OREGON WEATHER

Tonight and Friday unsettled, probably snow west; snow + east portion; winds mostly + northerly.

ACTION DUE IN MEXICO.

The president says that Americans who enter Mexico do so at their own risk, and that the United States government can not intervene. This policy was a proper one so long as the republic to the south was a hotbed of disorganized revolt, and so long as its government was not recognized by the United States and other governments. Then it was a fight-it-out game, and the "devil take the hindmost." Americans knew conditions, and those who were willing to assume all the chances for the lure of gold had no complaints coming if they lost their heads along with the natives. Now, however, the condition is entirely changed. The Carranza government has been accorded the recognition that places it on a plane with the nations of the world. Wilson should have pursued his watch and wait policy a little longer and have given the greasers an opportunity to exterminate each other rather than to have given the moral support of recognition to a faction that lacks much of having the trouble where it can be controlled. There is not the stability about the Carranza government that there was about the Huerta regime. But having given it the o. k. of the United States, some action is due when American citizens are taken out and butchered by the score.

FEED THE BIRDS.

The state game department is sending out a plea for the birds. It asks that during the winter days when the ground is covered to a depth of many feet with snow that the birds, songsters and game birds, be fed and cared for. Thousands of birds are forced down from the hills by the heavy fall of snow, and not only are they having trouble in finding food but the quail and other game birds become easy prey for the law violator. Grain can be scattered under the trees where the birds can find it, or apples and other fruits placed out for them. The cores and peelings of apples are especially relished by the birds. While attention is paid to the appetites of the feathered, watch should also be kept out for cats and for the two-footed prowlers who would pot a whole covey of quail or set traps for them if they believed they could circumvent the law in so doing. Already a number of instances of the finding of traps are recorded.

The hot shots of letter writing week are to be projected at the people of the east, but a few would not be wasted if trained upon targets nearer home. There are thousands of people here in the northwest who have never seen the scenic wonders right at their doors. In Oregon there are the Josephine caves, Crater lake, the Columbia highway, and a score of lesser attractions, while Washington and Idaho are rich in natural attractions that are strangers to the people at home. Our Portland friends could well make a pilgrimage into southern Oregon, view its greatness, then go home and become boosters for one of the sections of Oregon richest in resources. Write 'em a letter to come down next summer.

The weather in the Rogue valley has been exceptionally mild during the great storm period that has swept the country from Atlantic to Pacific. The precipitation during the period has helped to make up for some of the deficiency of the year, and the heavy fall of snow on the mountains is filling the storage reservoir provided by nature for the use of the placer miner and the irrigationist.

BOMBS ARE HURLED AT JAPANESE PREMIER OKUMA

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
Tokio, Jan. 13.—Secret police today hunted the man who yesterday hurled two bombs into the carriage of Premier Okuma, but without harm to that official. As soon as he had made his attempt to kill Okuma, the man slipped away in the crowds, and thus far all efforts to trail him have been unavailing.

In some quarters it was believed that the man may have been a Chinese agent, fanatical on the subject of possible Japanese interference in Chinese affairs.

Coffee

Schilling's Best, when you open the tin, is as fresh and full of flavor as when sealed-in the hour it was roasted. To give you coffee as fine without airtight tins would mean roasting and sending to you the hour you used it!

Airtight tins have made fine coffee so cheap that poor coffee is absurd.

Carefully ground into even bits, bitterish chaff taken out. Moneyback, of course

CHRISTOFFERSON SHAVES WHILE FLYING IN AIR

Long Beach, Cal., Jan. 13.—With seagulls looking on, while lather flew about his machine like a flurry of snow, Aviator H. P. Christofferson this afternoon flew over Long Beach at a height of 500 feet and completely shaved himself as the machine tore along at a speed of more than 60 miles an hour. Christofferson lays claim to being the only birdman who ever has executed this feat. The stunt was done to prove the stability of the passenger-carrying biplane which the aviator operates on the beach here. The flight covered a distance of more than ten miles.

ALLIES FROM GALLIPOLI LANDING AT SALONIKI

London, Jan. 13.—The allies who withdrew from the Gallipoli peninsula completely are landing at Saloniki, according to Sofia dispatches today. The Bulgarians estimate that 225,000 allied troops are now in Greece and that over 300,000 will be concentrated between Saloniki and the Greek border before the end of another week. Sofia messages failed to confirm the Athens report that the Bulgars are bombarding the lines near the frontier, preliminary to an attack on Saloniki. Moreover, the war office does not confirm this report.

ASSOCIATED BOYS TO PLAY BASKETBALL

The Associated Boys' clubs have completed all arrangements for a season of basketball games at the dreamland rink, to begin Friday evening, January 21. The teams taking part in the games will represent various Sunday schools of this city. The schedule for the season will be announced later.

Officers for the ensuing year have been elected as follows: President, E. C. Macy; secretary-treasurer, James Martin; physical director, Scott Hamilton. Work of putting the rink in shape for use has begun and the teams will soon begin their training, practice nights having been assigned. Very generous support has been accorded this movement among the business and professional men of the city.

WOMAN BECOMES DRIVER ON AUTO STAGE ROUTE

San Diego, Jan. 13.—Driven from the jitney business by the drastic measures of the council, which abolished the passenger-carrying autos, pretty Miss Helen Tullock, the first woman jitney driver in the city, has secured a stage driver's license, and will pilot an auto stage over the mountains and desert to Imperial valley daily.

A. N. Parsons and C. C. Hancock, of Cornelius, Ore., were at the Dixie ranch Tuesday on business.

Guy and Leo Thompson visited Ray Skinner Wednesday evening.

Fred Sundell, who has been in town receiving treatment for rheumatism, has returned home much improved.

J. E. Turnbull, representing the Journal Publishing company, was in this vicinity Wednesday, soliciting orders for the Oregon Journal.

Mr. Kelley, the "Watkins man," was in this neighborhood Tuesday.

Ray Skinner, who has been quite ill with a gripe, is convalescing.

School has been discontinued for a week on account of the deep snow, the snow being 18 inches deep.

40¢ RISING IN POPULARITY

The Demand for Royal Club Coffee Has Increased by Leaps and Bounds

Of late we have been forced to work our plant day and night to supply the demand. The public has come to the realization that there is no better coffee on the market than ROYAL CLUB—and there is a good reason why we can give a better coffee at a less price. The biggest factor is selling expense—we get our coffee to the consumer with the same organization that handles our big wholesale business. This saves us from 40 per cent to 60 per cent on this item alone. We can, therefore, put into ROYAL CLUB the highest grade Sumatra and Central American coffees generally used only in the more expensive blends. Say ROYAL CLUB to your grocer today—the "difference" will be easily apparent.

APPELATE

Oscar Williams and his sister, Mrs. Mary Florey, were visiting friends in this vicinity several days last week.

Rev. Bandy, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Jacksonville, will hold services in the Applegate school house Sunday evening, January 16.

Cap Hinkle, of Kerby, is visiting relatives on Thompson creek.

Johnny Knutzen came out from Steamboat Tuesday with a four-horse sleigh, and reports three feet of snow on the Thompson creek divide.

About eight inches of snow has fallen in the past few days, which is more snow than has fallen since 1910.

D. A. Wood and wife returned from the east Monday.

B. A. Turner is grinding ore for Frier & Sons.

Sole leather, shoe nails, shoe hammers, stands and lasts—in fact everything you need to repair your shoes—can be had at Rogue River Hardware.
