

Koveralls Keep Kids Kleen

Practical, Healthful, Economical Garments for Small Children. Practical, because they are made in one piece, and can be slipped on or off instantly. They fit and look well, and yet are loose and comfortable in every part.

Healthful, for superior to bloomers. No tight elastic bands to stop free circulation of blood and retard freedom of motion.

Economical, having wear on good clothes—saying washing—so well made they are outgrown long before they are worn out.

85c KOVERALLS A NEW SUIT

When Howells Was Young.

In 1881, when I went to Boston to study, Howells was the most conspicuous novelist in the city, was indeed an issue. He had just published "Silas Lapham" and was in the full tide of his powers. All literary Boston was divided into three parts—those who liked him and read him, those who read him and hated him and those who just plain hated him. The most fiercely debated question in many clubs ran something like this: "Are Howells' heroines true to life or are they merely satirical types?" And most of his feminine critics were fiercely indignant over his "injustice to woman." "He never depicts a noble woman," they declared.—Hamlin Garland in Bookman.

Colorado's Fighting Governor

Hon. George A. Carlson to Be Heard at the Chautauqua

HON. GEORGE A. CARLSON, the fighting Governor of Colorado, is coming to Chautauqua to deliver his stirring address, "The Price of Progress." Judge Ben B. Lindsay of Denver, with whom the Governor cooperated in securing the wheat legislation ever secured in the state, says of Carlson:

"He is a broad, courageous champion of good government. He has had a most novel, dramatic and intensely interesting experience as District Attorney and Governor of a great western state. He has a big vital message that comes from his broad and abundant experience with men and measures. I consider Chautauqua fortunate in securing his services."

MAY SUBMARINE LOSSES ARE LOW

London, June 1.—The statement issued by the admiralty today was that the May shipping losses were the lowest so far since the indiscriminate submarine policy of the Germans had been put into effect. The reason given by the report for this diminution in loss is that the British campaign against the U boats is becoming more effective.

Kennedy Jones, food director, declared that: "While we are succeeding in increasing the number of German submarines destroyed, and are making progress in our effort to protect shipping from their ravages, Germany is meeting this situation by similarly increasing their output of submarines. The problem is not yet solved, though the outlook is decidedly hopeful."

"England has a reserve supply of cereals sufficient for 12 weeks but it is uncertain whether we can maintain this until harvest time. If the reserve falls below a several weeks' supply, local famines will result."

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Cultivate Potatoes

It is an excellent practice to begin cultivating your potatoes very soon after planting them. Do not wait for them to come up, but go right onto them with a spike harrow and give them a good cultivation. Do the same about the time they are coming up. Then as soon as you can see the rows, cultivate them. Even if you cover some of the tops no harm will come from it.

It is also a good practice to harrow your field corn just a few days after it comes up. You may tear out a few stalks but not many. If for any reason you think you are tearing it out too badly remove two or three of the middle teeth of the harrow.

Chicken Lice

A new and effectual remedy has been given out by the department for the control of chicken lice. It is sodium fluoride—a white powder costing 60 cents a pound, sufficient to treat 100 fowls. It may be applied by means of a shaker, dusting the powder into the feathers, or by taking pinches in the fingers and putting it into the feathers and under the wings.

WOLF CREEK

A largely attended double wedding took place at the home of F. M. Stason last Tuesday evening, when John Moloney and Miss Alice Stason, and Frank Jones and Miss Ethel Lichtenberger were united in marriage. They escaped a noisy reception and disappointed a lot of expectant young people at the depot, by leaving the Stason home the back way and being whisked to Grants Pass by automobile. Both couples, after a brief honeymoon, will settle here and have the good wishes of the community.

There has been a larger planting of corn, beans and potatoes than usual and what was not planted too early is coming on with promise, but cut worms and flea beetles are on the job and unless energetically combated will prevent a full crop. Thus far fruit promises well and considerable of a "June drop" will be necessary if we are to be spared heavy thinning. Many of the grape vines seem to be dead and never were they known to be so slow in putting out as this spring.

D. W. Davis has closed out his interests here and left for the state of Washington in his auto.

Frank Cox, in charge of the garage and blacksmith shop here has demonstrated his ability to perform difficult tasks in his line.

Washing Glassware.

The wife of a glazier once told me, said a housekeeper, never to wash my glassware in hot water because, she said, it melts the thin glaze that is on the outside of all glassware and so makes the glass appear smeared and muddy. Since then I have used cold water, and the results are remarkable.—Washington Star.

NOTICE TO CUT GRASS AND WEEDS

To whom it may concern: Notice is hereby given, that the ordinances of the city of Grants Pass require owners or occupants of any lot, tract or parcel of land within the city limits, to keep such lot, or parcel of land, together with the street, sidewalk and alley abutting thereon, free from growing grass or vegetation over three inches tall, except grass or crops raised for agricultural purposes, and every such owner or occupant of such premises is required prior to June 1st, to cause to be cut and removed or destroyed any such grass or vegetation.

It is further provided that in case of failure to comply said grass or vegetation shall be cut and destroyed by the city under the direction of the street superintendent and the expense thereof charged against the property, and made a lien against the same, to be enforced by the sale of the property.

You will avoid costs and penalties, by giving this your prompt attention.

C. E. McLANE,
City Marshal.

As to the Fireplace.

The sides of a fireplace should be well splayed or beveled in order to reflect the heat. The back should lean forward at the top for the same purpose, and the fireplace should not be too deep. A projecting chimney produces an effect of pushing the guest away, whereas a receding one beckons him nearer to enjoy the hospitality of the open fire. For this reason the architect—that is, the fireplace built into the wall of the room—is especially cozy and attractive.

Securing an Audience. "And the audience, my boy, were glad to their seats," said the delight actor.

"That certainly was a neat way of keeping them there," said the critic.—Chicago Herald
