Pompeii.

Pompeii was overwhelmed on the night of Aug. 24, 79 A. D. The principal citizens were then assembled, it appears, in an amphitheater where public spectacles were in progress. After a lapse of fifteen centuries a countryman, as he was turning up the ground on the farm where he was employed, found a bronze figure, which discovery led to further search, in the course of which numerous other objects were brought to light, and thus, at length, was the whole city uncovered.

Christians Win—In the most lopsided game of the season, the Christians won the game from the Methodists with the score 14-4. The game could well be termed "a comedy of errors," the Christians taking the big lead in the fourth when the Methodist team went to pieces and allowed eight runs on three hits. The batteries were Bratton and Smith for the Christians and Coburn and Gilmore for the Methodists.

Arrested on Poaching Charge—The first complaint that has been made for some time in Josephine county for illegal fishing was registered by the officers when warrants were issued against A. J. Mead and Roy Darrell. It is charged that the two men took salmon from the fishway at the Golden Drift dam, and four fish are held in cold storage as evidence against the defendants. The evidence was gathered by Special Deputy Warden Will Mansfield, who was sent over from Medford for the work, the local deputies being known to the suspected men, who would naturally be on the look-out if they had designs upon the unsuspecting salmon. The men resisted arrest at the time, and the deputy was forced to draw a gun to protect himself. The warrants have not been served.

Bring in Clean-Up—Goldsbury Brothers have just brought their placer mine clean-up for the winter to the Josephine County bank. The mine is located in the Althouse district, and it is reported that there were nearly 100 ounces of pure gold in the sluice boxes when the water was turned off.

Find Rich Gold Vein—The Courier has received word from Kerby of the recent uncovering of a rich quartz vein on the old Free and Easy mining property near Kerby. The vein is said to be seven feet that will average $15 per ton. The people who last worked this claim are said to have been within 18 inches of the ledge when the quit work. Grover Montgomery and M. McClain are the discoverers of the vein.

CAVES CAMP

Fishing has been good in this branch of Williams creek this year. T. P. Cramer and son caught nearly two hundred fine trout by Cave camp a few days ago, some of them measuring ten inches long. Farther up the creek, on some of the branches, fishing is reported even better than here.

All visitors to the camp are delighted with the water, casting aside lemonade, grape juice, etc., and filling up on the fine mountain snow water.

The camp is now in fine shape and ready to furnish accommodations to all tourists.

The number of visitors going to the caves is increasing daily and indications are that there will be more visitors this season than any time in the past. There will soon be a string of pack horses here for the public.

Among the visitors to the camp last Sunday was a jolly picnic party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. David Vineyard, Mr. and Mrs. David Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Johns, Mrs. Stella Stratton, Misses Helen Johnson and Ida Vineyard, Clay, John, Kenneth, Victor, Opdycke, of Grants Pass. A big picnic dinner was spread under the tall firs, the table being burdened with fried chicken, cold meats, salads, pickles, pies, cakes, and other dainties, and all topped off with a big freezer of ice cream. This was one of the jolliest parties that has visited the camp this season, and they had their pictures taken by the official camp photographer.

More game has been seen in this vicinity this year than for many years past. A tourist coming out from the caves Saturday afternoon saw a five-point buck, and when only a mile from the camp saw a bear.

Other recent guests to the camp and caves were Misses Lelia Riches and Frieda Mochan, of Silverton; A. E. Siderquist, of Chicago, Ill.; George H. Buehler, of Pittsburg, Pa.; S. C. Rockwell, Cottage Grove, and Oliver F. Olds, of Grants Pass.

Twink Wittorff, Max Lewis, Robert Ingalls and Keith Edgerton were four young Grants Pass boys who have been visiting a few days at the caves and Caves camp. The boys think they have had the time of their lives. They climbed a mountain to the snow line, where they could get a good view of Mt. Shasta and the Rogue River valley. They thought it great sport to snowball in July.

DEATH OF YOUNG MEN AT THE SUMMER RESORTS

New York, July 12.—This "near-war" on the border is playing hob with summer resorts. Everywhere along the Jersey coast, up north and in the mountains, comes the plaintive plea of the hotelkeeper that the eligible young men who used to keep the summer girls company have gone to the border or else are drilling at Plattsburg. The shortage of men is serious. Also the resort hotel proprietors are noting with great chagrin that society—or a goodly part of it at least—is now on the border, braving heat and glare, to be near brother-guardsmen, son-guardsmen of sweet-heart-guardsmen.
