a keynote of "Americanism" when he said "We want no Catholic party in this country."

New York, Aug. 21.—Bitter denunciation of directors of American universities and colleges, who "permit an alien radicalism to contaminate the fountainhead, the youth of our country," was contained in the report of the National Committee on Public Morals, made here today by Edward Feeney of Brooklyn to the fifteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies.

"Insist that the minds of your sons be not debased," said Feeney. "Steer clear of the school that tolerates within its precincts the pagan idea of the materialistic conception of history, either through addle-brained professors or the socialist clutter. It is up to you to demand the Marxism, immorality or disloyalty to the religion of your fathers or to your country shall not be tolerated in any form."

ASQUITH DENIES THAT ENGLAND BLOCKS PEACE London, Aug. 21.—Germany has shown no disposition toward peace, except on terms dishonorable and humiliating to some of the allies. Premier Asquith informed the house of commons today. The premier's statement was made in answer to assertions by Under Secretary Zimmerman of the German foreign office, who told a Hungarian newspaper recently that it was England that was blocking peace. Zimmerman's statement that England prevented her allies from showing a disposition toward peace is untrue, Asquith said. He reminded the German foreign official that Germany has never submitted official terms of peace.

PATRIOTISM MARKS CATHOLIC MEETING New York, Aug. 21.—Undivided loyalty to God and nation was the keynote of the meetings held today as a part of the annual Catholic week convention here this week, in which 25,000 persons are participating. In opening prayers blessings were invoked upon the nations. Before the sound of religious songs died away, new voices sang patriotic airs. The papal colors—yellow and white—appear with the Stars and Stripes. Delegates are wearing miniature flags in addition to the colors of the church. The American Federation of Catholic societies, State League of Catholic societies and the Catholic Women's union also held sessions. Religion as the bulwark of American government was the theme of the addresses by the highest dignitaries of the Catholic church in this country, during the opening day of the week's celebration. His Eminence William, Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, declared religion has been the mainstay of government and urged Americans to guard against atheism and so-called "free thought" and religious intolerance. History teaches, he added, that as there can be no liberty without law, there can be no law without God. Right Rev. Bishop Hickey, of Rochester, one of the best known orators in the Catholic church, struck
