"WHERE'S MOTHER"

As I sit alone tonight Just beneath one little light Thinking of the days gone by, I cannot help but heave a sigh. My fancies carry me away, To childhood when these words I'd say— "Where's Mother?"

Burdened with a lonely task, One day we may vainly ask For the comfort of her face. For the rest of her embrace. Let us love her while we may, Well for us that we can say— "Where's Mother?"

Mother, with untiring hands, At the post of duty stands, Patient, seeking not her own, Anxious for the good alone Of the children as they cry, Ever as the days go by— "Where's Mother?"

EACH IN HIS PLACE

A great war is a nation's supreme test. To conduct a war successfully requires marshalling all the nation's resources as well as its physical strength. It is the part of the young men to make the nation's physical strength felt on the firing line. It is the part of those who cannot give their services at the front to be the sustaining forces behind the line. It is the part of the women to fill in the roles that the men have been playing and to keep up the nation's efficiency. It is the part of those who can afford it to lend their capital to enable the nation to prosecute the war with the greatest effectiveness.

It is inconceivable that the people of the United States will ever be called upon to meet the privations which this war forced upon the people of Europe. Five million European homes have been visited by death itself. Fine cities have given place to ruins. Rich and poor have gone on government food rations; individual liberty has been sacrificed to national unity of action in order to gain national efficiency. Women, who have been accustomed to fine clothes and the constant round of entertainment, have taken their place as day laborers in munition factories. All of this sacrifice has been made for a cause that is as much ours as theirs. The violation of the neutrality of Belgium was just as much an affront to America as to Great Britain. German autocracy threatens the perpetuity of free institutions everywhere alike.

The important thing now is for Americans to realize that this is our war and as participants, we must do our utmost to bring it to a successful conclusion. The thing which is most available and which can be given at once is our wealth. It is the patriotic duty therefore of every American to help make the Liberty loan an overwhelming success.

It should be considered a privilege by Americans to help our brave allies who have made such heavy sacrifices. The buying of a $50 Liberty bond means that you are lending of your reserve to pay to keep a soldier on the firing line. The government estimates that every $50 bond sold will keep one soldier in the trenches for ten days. Compare the two services—you loaning money at a good rate of interest with the best security in the world, and the other man offering his all at the temple of free institutions.

WORTH SAVING

The liquor interests are raising a great hue and cry against the statement that there are now 600,000,000 bushels of grain used in the manufacture of liquor in America annually. The statement is an exaggeration by about 200 per cent, but it is the identical statement made by the liquor people, and no one else, when they were combating the campaign for prohibition, in an effort to show how important a market for farm produce the distilleries and breweries are.

Based on figures obtained on inflow of grain and output of product from representative breweries, it was estimated that 200,000,000 bushels were so consumed annually. One of the United States revenue officials afterwards cut this to 135,000,000 bushels. But even so, the waste is enormous. It amounts to about 11,000,000 loaves of bread daily. This amounts to practically 10 per cent of the amount necessary to sustain the people of this country. Is not that worth saving?

TO PREVENT EPIDEMIC OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

New York, June 1.—Strict regulations to prevent another epidemic of infantile paralysis became effective throughout New York state today, exclusive of New York City, where the health board will act. The rules provide for a volunteer sanitary relief corps of experienced disease fighters, and for strict quarantine of all suspected cases.

ROAD WORKERS MAKE WHIRLWIND FINISH

A whirlwind-finish campaign is to be made throughout this county on behalf of the $6,000,000 road bond measure.

Under the direction of the good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce, parties are to visit every rural district in Josephine county, including Wolf Creek, Leland, Hugo, Merlin, Murphy, Williams, Wilderville, Selma, Kerby, Holland and Taklima.

Those who have volunteered for this work are O. S. Blanchard, C. A. Winetrot, Fred A. Williams, Frank S. Bramwell, Sam H. Baker, P. B. Herman, George E. Lundburg and J. D. MacVicar.

The campaign started today and will be kept going until the polls open Monday morning.

Friends of the bond measure are feeling much encouraged over the situation as they find it throughout the county. People living at a distance from the Pacific highway have been feeling that all funds allotted to this county will be used on that road and they would not be benefited thereby. An explanation of the facts, showing them that by making the Pacific highway a hard surface road, the county tax money heretofore spent for maintaining that road can be spent on other county highways; and also that assurances have been received by the county court that if the $6,000,000 measure carries, the county may expect additional help on the Crescent City road, has changed the attitude of the rural voter quite materially.

ORDERED TO SPEED UP RECRUITING WORK

Corporal Joseph A. Broderick, who has been in charge of the local recruiting station since before the declaration of war, leaves for the east tomorrow night. He will be succeeded by L. Tingley, in charge of the local recruiting office.

The local office is in receipt of instructions from the department at Washington, clearing up some mooted questions regarding the registration law.

Among them are: Registration is no bar to enlistment in the regular army, but when a man has once been selected for the new army he cannot enlist in the regular army.

Men accepted for enlistment prior to June 5, but not actually enlisted before that date must register.

Captain Huetscher in charge of the army recruiting office at Portland wires the local office stating that progress in recruiting work is unsatisfactory. He says that a recruiting campaign of 60 days has netted less than 50 per cent of the war quota for the regular army. There are 51 new regiments being formed at 18 concentrating stations, which means that 100,000 recruits are needed immediately. Every day's delay in raising these recruits means time lost in training and preparation.

Captain Huetscher urges that recruiting be speeded up to maximum intensity.

PLENTY OF TRUCKS TO MEET ARMY NEED

Washington, June 1.—The new American army will be supplied with motor trucks as rapidly as they are needed through the development of the government's present plans. Bids have already been asked on orders of from 1 to 35,000 trucks of light and heavy types, known officially as class A and class B, and present estimates indicate that they can be secured from the existing manufacturing plants as fast as they are required. The war department has no present expectation that it will have to resort to commandeering private machines in commercial service. The new army trucks will be of a construction which would handle in commercial service, loads of approximately three to five tons, respectively. The bids will be opened in Chicago on June 10. Arrangements are also being made to secure the necessary drivers.

PACIFIC COAST TO HAVE SIX SUBMARINE BASES

Washington, June 1.—Recommendations that aviation and submarine bases be established immediately at San Diego, Los Angeles, Ediz Hook, Wn., at the mouth of the Columbia river, and at the Mare Island and Puget Sound navy yards are disclosed by Secretary Daniels in a statement for summarizing the proposals of the board of naval officers under Rear Admiral Helm, which recently toured the Pacific coast under authority of congress to study this subject.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF SUN EXPECTED NEXT YEAR

Portland, June 1.—The weather office has received maps, charts and other data from the officials at Washington, D. C., showing that there will be a total eclipse of the sun here on June 8, 1918. The eclipse will first be noticeable in southwestern Washington, and will follow a zig-zag course across the continent as far as the Everglades. The maps and charts are very interesting, while the data shows some most extraordinary mathematical calculations.
