MURPHY

Ed Hannum and family came over from Takilma for the Fourth and to visit at the home place for a few days.

Mrs. Charles M. White and little son, Marshall, arrived Wednesday from Phoenix, Ariz., to spend the summer at Fairview with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. White.

Mrs. Wheeler Osborne is at the Osborne home until after the conscription, and will then join Wheeler at the mine in California if he is not drafted for war.

A large number of Murphy people were in Ashland for chautauqua Sunday and report an enjoyable day. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carson, Dr. and Mrs. Sweeney, R. K. Woodson and wife, W. G. White and wife, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Woodson, Mrs. Cleveland, Ralph Wood, Mrs. C. M. White and son and L. W. Carson. The park is a delightful place these hot days.

Mr. Kellogg and family spent the week end in the park at Ashland.

A merry crowd gathered on the Woodson lawn Thursday afternoon for the Sunday school picnic. After an entertaining program, a big picnic dinner was served with plenty of ice cream and lemonade to finish up with. Needless to say every body had a good time.

Mrs. Hill has friends visiting her at the Hayes ranch.

FERRYDALE

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hussey called on Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Runyan Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Neely came out to their farm Sunday and will remain for several days.

Mrs. T. Ogden was a Grants Pass visitor Friday.

Mrs. P. T. Everton, of Grants Pass, was a Ferrydale visitor Thursday.

Miss Esther Wadsworth spent Sunday with Mrs. Joe Ferguson.

Miss Audrey Griffin was the guest of Miss Velma Everton on Sunday.

R. K. Hackett and a number of boys of Grants Pass have been camping on the river near the Griffin ferry, where they enjoyed the opportunities offered for fishing. They returned to the city Monday evening, Mr. Hackett being called home on account of the illness of J. D. Fry.

A heavy electric storm struck this date Tuesday doing some damage to grain and alfalfa crops. In spite of this the farmers welcomed it as it will be a great benefit to fall crops.

The fishermen report extra good luck in commercial fishing during the past week. The beginning of the season was not very encouraging, but the fish seem to be running better lately.

APPLEGATE

Miss Ella Rawlings, of Medford, is visiting Mrs. Mansfield.

George Herriott left for Coos county Tuesday, to sell school supplies.

Zeb Hyde was a Grants Pass visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown, Harry, Hugh and George Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benedict and Miss Edith Kubli spent last Sunday at Crater lake.

Miss Velma Mansfield had the misfortune to fall off a fence and break her arm Friday.

John Johnson, of Jacksonville, returned home Wednesday after a several days' visit at Ralph Pittocks.

JEROME PRAIRIE

Mrs. John Scherz, who has been staying at Mrs. Paul Hirve's, returned, to her home at New Hope, last week.

A pleasant evening was spent Sunday at the home of W. W. Tucker. Ice cream and cake being served to 35 people of Jerome Prairie and to Ralph Bull of New Hope.

Mrs. Morgan, Frank Findlay and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tucker were Grants Pass visitors Sunday.

The warm weather makes the swimming hole a popular place, large crowds going almost every day to enjoy the water and sand.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Harmon spent Monday in Grants Pass.

About 25 people attended the dinner party held at Mrs. C. J. Armstrong's Wednesday evening, which all enjoyed very much.

WOLF CREEK

Frank C. Livingston, an auto man of experience and ability, has taken charge of the garage. F. W. Cox, who has been in charge, expects shortly to leave for San Francisco, driving a car through for a man who had an accident here and completed his trip by train.

The hay crop, which, with few exceptions, has been light, is almost all harvested, and other crops are doing well, considering the dry weather. A few are irrigating. Seasons like this make one appreciate even a little water.

Fruit has ceased to drop and there will be more than was expected some weeks ago. Especially is this true of Bartlett pears.

FRUITDALE

Allen Underwood spent Tuesday in Wolf Creek.

Robert Harris came over from Applegate to spend Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carpenter, Annie Neilson and Worth Hamilton attended the dance and furnished the music at Kerby Saturday night.

Mrs. Underwood returned home Monday from a camping trip with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Winetrot and several parties from Applegate. A most delightful trip to Crater lake was included in the outing.

Work has commenced on the Pacific highway and we have visions of a hard-surfaced road in the near future.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wardrip on Saturday evening occurred the wedding of Levi Eldridge and Mrs. Seaman, Rev. L. Myron Booser officiating, the ring ceremony being used. Mrs. Wardrip had the house beautifully decorated with greenery, Shasta daisies and wedding bells and after congratulations, an elaborate repast was served to the guests, which included in addition to the Wardrip family, William Seaman, Mr. and Mrs. John Stanbrough and son, Mrs. S. R. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Roper of Fruitdale, and Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, of Grants Pass.

What Started the Jar.

Wife—I wonder how you can look me in the face. Husband—Oh, a man can get used to anything. Exchange.

SHAPE OF THE HAND.

The Reason Our Fingers Are Not All of the Same Length.

There is no known reason why our fingers should be of different lengths today. In fact it is thought by some people that the hand would be stronger if the fingers were all of the same length, says the Book of Wonders. Certainly, however, the hands would not then be so beautiful and might not be so useful.

The human hand today is perhaps the most versatile thing in the world. You can do more things with the hand than with any other thing in the world. The probability is that the shape of the hand today and the length of the fingers are the result of the different things the human being has called upon the hand to do during man's development up to the present time.

We must go back to the time, however, when man walked on fours, for that is probably the real explanation. Originally man's fingers were of different lengths because all four footed animals had the same peculiarities. The shape and length of the toes and their arrangement were the ideal arrangement for, giving the proper balance and support to the body and in moving about and in climbing produced the best toe hold.

WHERE THE MULE FAILS.

He Doesn't Relish a Battle When the Artillery Gets Active.

More nearly impervious to heat than any of the other domestic animals, including his own ancestry, the mule has played a prominent part in the development of our southern states. On the sugar plantations and in the cotton fields he is without a peer.

His traditional endurance renders him almost invaluable to the quartermaster's department of armies in the field, but the experienced artillery officer uses horses instead for handling artillery in action.

A mule doesn't enjoy a battle. He doesn't relish its excitement and its terror, that metamorphosis that changes men alternately into poltroons and demigods.

Under a sustained artillery fire a horse becomes shakily docile. He turns instinctively to his master as to a creature of higher power, and his very terror renders him gentle.

But the mule displays no such faith in humankind. In the turmoil of battle he suddenly becomes arbiter of his own acts, and he either bolts or balks. A mule disapproves all that he does not understand, and it is traditional that he is not amenable to reason.—Los Angeles Times.

No Wonder He Wouldn't Sell. Captain Amundsen told an amusing story of one of his arctic expeditions. Several of his dogs having died, Captain Amundsen asked one of the natives in his best Eskimo if he would sell him a few dogs. To his surprise the request was promptly refused. The explorer and the Eskimo had a long argument, the explorer pointing out that he must get dogs somehow and the Eskimo replying that they never sold them.

"Nonsense!" Captain Amundsen exclaimed. "I have often bought dogs." The Eskimos seemed immensely astonished, and at the end of another argument Captain Amundsen discovered that instead of using the Eskimo word for "dogs" he had been asking the man to sell him some "children."

Russia's Parquetry Floors.

Most flooring put down in Russia is parquetry, and it is generally oak. Even in the unpretentious houses and flat buildings this parquetry is to be found. In some cases, of course, the finish is not so fine as in others, and in ordinary buildings the designs are not so elaborate. One of the most noticeable features of a Russian house is that rugs and carpets are used for wall decorations instead of floor coverings. Floor polishing by professionals, who come regularly once every week or ten days, is considered a part of the regular routine of running a house.—Detroit Free Press.

Churchyard Yew Trees.

One reason given why very old yew trees are so often found in country churchyards is that originally these trees were planted to supply the peasants with wood for their bows, for in lawless times it was soon discovered that the only place where trees would be safe from nightly marauders was the churchyard, where the most hardened thief dared not venture between darkness and dawn.—London Mail.

Cure For Winking.

Pa—At last I've found a way to make that young scamp of ours stop winking his eyes.

Ma—Really?

Pa—Yes; I'll show him the articles in this science magazine where it says that every time we wink we give the eye a bath.—Buffalo Express.

Out of His Class.

"I hear your new son-in-law has brain fever," said the curious man.

"Brain fever, did you say?" chuckled the father-in-law. "The poor boob couldn't have any such sickness. Imagine a jellyfish having a headache."—Puck.

His Decision.

"I have been on your train a long time now."

"I can't marry you," said the girl.

"All right. Here's where I change cars then."—Kansas City Journal.

Today.
Today is a kink in disguise. Today always looks mean to the thoughtless in the face of a uniform experience that all good and great and happy actions are made up precisely of these blank todays.

DULL AND SHARP SHOOTING PAINS

Michigan Lady Suffered Such Pains
In Back and Head, But Says
Cardui Stopped These Bad Spells.

Palmyra, Mich.—Mrs. Chas. T. Fuller, of this place, writes: "In 1911 I got run-down, and I suffered great pain...with both dull and sharp shooting pains...also back and head. I was weak and could only drag around, and should have been in bed, for I really wasn't able to be up. At times I would have spells that would be so bad I'd have to go to bed, and suffered intensely..."

I decided to try Cardui, and saw a great improvement in less than a month's time. I used 7 or 8 bottles and was stronger...I got so much better that my strength returned and my work was easy for me. Cardui did me a world of good. It built me up in health and strength. I haven't had one of those bad spells since. I haven't had to take any more medicine since or have any doctors either and have been able to do my work right along...I recommend it to other women highly as the best medicine I know of for women who suffer from female trouble."

If you suffer from female troubles, follow this advice. Get a bottle of Cardui today and give it a thorough trial. It should help you, as it has helped thousands of other women in the past 40 years. At all druggists.

—Puck.
