

THE ARGUS

THURSDAY, AUG. 9, 1894.

Wood taken on subscription. Butter and eggs are cash on subscriptions.

Many of our citizens have gone to the mountains in quest of luscious blackberries.

J. M. Greear and family have returned from the coast. Guess it was pretty cold down there.

Rev. Kirkhope of Tealatin Plains Presbyterian church will probably occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

The mother of George Ireland came out from Portland Saturday night, and is now the guest of her son. It is several years since her last visit to this city.

Hon. H. V. Gates has returned from a two weeks visit in Eastern Oregon and Washington. He reports the best crops in there that has ever been raised in that section.

We have received many compliments for THE ARGUS, during the past two weeks. Thanks friends, but we are in hopes that the quality of THE ARGUS will cause its friends to rally to its financial support.

T. B. Handley, once a prominent lawyer of this county and a resident of Hillsboro, is now editor of the Tillamook Advocate. Tom is not only a good lawyer, but gets up an excellent paper for the kind—it is republican.

A blue book issued in Hong Kong last Saturday, states that 120,000 people have died from "black death" in Canton district this season. Cholera in its most virulent form appeared in Canton last week and the people are dying by the hundreds every day.

We announced that E. Bowen, Bob Greer's clerk, would start for the coast on Monday last, however he did not go, he is now engaged with nursing his cheek. Ed. always had a fair amount of cheek but with the mumps added he now has a quantum sufficient.

We are sorry to note that a number of our good citizens forgot to celebrate last Monday as this day. As a result of this neglect, in a few days, the air will be filled with thistle down and next years crop will be as wide spread as was this.

Sauvies Island has about two miles of railroad track and turntables. It was constructed without a head grant, and was placed there without the ingenuity of man. It was the evidence of a part of the watered stock of the Union Pacific R. R. A part of whose track was washed out during the recent flood.

For sale at a sacrifice. A fine residence property close to the public school in Hillsboro. This property cost the owner $1200, and it must be sold and is now offered for $600. This property is a snap bargain for any one wanting a good piece of property. For particulars call at THE ARGUS' office.

Mrs. Lillie J. Meeker, of Portland spent Saturday and Sunday with her husband, Mr. Chas. M. Meeker, who has been temporarily sojourning in our pleasant little city. She returned to the city on Monday a. m. train loaded with sunflowers, catfish and various other evidences of a rural or suburban outing.

While crossing the river on the ferry at Woods, Tillamook Co. Thursday, last, Mrs. Terrell, of Newberg, her four children and another lady were capsized from the buggy, in which they were seated, into the stream by the horse becoming frightened and backing off the boat. Mrs. Terrell was drowned but the others were rescued.

The Juvenile Temple, which meets Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock has a matriculation of 146 members in good standing. The following corps of officers were installed for this quarter at the last meeting: Ed. Adams, S. J. T.; Roy Burt, C. T.; Fred Whitcomb, V. P.; Jessie Mitchell, Sec.; Betty Bridges, F. S.; Jennie Keamish, T.; Emma Miller, Chap.; Mark Berdan, M.; Bertina Heidel, Supt.; Harry Gault, A. S.; Minnie Heidel, D. M.; Perry Abbott G.

On Tuesday a team went over the grade, near Farmer's place on the Nastueca, Wm. Olson and Otto Heins were driving from Woods to Hillsboro, and Mr. Olson got out walking ahead to look out for danger, as the road was in bad condition. The horses became frightened at some thing, and suddenly backed the rig over the precipice. Mr. Heins, the horses and buggy went rolling down to the river about 100 feet. The horses were badly injured, the vehicle smashed and Mr. Heins was badly bruised, though not seriously. Tillamook Headlight.

On Tuesday last, Lew Andrew aged 20 years, in the employ of the Tealatin Lumbering Co. was drowned in the Tealatin river a short distance above Marmons on that stream. He with his associates were towing logs on the river when the low-line came loose from its attachment and dragged him under the water and held him. This occurred about 3 o'clock p. m. The body was recovered at 11 o'clock the same day. The remains were sent to friends in North Yamhill on Wednesday.—Ex.

The person who stole the buggy whip from the single buggy at the southeast corner of South Park in Forest Grove between the hours of 4 and 7 p. m. Friday last will confer a favor by leaving the same at this office. No questions will be asked. But unless the whip be returned we shall deem it our duty to publish your name and let the county know just who and what you are. THE ARGUS man never sleeps and if you desire to retain your good name now is your chance.

There will be a basket social held at Laurel, next Tuesday evening August 14, for the benefit of the Evangelical church. There will be a fine literary and musical program rendered by local and Hillsboro talent. The affair promises to be a success. A cordial invitation is extended to all to bring their baskets and enjoy a good time.

From county treasurer Sapington's books we find that the amount of fees received for the past month was Recorder, $137.50; Clerk, $165.40; and sheriff, $43.40. A total of $346.45, not quite half enough to pay the salaries for the past month.

The county court convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The county judge two commissioners, deputy clerk and sheriff, were present. The usual amount of road and court cases were docketed.

Lydia J. Crandall wife of K. Crandall was committed to the Oregon State Asylum, Monday. The cause of insanity was the prolonged care of her son and the shock from his death.

Washington District Lodge I. O. G. T. will convene in this city tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Deligates are expected from the different lodges in the county.

Preaching next Sunday morning and evening by the pastor, at the Evangelical church. The evening sermon will be the first of a series on Bible prophecies.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bagley died this morning at their home in this city. They have the sympathy of the community in their hour of bereavement.

Mr. Lipsholt's residence four miles north of Hillsboro on the old Smith place was burned to the ground Monday morning at 4 o'clock.

The camp meeting interest at St. Johns was so good that the meetings were continued fully a week longer than had been intended.

Warrior Lee and Harry Davis of Beaverton hooked 219 fish speckled trout from the headwaters of Gales Creek last Saturday night.

A man named Gessell of University Park was arrested and acquitted of a charge of stealing four wagons wheels yesterday.

W. H. Roberts and Olive Ryden, were married by Justice Knight, on Tuesday of this week.

W. A. Laidlaw returned from Long Beach to rest up after his outing.

Prof. Stanley is home from the beach.

CORNELIUS.

Emory Smith has just commenced to build a house on his lot in Cornelius. Mr. Graham of Centerville is doing the work.

The party consisting of N. Noiland, H. Hogrefe, James Crow, and Mr. Miller, who left last week for Sauvie Island, returned Sunday, loaded down with fish, having caught all they wanted.

There was a party consisting of the following who will leave town today for Latham, to work in the wood preserving works: S. A. Watson and son, M. Henderson and son, A. S. Briggs, Chas. Hopfield, O. N. Prather, Robt. McCumsey, Isaac Pizer, W. Gable, and Irvine Pizer. They will remain all winter.

Farmers are busy and therefore there is but little news of importance.

August Schwartz, of Portland, has been visiting the family of F. Shoen, returning to Portland on Monday.

Miss Katie Schierman, and her cousin who are working in the city, came out to Cornelius, Monday for a short visit to their aunts who live two miles south of Cornelius.

J. D. Phillips and Mr. Barnett, of Greenville, were in town on last Tuesday, on business.

E. S. McNutt, of the firm of McNutt Bros. will return from a trip to the mountains, about the 12th of August.

Two children of C. T. Neep, are sick.

Sheriff, Ford, was in town today on official business.

FOR FRUIT GROWERS.

How to market our fruit is the question, for we grow the best fruit possible. Fruit growers will be glad to know that they can ship their plums and pears this summer in ear load lots direct to eastern markets, so that small growers will be on the same footing as those who can ship a whole car load. F. M. Heidel will act as agent for Washington county growers to ship their fruit to Porter Bros & Co. of Chicago, a firm of the highest standing who handle thousands of car loads of fruit every year. Those who have plums and pears will do well to see Mr. Heidel and arrange to ship their fruit. This firm has connection with all the East and sells fruit in the best markets, making quick returns to the individual grower. Mr. Heidel will arrange for boxing material and loading cars and insure that the cost will be fully $125, a car less than in 93. It looks as if the fruit grower can make something from his fruit this year as Eastern fruit is a failure, and California plum and pear crop is light.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

The Washington county Medical Society met in Hillsboro, Tuesday, in the city hall, that being its regular monthly meeting. There were present Dr. Smith, President; Dr. Cole, Vice President; and Dr. F. J. Bailey, Secretary; with other members as follows: Drs. Wood, Tammiesie, Linklater and F. A. Bailey of Hillsboro; Dr. Hines of Forest Grove; Dr. Sanford of Glencoe; and Dr. Robinson of Beaverton. A very interesting session was held, all the members showing marked interest in the proceedings.

The physicians who had been selected at a previous meeting to prepare papers for this meeting had not having them ready asked for further time for the subjects chosen, which was granted by the society, and Dr. F. A. Bailey was then requested to introduce some interesting cases for discussion, he took for his subject, the type of fevers prevailing in the valley during the summer and autumn. He dwelt at some length on their diagnosis and treatment and their differentiation from types of fevers described in the books, and prevailing elsewhere. The discussion was participated in by Drs. Cole, Tammiesie, Robinson and Sanford. Dr. Cole believed that microscopic examination of the blood should be made in some instances where doubt existed as to the malarial element in the disease.

Dr. Tammiesie offered some interesting remarks on typical forms of fever, as they occur in practice. He spoke of the difference between typhoid and typho malarial fever.

Dr. Robinson directed attention to the fact that the name "typhoid fever" was only used under protest by the best authorities, and that enteric fever the preferable term should be used. He also discussed that branch of the subject relating to treatment.

Dr. Linklater presented a rare case, of much interest occurring in his practice some time ago. The case was reported at some length to the State medical society, and will be reported in the transactions of that body.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the society at Forest Grove, which will be on the first Tuesday in September, at which time the annual election of officers will occur.

The society will hold its annual banquet at that meeting, and at that time all the doctors are expected to bring their wives to enliven the occasion.

The members of the society are not all married men, and some one was curious enough to inquire how it would be with those not so fortunate as to be in possession of a "better half." But it is known that there is nothing in the usages of the organization to preclude any member from bringing his best girl if he have one. After finishing routine business the society adjourned, every member feeling that this meeting had been one of the most instructive and entertaining yet held.

We have been asked to publish a list of the members of the Washington County Medical Society. The secretary has furnished us with the following:

- ROSTER. J. P. T. misie, M. D., Hillsboro. S. T. Linklater, M. B. C. M., " F. A. Bailey, M. D., " W. D. Wood, A. B. M. D., " E. J. Bailey B. S. M. D., " W. G. Cole, Ph.D., M. D., Forest G.V. Fredrick Crang, M. D., " Chas. Hines, M. D., " W. P. Via, M. D., " C. L. Large, M. D., " Dr. Wilson Bowdly, " C. Smith, A. M. M. D. Cornelius. F. M. Robinson, M. D. Beaverton. Dr. R. Sanford, Glencoe.

CEDAR MILLS.

Con. Hilgers, of this place, who went to San Francisco, writes to his brother Will, and says he arrived there safe. He started in time for the strike and it struck him in northern California and he walked 132 miles to Redding to catch a train for San Francisco.

N. A. Kirks and wife, with a large party of friends left overland for Tillamook last week to spend the summer.

Messrs. Schindler and Miller started their thrasher last week and report the yield about the average.

Portland hunters have a poor field in this vicinity, every place having notices telling them to "keep off the grass."

Chas. Bernard and family have gone to their cottage at Long Beach.

Chas. King is doing a lot of cutting with his new Buckeye binder it is a very simple machine, runs easy and gives good satisfaction.

NEWPORT LETTER.

Newport, Oregon, Aug. 6, 1894. Editor ARGUS.—The members of Hillsboro colony are doing their utmost to enjoy themselves. Sometimes some of them rise as early as five o'clock in the morning to go to the beach, to fish and get clams and crabs, shell oysters, etc.

Hon. S. B. Huston and family arrived July 31st, also Mrs. John Hanley. S. B. Huston's son is convalescing. He arrived here with the mumps.

We think W. H. Wehring and John Dobbins will be notable crabs-hunters before they return to Hillsboro. By the way they frequent the beach in the early morning.

There was a game of base ball between the native Oregonians, and some of the Newport boys. Some of our colony participated in the game. The natives came out best, we admire their skill as players.

I think our colony will increase, as our friends write such encouraging letters. ALKERN.

BEAVERTON BLINKINGS.

Friday morning's freight got a car derailed which detained the train about 4 hours; which caused quite a strain on the tempers of the goodsaturated train men.

The plank has all been delivered for the road through Beaverton and will be laid as soon as there is rain enough to wet the ground to sufficient depth to hold the plank.

Mr. W. P. Wilson and family have gone to Meachams crossing above Mountindale to pick blackberries and enjoy the fresh mountain air.

Mr. David Alexander, and family late of Whatcom, Wash. staid over Sunday in our town visiting relatives, and took their departure on Monday for Kansas, over the U. P. R. R., where they go for the health of Mr. Alexander, who has been failing fast of late.

Mr. Joseph McGowan of Cooper mountain was thrown from his horse Sunday morning and sustained a fracture of the collar bone, which was reduced by Dr. Robinson. Joseph will be obliged to take a rest for some time.

The nine months old babe of Dr. Robinson, fell off from a bed Saturday morning during the temporary absence of his mother from the room. The fall knocked the child senseless; the mother heard the noise and went to the prostrate form and by persevering in artificial respiration, and the free use of stimulants finally succeeded in resuscitating the little one, who now seem as well as ever. L.

DILLEY DOINGS.

Mr. Hubert the young man who had the misfortune to fall through the Jackson bridge, is slowly improving.

The funeral service of Mrs. Dudley, was conducted by Rev. James Campbell. She leaves two children and a husband to mourn her demise. The whole community sympathize with the family, and extend to them the kindest wishes and regards.

B. Purdy of the firm of Purdy & Dudgey, returned to the Clicket country. He reports a good wheat crop up there this season, but prices will probably not be over 55 cents per bushel.

Mrs. Miller is having a neat barn put up on her property here.

Business is neither dead or alive—just median.

Wm. McLeod jr. has erected a new barn at his mill; so you see, improvements still go on in Dilley, even if times are hard.

The reunion of the veterans at Forest grove, was an enjoyable meeting. The closing hymn was well rendered.

The old farm formerly belonging to Ben Cornelius, near Dilley, but more recently known as the L. M. Cox farm, has been sold to two families from Portland, one of whom is now making preparations to build.

Rev. Jas. Campbell, and wife were in town Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Wm. R. Stephens, left town on Tuesday morning for a visit with her daughter at Amity.

Hay is being hauled to town and stored in the warehouse.

Crops are good in this part of the county threshing will soon be the order of the day.

Our blacksmith is busy all the time repairing wagons and buggies. Mr. Stephens, who does his wood-work is also enjoying a good run of work.

The government has need for the Pacific railroads. But will it pay government to foreclose and own the right of way and the two streaks of rust spoken of by Huntington? Better lose the debt than get a debt incurring institution. Taxation of the farms to foster a bankrupt railway would be the height of folly.

OPEN AIR CONCERT.

The Hillsboro Band will give an open air concert in the new band stand, on Saturday evening of this week, commencing at 7:30. The following program has been arranged:

From reports we conclude that the present wheat harvest will be a very beautiful one. At the present low prices for wheat we could not expect great wealth, yet full granaries are an excellent reserve force. All the wheat raised in this state will be needed before another crop is grown and it will bring better prices than are looked for by the most sanguine.

We are informed by one of our exchanges that the state fair is to be a great success, that Harvey Scott will deliver the address on Pines day, and that the fair will take place after hop picking is over. As the fair managers are doing nothing to make it a success, by way of advertising except in a few pet papers it will be about the same as in former years, except that the horse racing will not be so good.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. JULY 29, 1894.—The democrats who place the interests of the party and the country above that of individuals, whether those individuals be U. S. Senators or private citizens, have been working manfully since the smoke of the senatorial explosion, which for a time threatened to make tariff legislation impossible at this session of congress, cleared away, to bring about a better state of feeling among democrats who differ in their opinions as to the extent to which tariff reform ought to go at this time. While it cannot be said that their work has yet been entirely successful, it has certainly had a good effect, and the belief is now general that the renewal of the tariff conference will result in an agreement that can be accepted by the democrats of both the house and senate and President Cleveland without loss of dignity or prestige on the part of either.

Now that the events of the past week can be calmly considered there seems to be reason for the opinion held by many able democrats, that personal prejudice was allowed to enter into much of the talk that has been indulged in, and that some people have been far more intent upon "getting even" than upon the good of the country or the welfare of the democratic party. However as the policy of those democrats who are now trying to bring about harmonious action by the party in congress is to let bygones be bygones the least said about recent party happenings the better. Too much, much too much, has already been said, both in congress and in democratic newspapers. The principle object of every democrat should now be to "get together," pass the tariff bill and elect a majority of the next house. For certain it is that if the first two things be not soon accomplished the third, already made difficult by party dissensions, will soon become an impossibility.

Mr. Franklin McVeagh, who enjoys the distinction of having been nominated by the democrats of Illinois to the U. S. senate, in Washington. Mr. McVeagh says the republicans are making a great mistake concerning the attitude of the people towards tariff reform, and that the people are at this time more anxious for radical tariff legislation than they were either in the campaign of '90 or '92. He states his own opinion thusly: "As between the senate and house bills, my preference is for the latter, because I am a thorough believer in free raw materials. On this question I feel sure the popular verdict sustain the President and the house and I think we will speedily get a tariff law along the lines of the Wilson bill. Yet I should not feel unhappy in the event that the other view prevails, because to enact a measure like the senate bill is a great achievement for the democracy. It is a complete reversal of a policy of thirty-years standing. It is like a short turning of an army to the west that has been marching due east. It is a beginning of a new and better order, and even if only a beginning is not to be condemned."

Should the house adopt a resolution offered by representative Talbot of South Carolina, directing the coinage committee to report a 16 to 1 free coinage bill, and the banking and currency committee to report one or all of the bills proposing a change in the monetary system of the country, a financial debate that might be indefinitely extended would at once begin in the house. There are several reasons why the house is not likely to adopt this resolution at this time, but one of them would be sufficient—the desire of members to adjourn as soon as the tariff bill is disposed of, in order to take part in the congressional campaign.

The making of the Wilson bill came near causing the death of Chairman Wilson, and if he persists in the present condition of his health, in trying to perform labors in connection with the tariff conference that would prostrate a strong and healthy man his friends fear for the consequences. He says he is in the fight to remain until the last blow is struck regardless of his own health or feelings.

Although Minister Willis was somewhat premature in fully recognizing the republic of Hawaii in advance of instructions to that effect.

BORN.

BAGLEY.—To the wife of H. T. Bagley of Hillsboro on the 6th, first, a son.

from Secretary Gresham there is little doubt that his actions will be approved by the administration. It is not probable that any action will be taken on the formal protest of the ex-Queen against the establishment of the republic in Hawaii.

The bills for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona have been favorably reported to the senate and as there is practically no opposition to either, it is only a question of time when they will become laws.

There are many sensational rumors about concerning the testimony taken by the sugar trust that is investigating the sugar trust scandal, but as the committee has not made public any of the testimony verification is impossible; they are too serious to be repeated without.
