

Motor oil made from asphalt-base crude gives best lubrication with least carbon. Such is the testimony of motorists and experts alike. As Lieut. Bryan, U.S.N., puts it: "Oils made from the asphalt-base crudes have shown themselves to be much better adapted to motor cylinders, as far as their carbon-forming propensities are concerned, than are paraffine-base Pennsylvania oils." Zerolene is scientifically refined from selected California crude—asphalt-base—not only made from the right crude but made right. Dealers everywhere and at service stations and agencies of the Standard Oil Company.

A Nigerian's Aspiration.

An advertisement by an English firm recently appeared in a London daily newspaper for an experienced youth for their office in London. Among the replies received was one from northern Nigeria as follows:

"Having seen your name and address I am more than pleased to ask for a berth in your office. And also as you state in the paper that you want a good and experienced youth in your office which I beg to offer myself in the post. I learn typewriter, but have not yet completed it. Shortland I have learn, and I can write, but not so fast as a man who can write 100 words in a minute.

"If you want me kindly let me know, and if not let me know same.

"I am a Gold Coast youth of sixteen years.

"I hope you will not fail to do the same.

"Expectantly awaiting to hear from you as timous as ever."—London Spectator.

Desperate Diet.

It is amazing what people will eat at a pinch.

A recent arctic explorer seriously advised the wearing of skin clothing in preference to woolen simply and solely because, if the worst came to the worst, one's outfit could be stewed for a meal or at any rate given to the dogs!

Well, when a man finds enjoyment and a sort of inward satisfaction in a stew made of his vest, his shoelaces and his sledge gear, he must be pretty "peckish," and when he gets back to civilization he will make a model husband, never likely to turn up his nose at cold mutton on washing days.

The bishop of Yukon thinks nothing of eating his boots. He had probably declared he was ready for that operation many a time when he was a boy, but he has actually done it since he came to man's estate—in his case the great gold field of arctic Alaska.—London Answers.

There Was a Postscript.

A dentist had a patient with whom he had for years a friendly as well as a professional association, and when the patient called in to have a tooth extracted he was cordially received.

"Will you give us a song?" the dentist suggested.

The patient instead gave a dramatic description of his recent dental pains and ended with an impassioned plea for instant extraction of the offending tooth.

"No, no," said the dentist. "You're run down, my boy! Go and walk in the park for an hour."
"Won't do me any good," pleaded the sufferer, but the dentist insisted, and round the park the obedient patient went. When he came back he was duly anaesthetized, and the deed was done. When he was leaving he shook the hand that had cured him and asked:

"Why on earth did you send me walking round the park?"

"You were run down and nervous," the dentist replied. Then he added, with a grin. "Besides, I'd no gas when you came!"

A Submarine Water Supply.
In the Persian gulf, about twenty miles from the Arabian coast, is a group of islands the largest of which is called Bahrein. This island, which is twenty miles in length and ten in width, is low and sandy in most places, but here and there an oasis rich in date palms dots the island with spots of green. "The Mountains of the Mist," in the center, rises to the height of 400 feet. The 8,000 people who live in Manamah, its largest town, are mostly Arabs of the fanatical Wahabi sect. Fish and seaweed are their chief food, and the only fresh water they have to drink is brought from springs at the bottom of the sea. The natives, with goatskin bags, dive to the bottom and holding the openings down upon the bubbling spring, swim to the surface with their bags filled with sweet water. The extensive pearl fisheries, for which the islands have always been famous, is their one great industry.—Christian Herald.

Correct.
"My friends," exclaimed the eloquent minister, "were the average man to turn and look himself squarely in the eyes and ask himself what he really needed most, what would be the first reply suggested to his mind?"

"A rubber neck!" shouted the precocious urchin in the rear of the room.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Naturally.
"I see where some physician declares that coffee is a factor in divorces."

"Well, for anything going, grounds can always be found in coffee."—Baltimore American.

HUGHES HAS NEW CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

New York, June 13.—"Undiluted Americanism" is to be the slogan of Charles E. Hughes in his campaign for the presidency. He coined the phrase today in his talk with the newspaper men.

In a telegram received today by Hughes from Oscar S. Strauss, progressive, and close friend of Roosevelt, Strauss called on the progressives to support Hughes and pledged his personal support.

In his talk he displayed a "pop" and fire almost Rooseveltian, biting off his words sharply. He said:

"I have stated my position very clearly in my telegram of acceptance to the convention. My platform is one of undiluted Americanism. Any one who supports me supports a thorough-going, out-and-out American policy and nothing else."

The telegram read:

"In recognition of your splendid public record, and relying upon your unflinching stand for a complete and unalloyed Americanism, with the single devotion to the highest welfare of all our people and the ideals of social justice that have so endeared to us the visioned leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, should, in my judgment, give you his enthusiastic support. You will certainly have mine."

So Helpful.
"Tis cheap and easy to destroy. There is not a joyful boy or innocent girl buoyant with true purposes of duty in all the street full of eager and rosy faces, but a cynic can kill and dishearten with a single word. Despondency comes readily enough to the most sanguine. Yes, this is easy, but to help the young soul add energy, inspire hope and blow the coils into a useful flame, to redeem defeat by new thought, by firm action, that is not easy, that is the worker's divine mission."—H. W. Emerson.

How They Say It in South America.
The mission schools in South America yield a rich harvest of mistakes in English, such as are always imminent because of the close similarity between Spanish and English. The consonants "b" and "v" in Spanish are practically interchangeable. A teacher, having given some dictation to her class, was therefore not so astonished as amused to have it come back to her:

Then give to the world the vent you have. And the vent will come back to you.

The same teacher has kept a collection of some other slips which need no explanation. "I don't could." "A pigeon with a rug tied round its paw." "My father is very thick." "My watch is not well; it is antipilate." "I have to wash my hair very often because it is so fat."—New York Globe.

BORROWING TROUBLE.

Worrying over tomorrow's troubles is borrowing trouble. It is impossible to lift the ten weight at one time, but lesser parts of it may be easily carried until the whole load has been conveyed to its destination. So the burdens of a lifetime cannot be borne if crowded into a single day.

LINCOLN SAVAGE, Co. Supt.

A Grand Reck.

It is not always the largest foe who can make the greatest disturbance and cause the most confusion. In his "Hunting Grounds of the Great West" Richard Irving Dodge tells of a little incident of the Mexican war which proves that it is quality, not quantity, which is most effective.

While General Taylor's little army was marching from Corpus Christi to Matamoras a soldier on the flank of the column fired at a bull. The animal charged, and the soldier, taking to his heels, ran into the column. The bull, undaunted by the number of the enemy, followed him headlong, scattering several regiments like chaff, and finally escaped unhurt, having demoralized and put to flight an army which a few days after covered itself with glory by victoriously encountering five times its number of human enemies.
