—"Damaged Goods" is a stirring plea for a pure life before marriage, in order to make impossible the transmission of hereditary taints to future generations.

—Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst is one of hundreds of the clergy that has recommended this great drama.

Goat's Time Honored Calling.
In the Farm and Fireside is an essay on the goat, which says among other things:

"The goat is a great aid in keeping tin cans, brickbats, scrap iron and other rubbish from accumulating around the farm, as he eats all of these things as fast as they appear, and he would be a greater success in this way if he wasn't so ambitious. But the goat is ambitious, and he keeps branching out and increasing his capacity and diet until he takes in the harness and buggy cushions and machinery and carpets and the knobs off doors. He can strip a long line of clothes faster than the best laundryman in the business."

The Seven Sleepers.
The seven sleepers of Ephesus, a favorite subject in medieval art, were seven Christians who to escape the persecution of Decius concealed themselves in a cave whose mouth was closed by their enemies. The cave was rediscovered 200 years afterward, when the sleepers awoke youthful and in perfect health.

Midnight Choir in Court—

Ten young men of the city have been cited to appear before Police Judge Basler and answer to the charge of being out after hours at night. Saturday night, long past midnight, the group allowed its enthusiasm to find escape through song and other forms of disturbance not altogether harmonious, disturbing the sweet dreams of many citizens who were enjoying rest after a week of toil. Some of the riotous ones have stated their intention of entering a plea of guilty to the charge, while others are hesitating and may put the question to the test. There is an ordinance that prohibits promenading the streets at unseemly hours, and in this instance the alleged singing aggravated the case.

Thrift—

Everybody admires the person who is thrifty. If you have a deposit in the Josephine County bank that is a sure sign that you are thrifty. 782

Notice:

The large audience at the Star theater last night wildly applauded scene after scene in the wonderful photodrama, "The Golden Chance," in which Cleo Ridgley and Wallace Reid, supported by an all-star cast of Paramount players, appeared.

Dozens of those present stopped at the box office to say "The Golden Chance," from every angle, was the greatest photoplay ever seen in Grants Pass.

In this judgment of its audience, the Star management heartily concurs. In photography, in settings, in its thrilling unique story and in the flawless acting of the perfect cast, "The Golden Chance" never has been equalled as a screen entertainment.

The Star management urges every one to see this picture tonight.

LOCALS BEATEN BY KLAMATH FALLS

Before a large sized crowd, that included the occupants of about 35 automobiles, Klamath Falls defeated Grants Pass on the A. A. C. grounds here yesterday by a score of 13 to 7.

For several innings the contest was close and interesting, but as the offensive efficiency of the visitors increased while that of the locals became more and more helpless against the pitching of Collegian Lyle Bigbee, the visitors gradually drew away and won with ease.

Bogart and Bigbee clouted out home runs.

The Klamath Falls players behaved with a kindly urbanity which would seem to extricate them from the "naughty boy" charges made against them by Medford.

The score:
Klamath Falls 13 14 4
Grants Pass 7 6 2
Bigbee and Clark; Cornell and Baker.
