NEW INDUSTRIES IN THE WEST.

The opening up of the chromite iron ore industry in southern Oregon may enlarge until it rivals the copper and the gold mining in its magnitude.

Ultimately, however, the factories which use the minerals and the timbers of the west will come to this coast, where the raw materials are produced, and a result of the renewed industrial activity will no doubt be the building up of manufacturing centers along the Pacific.

MARKETING THE THEME.

Carrying the gospel of better marketing conditions to the producers of the state, representatives of the state agricultural college and of the federal government are now visiting the centers of population.

BULL MOOSE TO AID ANY PROGRESSIVE

Chicago, June 1.—George W. Perkins brought the olive branch to the G. O. P. today. The bull moose chief, after greeting Chairman Hillis of the republican national committee at the Blackstone, announced flatly that the progressives still stand on the statement they outlined in January, indicating they will support any candidate—not necessarily Roosevelt—who stands for progressive principles.

heard on the train while en route here, that a lot of bitter feeling has been worked up between the camps of the different candidates.

This is pre-eminently the time when the conventions should be for Americans first. I read in the newspapers that Carranza, in his note delivered to Washington yesterday, had accused the Wilson administration of duplicity and of misleading the Mexican government.

As Perkins entered the Blackstone he shook hands with Chairman Hillis of the republican committee, Senator Smoot of Utah, one of the "old guard," and several other republicans.

Hillis told interviewers today that he believed the progressives and republicans would get together.

"I don't think they have changed," he said.

EXPEDITION TO HUNT EXPLORERS

London, June 1.—The British government probably will take immediate steps to send a relief expedition in search of the twenty-two men of the Shackleton expedition stranded on Elephant Island, near the South Pole.

The Daily Chronicle, which received a cablegram from Lieut. Shackleton, announcing his arrival at the Falkland islands, urged the government relief committee, whose formation was announced by Premier Asquith yesterday, to move quickly.

Lieut. Shackleton was asked by cable today to forward further details of the progress made by his expedition.

FUNSTON TELLS OF EL PASO CONFERENCE

San Antonio, June 1.—General Funston today issued a statement regarding the recent Scott-Obregon conferences in El Paso and Juarez, in which he declared no agreement ever was reached.

The statement said in part: "A tentative written agreement was drawn up and signed by General Scott, General Obregon and myself, subject to ratification by President Wilson and Carranza."

"President Wilson promptly approved of the arrangement, but Carranza declined on the ground that any future raid on the border might nullify it.

Funston stated no reference was made to possible action by the American troops to avenge the Glenn Springs raid.

"The tentative agreement fell through," the statement said, "and there was no agreement of any kind that ever took its place. The Mexican conferees were assured to the last that our government was acting in good faith and desired to withdraw our troops as soon as it was satisfied that law and order had been established and our border rendered safe.

All vessels in Oakland harbor, with the exception of lumber carriers, are tied idle to their docks.

W. H. Foley, recording secretary of the riggers' and stevedores' union, asserted today that his organization would not withdraw or modify its demands in any way.

"We will not give in to the demands of the stevedores. They are unreasonable," declared C. W. Cooke, president of the Water Front Employers' union.

SUICIDE PACT IS YOUTH'S DEFENSE

Providence, R. I., June 1.—A graphic story of a suicide pact in which two lovers attempted to die together, and a belt buckle which saved the life of one, was told to the Providence police today by James O'Brien, 21 years old, who is held for the murder of Beatrice Walter, 19 years old.

The Walter girl was found dead early today, a bullet wound in her breast, on a lonely road near Fields' Point. O'Brien, with whom she left for a walk last evening, reported her death to her father and to the police.

According to O'Brien's story, he and the girl were sweethearts and were walking there all during the evening. He had a loaded revolver with him. When Beatrice learned this she suggested that it would be nice if they could die together.

DR. WAITE TO DIE WEEK OF JULY 10

New York, June 1.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite was today sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing sometime during the week beginning July 10.

Before the confessed murderer of John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Mich., millionaire, was sentenced, he thanked the court for the manner in which his trial was conducted.

"I am willing to give my life in partial payment for the wrongs I have done others," Waite said in a speech to the court. "I only regret that I have nothing more than a life to give them. My soul will go on and on trying to make reparation for the wrongs I have done."

Waite was calm and displayed no emotion whatever when the sentence of death was pronounced. The arch-poisoner, who confessed to two murders, an attempt at a third and to petty crimes throughout his life, stood between two deputies, with a third behind him, when Justice Shearn pronounced the words that sent him to the Sing Sing death house.

When asked if he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be passed, he replied "I have not."

WHISKEY SHIPPED IN LABELED AS BEER

Roseburg, June 1.—A new way of evading the prohibition laws was discovered at Gardiner when Sheriff Quine and deputies seized 456 quart bottles of whiskey which had been stored in a warehouse. Labeled as beer, the whiskey had been brought into Oregon from San Francisco on the steamer San Gabriel in nineteen separate shipments of 24 quarts each. Under the prohibition law each person may receive two quarts of whiskey or 24 quarts of beer every 28 days.
