PLEASURE RESORT IS ROBBED BY MASKED MEN

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Dancing and revelry were interrupted in the early hours today when five masked men entered a roadhouse on Sloat boulevard and "frisked" the entire party. They got $100 from the cash register and other money from the merry-makers.

GALE STILL BLOWING IN EASTERN STATES

Washington, Nov. 20.—The storm which swept over the Atlantic coast and the great lakes yesterday, shifted toward Canada today, though the tail of it still whipped northern New England. The great lakes gale maintained a 60-mile-an-hour velocity.

New York, Nov. 20.—Rushing in the path of yesterday's gale, a cold wave moved eastward today, bringing suffering to the city's poor.

CHURCHES

Bethany Presbyterian Church
Morning worship at 11 a. m., with special echoes from the great temperance rally in Portland, at which Richard Hobson and four governors spoke. Sunday school at 10 a. m.; Christian Endeavor at 6:30; prayer meeting, 7:30, Thursdays. The subject tonight, at 7:30, will be the first of two interesting lecture-sermons upon Africa, the second to be given November 28. These will be illustrated with new and beautiful stereoscopic views of this wonderful continent and the lives of men amid new and strange customs. Missionary Neal, back from Africa, says these views are especially fine and true to life. There will be a special and important address next Sunday morning upon "Christian Stewardship," which no member or friend of Bethany church should miss. Don't miss these services.
Williamson D. Vater, Pastor.

FROM PLUNGE OVER CLIFF
Oroville, Cal., Nov. 20.—A broken leg for Leonard York and bruises for Paul Lacazeatte were the only results of their plunge in a big machine over a 75-foot cliff today.

A. W. BARTLETT HAS PURCHASED FARM IN THE WILLAMETTE

A. W. Bartlett has left for Salem with a carload of household goods, stock and farming implements, having purchased a farm of 238 acres eight miles from the capital city. He took from here his herd of 14 Jersey cows, and will conduct a dairy farm in the northern district. He gets a herd of about 40 head with the farm which he purchased. In the purchase of the Willamette farm the Bartlett property in this city is transferred to Wm. Cockrell, of Salem.
Mrs. Bartlett will leave for the new home in the north this morning, Willard having gone to Eugene Friday to see the football game, and will go on from there. The Bartletts came to Grants Pass five years ago last spring and have made many friends in the community, who regret their departure to other fields of activity.

Social

The Benefit Program
On Wednesday afternoon the Ladies Benefit society of the Presbyterian church was entertained by Mesdames Talbot, Ingalls, Pinkerton, and Gloeckner, in the church parlors. After a short business session a unique program was rendered. Mrs. Favre sang two songs in her usual pleasing manner and the instrumental duet by Mrs. Vater and Mrs. Veatch was much appreciated.

The illustrated talk on weaving by Mrs. Gloeckner was both instructive and comprehensive. Mrs. Gloeckner having been under the tutelage of Frank P. Lane, director of weaving in the Hill Institute of Northampton, Mass., and Miss Griswold, who is connected with the New York association for the blind. She had her subject well in command and treated it in an interesting way, having the walls hung with old coverlets which were loaned by our townspeople, and using with them several blankets collected from South America's unconquered Indian tribe, the Araucanian, a Zapepe made in the prison of Montezuma, Mexico, and a number of her own productions. The explanation of the "coverlet" patterns as they are preserved in writing was given, but both the Swedish and Colonial readings were drafted on a blackboard. The subject was presented from its legendary, historical, middle-age, colonial and modern aspects. In conclusion Mrs. Gloeckner recited a short, three-stanza poem, "The Web of Life."

The guests then adjourned to light refreshments and a general inspection of the old relics, dating from the days of our first president up to the middle of the last century, ensued.

Meeting of the W. C. T. U.
The W. C. T. U. met at the beautiful home of Mrs. C. G. Gillette at "Laurelhurst" on Thursday afternoon. The business part was quickly dispensed with and the program was given as follows: Two vocal solos by Mrs. W. W. Walker, entitled, "In the Time of Roses" and "Grandmother Brown," and an instrumental solo by Mrs. Cora Coutant were enjoyed by all.

E. E. Blanchard gave an interesting and helpful talk on the coming election and Miss Vida Fitzgerald gave a reading which closed the program. A rising vote of thanks was extended all who so kindly took part. The hostess served a delicious fruit salad, chocolate and cake.

Newly Weds En Route Home
The Rocky Mountain News, published at Denver on the 12th, has a picture of Mrs. Harry K. Clark, nee Louise Gray, who became the bride of the well known young banker of Grants Pass, H. K. Clark, on the evening of November 10. Mr. and Mrs. Clark are expected to arrive home in this city some time before Thanksgiving day, they having been spending their honeymoon in visiting friends in Nebraska and Idaho cities.
The wedding of these young people was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents in Denver, the Rev. John McNeill, of the Central Presbyterian church, officiating. It was a quiet affair, but had been preceded by a number of social events, showers, etc., tendered the bride by her Denver friends.

"IF MEN WEAR IT, WE HAVE IT"

'WE SHOULD WORRY' IF WE FAIL TO GO TO THE MOOSE SHOW

Rehearsals for the big Moose band production of "We Should Worry," which will be presented at the opera house Tuesday evening, are going along briskly and when the curtain raises the director promises a show the like of which for a local talent offering never has been seen in the city.

Outside of the splendid cast which he has arranged, the specialties are being gathered together and promise to even outshine the show proper, opening with W. L. Bleckner and chorus in "Ten Minutes of Musical Comedy," featuring the latest song hits. The chorus is composed of Misses Clara Wolke, Lona Dunlap, Margaret Wible, Evelyn South, LaCosta Mangum, and Mrs. Arthur Wible; also Messrs. H. L. Stonaker, L. A. Launer, Ted Birchard, Gaylord Smith, Earl Brown and F. W. Reid.

Next comes the Stage and Movie Stars quartette, namely, Charlie Chaplin Cass, Ford Sterling Blanchard, Col. Heeza Liar Bailey and Bert

William Dunn, with a singing and talking act that is a riot. They feature "Back to Dixieland" and "Mary Ate Some Marmalade."

A child act that will prove as delightful as it is dainty is that of the little Misses Carmelita Poole, Esther Veatch, and Louise Ireland, who with Masters Karl Boesch and Donald Veatch, sing and dance through "In the Candlelight" and "The High Cost of Loving."

Miss LaCosta Mangum and Mr. McNaughtan, in an act called "How-Do-You-Do," with their patter, sing "In a Little While" and "Wrap Me in a Bundle."

This show is a benefit for the band to help them buy uniforms. As they have purchased considerable music, bought electric light globes, and even paid for the electric current in order to give open air concerts, and in other ways have favored the people with music without making charges, it is expected that they will obtain loyal support in the effort they have made to obtain financial aid. The seat sale opened at Russell's yesterday, and from all indications a good house will reward them.

The Truth About Coffee

"I have used the highest priced coffees, paying forty to forty-five cents a pound, and always thought I was getting a superior quality, but when necessity compelled me to find a cheaper quality I found it a discouraging task until I tried German-American, and now we use it all the time and like it better than any we have ever used."

So writes one of our Oswego, Ore., customers. Necessity compelled her to find a cheaper coffee—by chance she tried G-A and she liked it better than the higher priced coffees.

The truth of the matter is that G-A is better than most of the higher priced coffees on the market—because we give you the benefit of low green coffee costs. Lang & Co. were the only roasters on the Pacific coast who shared the saving with the consumer when the coffee market dropped and this price will be maintained until a rising market forces it up.

We want you to try G-A.

It may not suit you—we can not please everyone—a single can will tell the story, and the saving is quite worth while.
