PIONEER HAS MOST INTERESTING CANE

ALBANY, Ore., Aug. 18—Cyrus H. Walker, prominent among northwest pioneers, today is proudly showing his friends a cane given him by Geo. H. Himes, curator of the Oregon Historical society.

The cane is made of Guaiacum, a species of lignum vitae; Oregon yew and locust. The Guaiacum was taken from a tie used in the construction of the Panama railroad in 1854; the Oregon yew grew near Champoug, where the first civil government was organized in 1842, and the locust grew on the campus of Willamette University at Salem.

The following is engraved on the cane: Cyrus H. Walker, born at Whitman mission, December 7, 1838. President Oregon Pioneers association June 22, 1916-July 19, 1917.

and the Barnes canneries will together probably put up 25,000 cases. The money paid out for fish, together with the good prices received by ranchers for their products, has given the lower Rogue river country a prosperous period.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS FIND SKIN TROUBLE

LONDON, Aug. 1 (By Mail)—Serious skin infection, caused by the ashes of high explosive bomb-powder will probably deter Londoners from picking up bomb fragments in future air raids. Three weeks after the big raid that killed over 100 people, 25 persons were reported to be suffering from a strange ailment—their hands were swollen and the skin was afflicted with a new kind of irritation.

Hospital authorities identified the trouble as that which frequently attacks munition workers who handle T. N. T. The trouble starts within a few hours after the hands touch the bomb fragments and the disease is progressive unless checked by immediate medical attention.

Our Salt Resources.
Among the states which possess vast salt resources in one form or another are Michigan, New York, Ohio, Utah and West Virginia, the first named claiming that it has enough salt to supply the whole world several hundred years. But most salt in its natural state is impure and some brines contain barium chloride, which makes it poisonous. The bureau of chemistry at Washington, after careful research, found that such salt can be deprived of its poisonous properties by adding a solution of sulphate of soda, and so large salt supplies of this character which have had a limited use are now made available for general commercial purposes.

SAMPLE OF RUSSIAN LABORERS' DEMANDS

PETROGRAD, July 6 (By Mail)—The watch repairers of Petrograd have won a strike that is record breaking in its demands.

Every watch repairer who received 200 roubles a month has been raised to 300. Those who received over 200 have had an increase of 50 per cent. These increases are retroactive and go back to January 1, 1917. Every watch repairer in Petrograd therefore has received, in cold cash, recently at least 600 roubles.

Every watch repairer from henceforth, will receive a month's vacation on full pay. Every year his annual wages will be increased the size of a month's pay. When he is sick he will receive full wages for three months. If he is called to war he will receive a month's wages and also a bonus of one month's wages for each year he has worked with the firm.

If the jeweler who employs him decides to go out of business he must pay each watch repairer a year's wages.

The workmen will have a board through which they will make all contracts with their employers. Any workman who is elected to this board will receive full wages from his employer, without being called upon to do any work. The last clause is that, in case of strike, the employers must pay the full wages of the strikers for at least six weeks. Beyond that time the workmen can strike without pay.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stanbrough entertained the Wardrip and Harris families at dinner Sunday.

Our eastern friends, who sometimes think the west is wild and woolly, are justified occasionally. J. A. Terryberry of Duluth, who is making his first western visit and who spent a week with J. H. Harris, resumed his journey recently by way of California. Stopping at Ft. McDowell to look at some land he owned there he found some of the boundary stakes down, so set to work to replace them. Two women passing along a trail, seeing him at work and visioning the recent depredations in Klamath county, reported in town that an I. W. W. was at work. An automobile soon appeared and the two occupants asked Mr. Terryberry to ride to town. He innocently replied that he preferred to walk, but when each man alighted from the car, armed with a rifle, he decided discretion was the better part of valor and accompanied them. Shortly after their arrival in town, by means of papers and the kindly assistance of the hotel keeper, Mr. Terryberry was able to convince them of his business. He told his "captors" he thought they were I. W. W.'s and

THE TRUE TALE OF A RATTLE-SNAKE'S TAIL

The following tale (not tall) is clipped from yesterday morning's Medford Sun. The reputation of the parties mentioned for veracity leaves no room for doubt as to the truthfulness of the story:—

Mrs. A. J. Klockner, who has returned from a week's visit to Grants Pass, had the unusual experience, while there, of hunting rattlesnakes by the headlight of an automobile.

In company with Dr. and Mrs. Ed. Bywater they were returning late one evening from a visit in the country. A rattlesnake, aping the manners of its Arizona cousins, had buried itself in the dust of the road, and, thus unsuspected for attack, it was run over by the auto. It crawled away however, apparently uninjured.

Dr. Bywater at once reversed his car and spent some time looking for the snake by artificial light. When found, the doctor fearlessly lifted it back into the road. The stick, however, broke into bits when used as a club—but the snake was exterminated by Dr. Bywater, who literally followed the biblical injunction of placing his heel upon the serpent's head.

The oil of the snake will be used for medicinal purposes. There were seven rattles.

POOL KILLER NEEDED

The need of a fool killer has not entirely passed in this country yet. The first day following the opening of the hunting season, the carnage, of hunters who are victims of other hunters who don't know enough to handle a gun in the woods, commenced. Time was when a citizen who wanted a piece of fresh venison could swing his gun over his shoulder, go into the woods and get it without incurring a fifty per cent liability of being taken for a deer himself. In those days it was not necessary to uniform yourself as a hunter in scarlet hats and jackets.

A bill was introduced in the last legislature requiring a license for the carrying of any fire arms. As to nine-tenths of our people, such a law would be an unnecessary nuisance; as to the other tenth, it is an almost necessary restriction.

If the continued killing of innocent hunters by careless irresponsible so-called hunters continues, public opinion will demand that some such regulation be made regarding the carrying of fire arms at large.

NEW HEADQUARTERS FOR R. C. CHAPTER

Word has been received at the office of the local Red Cross chapter that a new geographical division has been created in the northwest, comprising Alaska, Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Headquarters will be in Seattle. The director has been appointed and will leave Washington, D. C., for Seattle some time during the next week.

A new branch of the Red Cross supply service has been created to cover this northwestern territory, also with headquarters at Seattle. This branch is under the direction of J. A. Ballargeon, whose address will be Second and Spring streets, Seattle.

This change means that the Grants Pass chapter will hereafter be under the Seattle branch instead of the San Francisco branch with John L. Clymer, director as heretofore.

FISHING AT MOUTH ROGUE PROSPEROUS

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 18—The fishermen on the lower Rogue river have been making good money and are well satisfied with their work. The Macleay Estate company is paying $1 and $1.25 per fish, the difference in price depending upon whether the company or the fisherman furnish the gear. This is the highest price ever paid on the river and the fishermen have done well. The Macleay company has about 80 boats on the river and a number of men are using set nets. Two men work in each boat and some of the best fishermen have made big wages. The run of Chinook salmon is a good average run and the Macleay
