Washington, D.C. Sept. 1.-W.-H. Bel- ley, the American minister to Japan, is reported to have been over- looked by the Japanese government in connexion with the recent moves for settling the palette question. He has been over- looked by the Japanese government in connexion with the recent moves for settling the palette question.

The condition did not start out in Japan as one of open hostility against the foreigner. It is stated by those familiar with the situation that the sentiment against the foreigner has been increasing gradually among the Japanese, and that one of the effects of the recent moves is to give an official sanction to the sentiment against the foreigner.
