PATROLMAN'S SHADOW NOT SUBSTANTIAL SUPPORT

Seattle, Oct. 6.—When Harbor Patrolman M. A. Mead attempted to negotiate a landing from the police harbor patrol boat early this morning, he tried to step on his own shadow, thinking it was a log raft. The shadow sank with him in 20 feet of frigid Elliott bay water. Mead came to the surface, murmuring softly like a porpoise. But he stayed on his beat until the next shift came on.

(By United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Oct. 6.—American naval inventions will be kept a closely guarded secret from European nations under a new policy adopted by the administration. While the government has disclosed its intention of having a super-cruiser capable of making a speed of 46 miles an hour, larger and deadlier than any ship now afloat, the process whereby such high speed is attained will be kept a strict secret.

Radical innovations in hull construction have been designed for the new battleships 43 and 44 and the specifications will be given to a very few bidders and sub-contractors under an oath of secrecy.

These innovations will be directed at obtaining a hull through which a torpedo from a hostile craft either can not penetrate at all, or only with extreme difficulty. It is likely, too, that provisions will be made whereby a vessel would remain afloat despite such piercing. It is reported that these objects will be obtained by making the vessels thinly armored below the water line, but with double-shell hulls, the extra weight of which would be equalized by a thin plate bow, stern and other points at which a shot would not strike the vitals of the ship.

The new super-cruisers will cost around $18,000,000 to build and equip. The navy has found that it faces extra rates because of the increased prices of steel and naval work, due to the European war. What their armament will be has not yet been determined, but it will be such as to make the new ships the most formidable afloat.

MASON TELLS WHAT WAR MOVES MEAN

New York, Oct. 6.—Greece in typical Balkan fashion has been trying to play two sides against each other. This has resulted in an unexpected crisis which may have a serious effect upon her future fortunes.

The ministerial crisis—resignation of Premier Venizelos and the cabinet—is due to the landing of allied forces on Greek soil. Greece wanted them near in case Bulgaria attacked Greece, but the government did not want to give formal consent to this move, so that her neutrality might not be compromised if Bulgaria kept peace. Apparently, she technically protested the landing while Greek officers assisted in the work of debarkation.

The premier approved of this equivocal attitude, but King Constantine's opposition thereto forced his resignation.

The king's duty now is to find a premier who can command a majority in parliament, but if he is unable to find such a man, and still persists in thwarting Venizelos, then Constantine must be considered as trying to overthrow the Greek constitution.

Venizelos, as leader of the Pan-Hellenism, wants to annex the coast of Asia Minor and restore to his country the glories of ancient Greece. This reward he hoped to get from the allies' co-operation. But a strong party, including a majority of the Greek general staff, believes that Greece could not hold this coast.

Large garrisons would be necessary for the subjection of the Turks, and they feel the task would be too vast. Therefore, it is uncertain whether the premier will be able to dominate the situation.

STEPS TAKEN FOR SETTLEMENT OF ARIZONA STRIKE

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 6.—J. W. Bennie, manager of the Shannon Copper company of Clifton, vested with power to represent all mine owners in the district, is en route from El Paso to Phoenix today, under protection of a detail of national guardsmen commanded by Adjutant General Harris. Bennie plans to confer tomorrow with Governor Hunt and Sheriff Cass of Greenlee county.

Governor Hunt expresses the hope that the conference may open a way for the settlement of the strike.

Clifton, Ariz., Oct. 6.—News that J. W. Bennie of the Shannon mines planned a conference at Phoenix with a view toward ending the strike caused a feeling of optimism to spread here today. The strikers believe that if an agreement is reached with the Shannon interests, the other companies must fall into line. Strike leaders announce they are willing to concede all points except their demands for an increase in wages and for a minimum wage.

Clerks in the company stores at Metcalf, yielding to the pressure of the strikers, have joined the miners' union. The clerks in the company stores at Morenci and Clifton are expected to join today.

A number of non-union men in Morenci who disregarded the warning to clear out of town were beaten up last night by unidentified sluggers. Several are in the hospital.
