COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

During the past year 50 carloads of live stock and 40,000 pounds of wool, valued at $100,000, have been sold in Portland market on the co-operative plan by C. J. Hurd, market master for the farmers of Lane county. Mr. Hurd acts for a committee under the auspices of the Lane County Pomona grange, attends to the business of shipping and selling the farmers' products. The farmers telephone him what they have to sell, and when he has enough for a carload, he notifies them when to deliver.

The expense to the farmer is light. Each consignor bears his pro rata share. In addition to the actual freight and cartage expense, a charge of $10 a car is made to defray operating expenses. This gives the small shipper the same freight rates as the big shipper. The return is made to the farmer after the sale has been made. This plan has been in operation about a year, and has proven very successful.

BRITISH DEADLY MOTOR "TANKS" ARE AMERICAN

This is the caterpillar tractor, or motor "tank," made in Peoria, Ill., for the British government and now being used successfully in assaults on the German trenches on the Somme. These tractors, made originally for agricultural purposes, have been converted by the British into armored trucks and equipped with three machine guns. They hurdle trenches, walk through forests and crawl over shell craters in the face of intense fire. Germany in the siege of Liege used about forty of these tractors without armor or gun equipment.
