIL 17, 1908.

Today, the election; tomorrow, the big horse show.

Remember that the polls open this Friday at 12 o'clock and close at 7 p.m.

This is Arbor Day, and besides planting trees, quite a number of aspirants to office will be "planted" also.

A vote cast for William A. Carter for railroad commissioner in the primary today will be a vote in the interest of cheaper freight rates and better transportation facilities.

If it is wrong to hold a county office for more than two terms, what do you think of the man who has warmed the same chair for twelve or fourteen years, and is still asking for more? In this case it would be quite proper to give a new man a chance.

The Board of Trade edition of the Washington County News, published at Forest Grove, is a credit to that city and its publisher, J. F. Woods. While its principal purpose is to bring Forest Grove, the home of Pacific University, prominently before the public, it gives Washington county a good write-up and tells of its wonderful resources and the great possibilities for its future, both to the capitalists and the men and women looking for homes in the most productive, most healthful and best section of Oregon—God's own country. The publication is printed on heavy book paper, is well filled with illustrations of men and homes in Forest Grove, and is just the thing to send to friends in the East.

The Independent does not take upon itself the liberty of telling any man how to vote; that matter rests with the voter himself. Still it is well to mention the fact that some candidates for office are better than others. An official who has worked faithfully, saved the county money, and proved entirely satisfactory to the thousands of patrons of that particular office, is certainly the one to vote for. All the candidates running for office in Washington county, with the exception of one or two, are good men and will make good officials, but as we said before, some men make better officials than others and are of much more value to the county. The thoughtful voter needs no instruction as to where to mark his X today.

During the past year F. Schomberg took to the condenser 187,867 pounds of milk, which netted him, after hauling, $2,789.91, an average of $1.48 4-10 per 100 at the farm. During this same time he also sold $227 worth of veal, bringing the total amount received from his dairy to $3,016.91 for the twelve months. For the month of March, just past, he received from the condenser a check for $358.24 for milk delivered, this amount being net after hauling. The farm, or ranch as Mr. Schomberg calls it, was formerly known as the Freeman place and is located one mile southeast of Mountaine. Six years ago it was looked upon as a "white elephant," those who attempted to run the place failing to make it pay even a fair living. Mr. Schomberg bought the farm for $2,240 about six years ago, stocked it with a nice lot of cattle, and is now sending 900 pounds of milk to the condenser every day. He has put energy and good business sense in his work and success is crowning his efforts. So much so that it would take $12,000 to buy the farm that six years ago was considered as of very little account.

For Sale.

Here is the best bargain in Hillsboro: 1 acre of ground, 5 room house, good cellar under it, wood shed, good well of water in the house, barn, pig house, good chicken yard, orchard and a good strawberry patch. 1 block from school house, 2 blocks from Baptist and Catholic churches. Inquire on the premises and save real estate men's commission. Located on the corner of Fourth and Railroad streets, Hillsboro.

School Apportionment.

On Monday of this week Supt. Case made an apportionment of school funds to the 100 districts of Washington county as follows:

Table with columns: DIST. NO., CLERK, AMT. Lists 100 districts and their respective amounts.

Total, $2850 13. This is the largest apportionment ever made to the schools of Washington county.

Fleet Celebration at San Francisco.

For the fleet celebration at San Francisco, rates will be authorized to San Francisco and return as follows: From Portland, $25; from points on the West Side and Yamhill divisions via Portland, one fare to Portland plus $25; from all other points in Oregon, one and one-third first class limited fare for the round trip, not to exceed the rate from Portland. Sale dates are May 2nd and May 4th. Final return limit is twenty-nine days. Stopovers not allowed, continuous passage required in each direction. Children five years of age and under twelve years, one half fare; sufficient to be added where necessary to make rate end in naught or five. Children under five years of age will be carried free if accompanied by parent or guardian. W. M. McMURRAY, General Passenger Agent. Chas. S. Fee, Passenger Traffic Manager.

The Portland Weekly Oregonian and The Hillsboro Independent one year for $2.25.

The building season is now at hand and any one contemplating work in this line should call on The Climax Milling Co., when figuring on material. We have a complete stock always on hand. Both 'phones.

Good Advice.

If you have made up your mind to live in a city, then stand up for it, and if you know positively no good, then silence is golden. Do all you can to help along every man who is engaged in legitimate business. The success of your fellow townsmen will be your success. No man liveth to himself alone and no man is his own business. Take your home papers. Do not imagine that the big dailies contain all the news. There are many little items that go towards making good cheer and social sunshine that the big dailies do not print. Do not abuse your neighbor. The main difference in the number of his faults and your own is that you see through a magnifying glass as a critic. The ill-men, the croaker, can do a city more harm in a minute than two good citizens can repair in a month.—Ex.

Reduced Rates to Grand Lodge.

For the occasion of Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M. and Grand Chapter R. A. Masons of Oregon to be held in Portland, June 8th to 13th, a rate of one and one-third fare on the certificate plan is authorized to Portland and return from all points on the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, provided fifty or more paying passengers of not less than fifty cents each have been in attendance. Under these conditions, delegates and members of their families, who have paid full fare (regular first class rate) to Portland, will be returned at one third fare, but in no case less than .5 cents.

Dr. J. B. Ziegler, a Portland physician, writes as follows to The Evening Telegram in regard to the Whitney case, which recently stirred up every citizen of this county. The law should be enforced and Whitney given all that is coming to him, not only as a just punishment but a warning to other "fly" young men, and the woods seems to be full of them. The doctor says: "Young Whitney, of Forest Grove, charged with manslaughter as a consequence of the death of his sweetheart from mercury poisoning, has not yet been bound over for trial. Judge Reid holds the case under advisement. The reporter says: "Whitney's father is expected in Portland in a few days, and it may be that the court will withhold a decision until after his arrival." What has Whitney's father got to do with the disposition of this case? The testimony is abundant and unambiguous, amply sustaining the charge beyond question. Aside from the crimes that had already been committed upon this poor girl, the evidence made a horrible exhibit of the ravages upon her body of a gross, ignorant, wanton, criminally careless case of secret malpractice. If Whitney is ever tried and convicted of manslaughter, he will get off as fortunately as he deserves, for the law and the procedure that fails to render him liable to a severer charge is surely all in the lenience which he deserves. He is painfully conscious of the fact, and told the officer arresting him, that he was "up against it right, and should be sent up for a thousand years." And right here is the quality in these young perverts that society should take advantage of, for its own and their salvation. His readiness to make a clean breast of the matter, his remorse, and efforts, fatally late, to retrieve the situation, is the one good point in his miserable story. Public opinion and the law should grip this young man, and indorse and sustain him at this point. He has committed a grave crime, admits it, and feels that he should be punished. He is right in that, and the courts should sustain him in his repentance and resignation to punishment, and try and duly sentence him with justice and without harshness. Such result is the only hope for this young man, and many others dallying in the same paths and byways and about to be engulfed by the new evils, which assail the human virtue and well-being with their raw sophistries and vain desires. Far better this than that the courts should pander to the ignorant sensualism, loosened ideals of conduct and lax practices becoming so prevalent. Whitney knows it and is half inclined to give the public the full benefit of his lesson. The court should assist him better, rather than his evil inclination, as well as that of all young people who are asking society and the law and themselves how far a wanton and unwholesome life will be tolerated.

Saturday Afternoon and Evening.

Institute at Banks.

The institute conducted last Saturday at Banks by Supt. M. C. Case, was very successful and largely attended.

Mrs. M. C. Case read an able paper entitled "Literature." Dr. W. D. Wood gave important rules for the care of school children.

Principal J. B. Wilkerson, of Forest Grove, expressed fittingly the "Teachers' Greatest Need." Lawrence Dixon clearly explained "The Arithmetic Lesson." The institute was held in the new school house, which is a credit to any town. It is a two-story structure becomingly plastered, and nicely furnished. It owes its pleasant and valuable site to Joe Schulermerich. He and E. F. Willis, a merchant and enthusiastic worker for Banks, welcomed the teachers most cordially, and led the way to the hall where were tables heavily laden with the good cooking of the Grange and others.

Thanks are also due C. E. Lytle who delayed the Banks train from 2:30 to 3:30 that teachers attending might reach their homes.

Surprise Party.

A party of students, chaperoned by Miss Abernathy and A. Hahn, came over from Forest Grove on a hay rack last Friday evening and surprised Miss Liola House very agreeably. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games, at the close of which dainty refreshments were served, and all departed expressing their entire willingness to come to Hillsboro again. Those present were the Misses Abernathy, Smith, E. Allworth, E. Chalmers, Brown, Todd, Peterson, H. Allworth, F. Templeton, Moore, Greer, M. Wilson and M. Heidel, Messrs. C. Ward, Mobley, K. Abraham, Silverman, D. Clapp, H. Ferrin, Harding, Markee, Hahn and House.
