TODAY'S VISITORS

Today Grants Pass is host to a goodly number of visiting automobile dealers from the state's metropolis. We are glad they are here. We want them, and the thousands upon thousands of motorists whom they represent, to become better acquainted with this land of tourist attractions.

With the marvelous growth of the "outdoor habit" among Americans, the automobile has become as much of a necessity as the sewing machine or the mower. The part it plays in the economic life of this country is hardly second to any other agency.

And its importance is growing yearly. The improvements brought before the public by manufacturers are so rapid and so revolutionary that the layman has hard work keeping abreast of the trade's development. What was the marvelous innovation of last year is the commonplace of this season and will probably be relegated to the rear with the advent of another crop of models.

The visitors coming to this city today represent the vanguard of motordom.

They speak of the best in this most important line, because they have those machines which embody the latest, well-tested improvements super-imposed upon those of the years that have gone before.

Today's visitors are the apostles of good roads. Again we grasp their hands. One need but stand on a street of this city any of these days and note the tourists who visit this section to appreciate the value to any community of the road improvements which will multiply such travel many fold.

Again we welcome the guests of today as the strongest advocates of developing tourist attraction possibilities to the utmost. These men know how Switzerland and Southern California have been made populous and prosperous. And coming among us, they will soon know that in Southern Oregon lie possibilities in latent, more or less inaccessible scenic attractions which equal the best of the most famous travel-attracting regions; possibilities which can, by development and advertisement, make this, as it could much less favored sections, prosperous beyond the dreams of our most optimistic boosters.

CANADA FACING CRISIS

the past. Canada has no great wealth of man power. Eight million people is her top. Already 400,000 men who so freely gave themselves to service have seriously tightened the labor market in places. Farmers are in straits for help. In many cities clerks and municipal employees are given half holidays from their regular employment in order that they may go into the fields to help with the crops. This shortage is emphasized by the anti-conscriptionists. Conservatives declare there are hundreds of "slackers" in the cities who could be spared and assert that these are the men they want to get under the law.

t Intricate as is this problem alone, it is intermixed with the racial question, an alien enemy tangle a tremendously difficult financial situation involving the nationalization of 7,000 miles of railroad and millions of dollars in advances to others, and a line of hoary but still virulent political animosities, which stirred together offer the Canadian voter a political salad unlike anything previous in his entire political experience.

THREE CAUSES FOR SPAIN'S TROUBLES

Madrid, Aug. 22.—The movement of unrest which has been making itself more and more felt in Spain during the last two months, is due to three factors: the agitation in military circles, the discontent of the democratic party, (which includes socialists, republicans and reformists) and the unrest of the working classes, due to the privations of the economic crisis.

The dissatisfaction in the army is due to what is held to be favoritism, certain officers receiving advancement through court influence. It is claimed by the Officers' Committees that the King is aiming to form a personal party in the army on which he can rely for events. A second reason for discontent is the insufficiency of officers' pay and the need for technical reorganization in the army.
