OREGON WEATHER Fair today; winds mostly + northerly.

THE APPETITE FOR LAND.

How land hungry are the people of the United States is demonstrated whenever they are given an opportunity at openings of sections that have been held in reservations.

FIGHT SOON ON IN AMERICA.

With the convening of the 64th congress at the national capital on December 6 the political mill that will continue its grind till next November when it will culminate in a grist of newly elected officials will be set in motion.

The cloven hoof that has kicked southern Oregon time and again is now being felt by our friends in the Willamette.

About three years ago a certain school teacher with ambitions said that if he could only be elected president of the United States once, that once would suffice.

The war in Europe has stopped the great stream of immigration from across the waters to America.

BEET SUGAR IS ONLY BOTTLED SUNSHINE SAYS FARMER SMITH

Messrs. Robt. Twohy, "Farmer" Smith, Superintendent O'Brien of the Twohy machine shops, F. S. Bramwell, and the other parties who made the trip through the Illinois valley Friday, returned to this city Friday evening, and Messrs. Smith and O'Brien went out to the ranch at Hell Gate with H. E. Gale to spend the night.

The sugar beet, Mr. Smith told them, takes nothing from the soil, but in fact puts something of fertility into the soil that it did not have before.

JOSEPHINE HAS FINE EXHIBIT AT PORTLAND SHOW

(Oregon Journal.) Josephine county, in its exhibit at the Manufacturers and Land Products show, centers its efforts entirely upon the exploitation of four things—its grapes, its mines, its sugar beets and its pears.

Situated at the doorway between the manufacturers' and land products sections, its booth presents at first glance a solid bank of beautiful Tokay grapes.

Closer inspection reveals, however, a shelf of mineral specimens, bunches of enormous sugar beets and boxes of perfect Anjou and Winter Nellis pears.

Grapes are shown because Josephine county is felt to be the potential viticultural center of Oregon. It is a growing industry, capable of development.

Grape Industry Gains Last year Josephine county shipped a single carload of Tokays. This year 10 carloads were shipped, mostly to eastern centers.

Josephine grape men feel that they are deserving of more support from Portland. Why, they ask, should Portland go to California for her Tokays, when Josephine county is raising such excellent grapes?

Next year, with the maturing of vines, they expect the crop to equal 20 or 25 cars, and being boosters, they are already making plans for an Oregon Grape day to boost the fruits of their vineyards.

The Josephine county mineral exhibit comprises ores from 18 typical mines of the county, all tributary to the new railroad now being constructed from Grants Pass to tidewater at Crescent City, Cal., by the Twohy Brothers company.

Ore Samples Shown The new road is expected to open up a number of mines, many of which are now shipping ore 31 miles to the railroad by wagon.

Samples of ores in the Josephine county exhibits are typical of over 100 partially developed properties in the Grants Pass country.

Sugar beets are exhibited in view of plans being made to start sugar factories in the southern Oregon county, and pears are shown because of their excellence and quality.

Below the claret bank of superb grapes are a number of bottles of grape juice made from Josephine county Tokays.

The Josephine county exhibit is in charge of H. E. Gale, of Grants Pass.

First Talking Machine.

The recording of vibrations of a membrane was first accomplished by Leon Scott in 1857, by the invention of what he called a "phonograph."

A Wily Afghanistan.

A man was once condemned in Afghanistan to have his ears sliced off as a minor punishment. He had a powerful friend, however, who was much attached to him.

After much debate the Oregon State Editorial association passed a resolution which reads in part as follows: "The association commends the attitude of Governor Withycombe in his expression that it is eminently desirable that the people, press and legislators of Oregon take such steps that capital may be encouraged to invest in Oregon through the reasonable guarantee of fair treatment here."
