J. P. MORGAN OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS

New York, Oct. 29.—J. P. Morgan was operated on for appendicitis at his home at noon today, according to announcement from his office.

The operation was successful and Morgan is now resting comfortably at his Glencove, L. L. home. His physicians expect a perfect recovery.

The statement said: "Mr. Morgan was at his office Wednesday. Yesterday he was indisposed and remained at his home in Glencove. Physicians discovered he was suffering from a mild attack of appendicitis. In order to guard against a recurrence, it was decided to remove his appendix. The operation was performed by Doctors Markoe, Lyle and Smith. His general condition is excellent."

A member of the Morgan firm stated that the wounds inflicted by Holt had absolutely nothing to do with Morgan's condition.

W. H. Harris returned this morning from a trip in Jackson county.

"The Right of Way"

From the Novel and Play of the Same Name by Sir Gilbert Parker

The story of a man who repays a debt. Who believes in an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and who, though knowing the guilt of a man, saves that man and then suffers a return of scruples and orders the other out of his life, saying: "Go away! you dog. You are as guilty as Hell!"

William Faversham in "The Right of Way" is an epoch of supreme importance in the universe of photodrama. It brings the foremost dramatic star forward in the foremost novelist's greatest and most impressive tale.

KING ALFONSO MAY BE MEDIATOR FOR EUROPEAN PEACE

Washington, Oct. 29.—Whether America or Spain—President Wilson or King Alfonso—will mediate in the European war, was the absorbing question among officials here today owing to the renewed intense interest abroad in peace.

"The war is now being fought in the capitals of Europe," an official said. "Developments there look as though the war is about over."

Many officials believed that Spain, rather than the United States, will be the mediator when Europe is ready to lay down arms. This belief was based on the fact that the United States may not be regarded suitably by Germany, in view of her disputes with the kaiser over his submarine warfare.

Unofficial information from Germany was to the effect that America is not in the best position to be the chief peace factor.

While the German-American controversies have been amicably arranged thus far, the feeling among the kaiser's subjects is said to still savor of bitterness toward America—a feeling which officials here confessed does not augur well for United States chances of settling the conflict finally.

ANY CITIZEN CAN GATHER KELP ON COAST

BACHELOR RANCHER IS THOUGHT TO BE SUICIDE Portland, Oct. 29.—Believed by the authorities to have committed suicide, the body of Lewis L. Eddicoat, 45 years old, a bachelor rancher, was found on the Skyline boulevard near Linton today by a bullet through the heart. A combination rifle and shotgun was lying beside the body. Claude Read, a farmer, who found the body, said that he heard a shot and groans last night, but thought the sounds were made by neighboring boys on a frolic.

WIDOW OF F-4 VICTIM GETS JOB AT MARE ISLAND Washington, Oct. 29.—Waiving civil service rules, President Wilson today appointed Mrs. Frederick Gillman, of Vallejo, Cal., seamstress or flagmaker at the Mare Island navy yard. Mrs. Gillman's husband perished with the ill-starred submarine F-4 in Honolulu harbor.

Paramount Picture STAR Tonight and Tomorrow John Frohman presents John Emerson in The Conspiracy In the delightful detective comedy-drama, "The Conspiracy," by Robert Baker and John Emerson, one of the most thrilling of recent theatrical successes, Mr. John Emerson appears in the role originally created by him in the stage production of the drama, that of Winthrop Clavering, the eccentric old author of crime stories and solver of mysteries, a unique and artistic portrayal that especially deserves screen immortality. The production also marks the first presentation of Charles Frohman to the motion picture public.
