DETROIT RIVER SHIP SUNK IN COLLISION

Nest of the Marsh Wren.

When the marsh wren builds his nest he selects a spot near the water's edge or in a swamp filled with reeds and grasses, and he employs the art of a bridge builder with the daring of a steeplejack. The nest is shaped like a globe, with small openings in the sides.

He lines it with feathers, providing a soft cradle for him to rock with the summer breezes. Often a colony of marsh wrens will build their nests in the same swamp, and they keep up a scolding chattering accompaniment to the croak of the frogs.

The Greatest Thing.

"What is the greatest thing in the world?" It was asked the scholar, and he gravely answered that learning is, for it comprehends all and promotes all. It was asked the artist, and he cried, "Art, for it combines matter and spirit, both at their best."

For the Book Borrowers.

What one of us in school years did not write in his arithmetic, geography or speaker? Steal not this book for fear of shame. For here you read the owner's name. Some antiquarian once made the statement that Jean d'Orleans, Comte d'Angouleme, was the first to write a verse threatening any book thief...

Rough Weeing.

Courts and marriage customs among the Greenlanders were in early times simple and unceremonious. We are told that when a lovelorn youth made up his mind as to the girl he wanted to adorn and be useful in his hut of ice and snow he went to her house, seized her by the hair or wherever he could secure a good grip on her and dragged her to his own domain, where she was expected to stay without any further marriage ceremony.

Bite of Swedish History.

Gustave III. of Sweden was assassinated at a masked ball; hence the opera "Un Ballo In Maschera," although Verdi was obliged to change the name of the ruler and the scene of tragedy from those in Schib's libretto which served for his opera. A queen dowager of Sweden died of apoplexy while witnessing a play entitled "Life Is But Smoke."

All Bands Alike to Her.

A little girl was greatly interested in watching the men in her father's orchard putting bands of tar round the fruit trees to prevent ground insects from crawling up and asked a great many questions. Some weeks later, when out with her mother, she noticed a gentleman with a mourning band round his left sleeve.

TEMPORARY INSANITY.

Caused by Mental Trouble Somewhat Akin to Epilepsy. Is there such a thing as temporary insanity? Many people think that the expression merely covers the kindly intentions of a jury to save relatives pain, but numbers of doctors who have made a study of mental disorders emphatically declare it is no idle term. One doctor has stated that temporary insanity is a condition of double consciousness, not dissimilar to epilepsy. A person normally quite sane may have attacks of temporary aberration lasting little more than a few minutes, especially after long bouts of hard, continuous mental work, being particularly liable if insomnia supervenes.

Wherein They Differ. Jack-Widows are wiser than maids in one respect at least. Tom—What's the answer? Jack—They never let a good chance go by, thinking that a better one will come their way.—London Telegraph.

Beaten to a Mummy.

Until pretty late in the eighteenth century mummies entered into a great variety of drugs, balms and other medicaments. As the genuine mummy was then expensive, recipes were given by many ancient writers for converting human flesh into mummy. Usually only certain portions of the body were used, and these were best: dried, macerated and spiced out of all likeness to their natural condition, hence "beaten to a mummy." Numerous allusions are made to the practice in ancient literature, and in an old play, "Bird In a Cage," are the directions: "Make mummy of my flesh and sell me to the apothecary."

Dark Nebulae.

A new astronomical belief is that there are not only dark stars in space, but dark nebulae. The dark stars are invisible, revealing themselves only by their effect on the motion or light of bright stars, but dark nebulae may be visible as unlighted masses showing against the feebly luminous background of space. Professor E. E. Barnard notes that many striking dark patches of sky hitherto supposed to be simply starless regions may be really dark nebulae. The case of Hind's nebula in Taurus, which is now feebly visible after completely fading away from a state of conspicuous brilliancy shows that a nebula may lose its light, and perhaps many others have never had any light.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Precedent.

"Have you ever had any experience in this business before?" "No, sir." "Ever thought anything about it?" "No, sir." "And yet you want me to appoint you general manager of this company? Where did you get the idea?" "Well, you know that's the way our government appoints its cabinet officers."—Life.

There Are Stores in This City So Good That They Could Use Twice as Much Advertising Space as They Now Use--and Make It Pay! THE BETTER THE STORE THE BETTER THE ADVERTISING PAYS. Your own observations in the store-world will confirm this truth. PUBLICITY is bad only for a bad proposition. It is just as surely good for a good one. What IS a "good store"? One that really SERVES THE PUBLIC, protecting its patrons as to VALUES, not merely as to PRICES. There are many stores in this city answering to that definition completely. In every city there are always some stores that do not. An important phase of a GOOD STORE'S SERVICE TO ITS PATRONS is its newspaper advertising. This should be complete, frank, informing. It should tell the store news as fully as a good newspaper tells the news of the day. Perhaps the best possible NEW POLICY for the GOOD stores of this city to adopt would be that of DOUBLING THE ADVERTISING SPACE THAT THEY USE—thus giving them "elbow room"; giving them bigger opportunities for telling their patrons, in detail, about every selling event, about every bargain offering, about every dollar's worth of new stocks. Of course, even HALF ENOUGH ADVERTISING pays the really good store; but ADEQUATE ADVERTISING would pay much better.
