Banks Close Tomorrow—On Tuesday, Washington's birthday, the banks of the city will be closed all day, and the post office will observe holiday hours.

Attention Moose—????????? Eats Tuesday night. 675

Sunday on the Ranch—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Norton spent Sunday on the ranch at Williams creek. The city attorney was seen going down the street with a branding iron, for making the "circle N" on the Norton cattle, and it is rumored that the neighbors are keeping a close tab on their own stock while the new iron is in the country.

Japanese Families Arrive—Several Japanese families arrived in the city from Portland Sunday, and will farm leased lands to sugar beets during the coming season. Arrangements for the leasing were made by K. Mizoguchi, who was here during the winter. The latter gentleman arrived from the north this afternoon and will oversee the planting of the leased lands.

Odd Fellows at Church—The members of the local Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges will attend services at the Methodist Episcopal church south next Sunday morning in a body. They will meet at the I. O. O. F. hall at ten o'clock, and from there will march to the church. Rev. Taggart will preach the sermon.

Clark & Holman, Undertakers—Licensed embalmers. Phone 50.

Early Morning Fire—Fire that generated from a water heater in the rear portion of the house on South Sixth street, occupied by A. A. Flynn, destroyed the kitchen and wood shed at an early hour this morning. The Flynn's lost their kitchen utensils and furniture, but all the other furnishings of the house were moved out, but the good work of the fire department confined the flames to the rear of the house. The building was owned by G. W. Sturgeon, a former resident of the city.

A "Fowl Deed" Reported—The lady in Lincoln Park who recently lost her flock of chickens may not believe in the transmigration of souls, but she surely does believe in the transformation of feathers, for arriving home late one evening soon after her flock of Rhode Island Reds had departed by the sweet corn route to her amazement nearly the whole flock had returned dressed in the speckled habiliments of the Plymouth Rock breed. The identity of the perpetrator of this "fowl deed" remains a mystery, but she wishes to thank the good spirits (taking for granted they read the Courier) who aided in the wonderful transformation. May they live long and cackle.

Attend Firemen's Ball—Waldorf hall, February 22. Tickets $1.00. 675

Missing Engines Found—A few days after the old cannery building burned down last season two small steam engines disappeared from the property. One of the engines, especially, was pretty heavy, and could not be carried off without a whole lot of trouble, thus proving a mystery case for the officers. The other day, however, Chief McLane run one of the engines to earth, or rather to the loft of a local barn, where it had been hidden by its youthful pilferer, and later got a confession that will lead to the recovery of both engines and the arrest and punishment of those who took them. The theft was committed by boys, and it is expected that later a complaint will be filed.

Thor Electric Demonstration—All day Wednesday, February 23, there will be a gentleman from the factory who will demonstrate the Thor electric washing machine in our store. Don't fail to see this whether you are in the market for a machine or not. Come and bring your friends. Rogue River Hardware company. 676

Trace Stolen Clothing—Bill Mead, a youth of 15 or 16 years of age, is in the custody of the officers, and two more boys of about the same age will soon be taken into custody by the officers, charged with the burglarizing of the Porter residence on South Sixth street during the recent absence of the family from the city. Chief of Police McLane got trace of the revolver that was taken from the house, and finally followed it back to Mead, who has owned up to having been implicated in the breaking into the house, and who has given the names of his two assistants. The other two boys have left for some point in California, having taken the stolen clothes with them, but it is expected that they will be apprehended and brought back to answer the charge.

HARMON ENGINEER FOR SUGAR COMPANY

W. W. Harmon, who was engineer for the city during the construction period of the municipal railroad, was this morning notified of his employment as engineer for the Oregon-Utah Sugar company, and was instructed to commence at once the clearing of all brush, etc., from the 50-acre tract upon which the factory is to be built in South Grants Pass. Mr. Harmon will have a crew of men at work Tuesday morning getting the property ready for the buildings. His instructions are to leave as many of the better trees as possible where they do not interfere with building operations. The site of the main factory building is also practically cleared, and will need no work previous to the excavating for the foundation. Workers are now digging "prospect" holes to find how deep they will have to go to find a firm foundation for the heavy steel, concrete and brick building.

C. E. CONVENTION CLOSED SUNDAY

The delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention held here report that the sessions were among the most successful of any of the annual meetings, and they left Grants Pass filled with a spirit of good will for the people of the city. Yesterday was the last day of the session.

The services of Sunday commenced with a sunrise prayer meeting at 7 o'clock, attended by nearly all the delegates. Morning services were held in all the churches of the city, visiting pastors preaching, and in the afternoon occurred the important meeting of the convention with an address on "The Call for Leaders" by Paul Brown, head of the intermediate department of California. The installation of officers was also held. Closely following the afternoon meeting came the Union Young People's meeting and following this the union church services, at which Rev. C. T. Hurd, of Klamath Falls, gave a forceful sermon.

The report of the financial condition of the convention was very encouraging, enough money having been collected to meet all expenses and turn into the treasury for the state work a total of $75, the greatest surplus yet turned in at a convention.

DOUBLE HEADER AT BASKETBALL

The double-header tomorrow night between the Presbyterians and Methodists, and Baptists and Christians, will probably be the best games witnessed yet between the church teams. Should the Methodists lose to the Presbyterians, the race for the championship will prove warmer than ever, as the different teams will be on an equal basis as to the number of games won. This would also give the Presbyterians a lift.

All the churches have developed fast teams and the playing in the different games is becoming better with each game. The attendance at the games so far has been fairly good.

PIONEER IS FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

Medford, Feb. 21.—Word has just been received here that Peter Sken Ogen Applegate, prominent citizen of southern Oregon, was found dead in bed at his son's home in Central Point Saturday morning. He was well Friday when he retired. His brothers all died suddenly of heart trouble.

Peter Applegate was formerly state land agent at Salem and for several years recorder of Jackson county. For 17 years he has devoted his entire attention to a mine in the Elk Creek district, the only telluride quartz formation on this part of the coast.

He was a brother of Jesse, Lindsay and General Elisha Applegate, and came to Oregon in 1843.
