SHASTA CASE WILL BE RE-ARGUED SOON

Salem, Aug. 25.—The public service commission Thursday received notice that the Shasta arbitrary case has been set for hearing in Seattle before Examiner Marshall of the interstate commerce commission, at 10 o'clock a. m., September 17. This is the case brought by the Washington public service commission against the Southern Pacific and other railroads to compel them to discontinue discriminating against the Pacific Northwest by charging $17.50 more for round trip fares from the east to the coast over the northern routes than is charged over the southern routes.

The Grants Pass commercial club now the Chamber of Commerce, was a party to this action and has been notified of the hearing at Seattle in September. The Chamber will watch the developments of the case, keeping in touch with the Washington commercial bodies who are pressing the action, and will give any assistance.

RICE IMPORTANT IN SOLDIERS' RATIONS

Fort Collins, Colo., Aug. 25.—The average food ration of a Sammy in the field is 4200 calories a day. Rice has a food value of 1630 calories per pound. Therefore, according to C. E. Vail, statistic shark of the Colorado Aggie College, who estimates an average of three pounds of rice is thrown at each newly married couple, one Sammy could be maintained for a day on the waste. He advocates substitution of stones and bricks for the food product.

KANSAS CITY HOST TO MANY CATHOLICS

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 25.—Ten archbishops, including the papal delegate; 24 bishops; heads and instructors of several Catholic universities; representatives of every Catholic diocese in the United States and nearly 2000 laymen and delegates are here for the annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies which beginning tomorrow continues for five days.

The meeting is regarded as one of the greatest gatherings of Catholics in the country's history, nearly all members of the American hierarchy being in attendance.

ance in its power. It is not believed the matter is of enough importance to this community, however, for the sending of a special representative to this hearing.

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS
UNDER IMPEACHMENT

Austin, Texas, Aug. 25.—James E. Ferguson was suspended from the office of governor of Texas tonight, when the board of nine managers named by the house of representatives presented to the senate 21 articles of impeachment, alleging official misconduct.

W. P. Hobby, lieutenant-governor, automatically succeeded to the governorship, pending disposition of the charges in the senate. The senate formally designated next Wednesday as the time for beginning the trial.

GARY SAYS WEALTH WILL PAY ITS SHARE

Seattle, Aug. 25.—Capital is willing to contribute its full share toward the conduct of the war and bear a just portion of war burdens, as long as the expense is equitably distributed.

This was the statement made here today by Judge Elbert Gary, chairman of the Board of Directors of the United Steel Corporation.

MECHANIC IS HEIR TO HALF MILLION

Port Angeles, Wash., Aug. 25.—Suddenly wealthy through the gift of $500,000 from an 82-year-old uncle in Los Angeles, Fred Kellogg, expert machinist, today is working as usual in a local cannery.

The gift of the half million was more or less of a surprise to Kellogg, who has lived here for 25 years. He was called to Los Angeles last spring on account of the serious illness of his uncle. After his return he received a telegram that the aged relative had decided to give him a fortune.

Kellogg rejoices principally because it will enable him to give his children good educations. He insists, however, that each one of his sons shall receive practical training in a trade.

BRITISH AMERICANS
ENLIST IN CANADA

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 25.—Hundreds of Britishers residing in the United States have come to Victoria and Vancouver since the United States entered the war to enlist in Canadian units.

Scores of patriotic Canadians and Britishers have paid their own expenses from Los Angeles and San Francisco to apply for enlistment in units being organized here. Most of these recruits come from California cities.

Recruiting offices opened in Pacific Coast states from Seattle to San Diego by General W. A. White are expected to reduce the number of recruits here from the states.

COAST ROAD SHOULD WAIT

not spend its money on that route until it is properly located.

"This matter is entirely up to the counties through which the road runs—Josephine county, Oregon, and Del Norte county, California—and these two counties have not thus far come together on a right of way. When they agree to meet on a new location and put their plans forward definitely, the state then probably will be in a position to do its share.

"The road from Coos Bay to Roseburg over the Myrtle Point-Camas valley route as in fairly good shape, except about 20 miles over the mountains. The traffic over this road has been heavy and it has been cut up rather badly. The state will do some work on this road in the near future, and will also lay some hard surface along the newly completed grades between Marshfield and Coquille. This road from Coos Bay to Roseburg is highly important, from a commercial standpoint."

County Roadmaster Yeon, who accompanied Mr. Benson, was a little more enthusiastic, saying that the development of the coast route from Coos Bay south would be one of the state's greatest assets, making it as much of a tourist resort as California.

"With the completion of the Pacific Highway and its connections with a coast road, including the stretch between Coos Bay and Crescent City," he said, "the Pacific coast will have a 1500-mile highway from Seattle through Washington and Oregon to Los Angeles that will challenge the whole world for an equal."

"The completion of these roads will, I predict, make Portland as important from a tourist standpoint in the summer as Los Angeles is in the winter time."

SAMMIES CREATING A FAVORABLE IMPRESSION

Paris, Aug. 3 (By Mail).—The military critic of the Paris daily "L'Intransigeant" gives an enthusiastic account of the American troops now training near the front. After paying an admiring tribute to "Sammy's" physical attractions, he cites a French captain, who is instructor in the American camp, as proof that Sammy is as good as he looks when it comes to work:

"These American boys are surprising us the way they are catching on. One feels at once that they are in dead earnest to learn all we can teach them about methods of fighting. Every device has an absorbing interest for them. We have only to give them a demonstration. They repeat right away with hardly a mistake.

"You see that lot over there? They are learning to dig modern trenches and the sergeant who is supervising them, handles them exactly the same as if they were his own 'poules.' Another thing which strikes us about them, is their astonishing docility with regard to their French instructors. Nothing in their behavior denotes the 'saviours of France.' On the contrary, their sole idea for the moment seems to be to become disciplined pupils.

"This sign of their confidence in us has touched us deeply. They are all burning with impatience to make themselves useful. Already they have taken over all the auxiliary services in this region, guarding of bridges, railroads and construction of shelters. There's nothing of the amateur about 'Sammy' and he is proving it every day."
