PEACE WANTED

The answers of the central powers to the proposal for peace made by Pope Benedict, are not surprising. It was pretty well understood all along that the pope's suggestion was inspired in central Europe. The whole move is a play to prepare the home people of those nations for a step toward peace without the accomplishments of the aims which their governments have repeatedly stated must be attained before peace was possible.

The kaiser knows that the tide of war has turned. His government realizes that there is now arrayed against them a combination of determined peoples who can never be conquered. To them it is a question of obtaining the best possible peace terms and as quickly as can be done without jeopardizing the maintenance of power by the present dynasties.

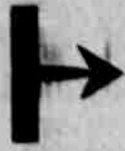

Both in man power and banking credits, the central powers are nearing the end of their resources; and realize it. With the United States throwing into the balance banking resources nearly equal to the combined reserves of all other belligerent countries, Germany sees nothing but failure ahead. With her, it is a question whether that end shall mean utter ruin with a democratic Germany, or a peace which will save to the Hohenzollerns a united nation still able to be a serious competitor in international affairs.

The diver campaign is not producing the expected results. As ship building by the allies is rapidly on the increase, the submarine toll is weekly showing a decrease. Germany wants peace; and from now on her internal policies will be marked by adroit attempts to prepare her people for the inevitable result and to keep them in a mood that will permit the holding of a firm hand by the present military bureaucracy.

Austria is probably in worse case than Germany. There is no attempt on the part of the government to disguise the fact that she wants peace. She is facing national disruption. An early peace is her only salvation. Her people are beginning to realize that she is playing the part of a cat's paw for Germany.

So long as the central powers cling to the ambitions of their present rulers, the thing most calculated to bring peace is frequent sledge-hammer blows by the armies of the allies, such as Haig's men inflicted last Friday near Ypres. German plotting and hypocrisy may succeed in deceiving her own people, but never the governments arrayed against her in a struggle for world-wide democracy.

KINNEY & TRUAX GROCERY

QUALITY FIRST

If one could look into many of the homes of Josephine county these days, he would be inclined to change the motto of the day to "Do Your Knit." For the women are knitting. The order for 150 sets of five pieces each to be knitted by the good women of the local Red Cross chapter, means millions upon millions of thrusts of the knitting needles; and the work is under way. There is not a woman in the county who cannot spare a few minutes of each day to "Do Her Knit."

GOLD HILL MINE IS OPTIONED BY TWOHYS

Gold Hill, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—The American Exploration company, of Grants Pass, Ore., a Twohy Bros. concern, have taken an option on the Galls Creek M. & D. company's placer grounds on Galls creek three miles south of Gold Hill. The ground is being exploited by a small crew of men with J. Mattison of Grants Pass as superintendent. The premises consists of 200 acres with valuable water rights, and has been mined successfully since the year 1851.

TELEPHONE COMPANY REBUILDING LINES

Gold Hill, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—The Pacific States Telephone company, who are rebuilding their toll line through the county to the Oregon-California state line have assembled five car loads of poles, cook and bunk wagons, and large quantities of supplies at Gold Hill for constructing the line in this district. Construction crews are working both north and south of this city closing the gap, which will be completed before the first of the year. The new line passes on the south side of Rogue river opposite of Gold Hill, leading up Kanee creek via of the old stage road up the valley. The new route will eliminate all curves and angles, and be safely away from the high-power line which parallels the old route over Blackwell hill and through Toio.

WAR TIME MENU IN PORTLAND HOTELS

Portland, Sept. 24.—The restaurants and hotels of this city will try tomorrow to put into effect the menus requested by Herbert Hoover, food administrator. The menus will undertake to serve war bread and conserve wheat flour, beef, mutton and pork. Patrons of the dining rooms will be faced with neat little white cards asking them to refrain from ordering white bread on Wednesdays of each week and not to order meat on Tuesdays. In their stead, palatable and nutritious substitutes will be served.

SCOUTS ASKED TO AID LIBERTY BOND SALE

New York, Sept. 24.—Boy Scouts of America have been asked by President Wilson to give their assistance to the coming second liberty loan campaign. "The gratifying achievement of boy scouts with the aid of their scout masters in obtaining over $23,000,000 subscriptions to the first liberty loan, will serve, I hope, to make their work even more effective in the new effort," the president wrote. "My earnest wish is that every scout leader give every boy scout an opportunity to take a definite part in this practical method of giving expression to his second obligation of service to our country."

It was announced at the organization's headquarters that the scouts will take no part in the canvass until the last week, when they make a house-to-house canvass.

MAKE APPLE BUTTER AND SAVE FOOD BILL

Washington, Sept. 24.—As a final drive on fruit preserving the United States department of agriculture urges the making of home made fruit butters.

Various fruit butters recommended are apple butter with cider, apple butter without cider, apple butter with grape juice, apple butter with lemons, pear butter, peach butter, plum butter, and Garfield butter made with plums and peaches. With the exception of a good preserving kettle very little equipment is needed for the preparation of such butters.

There is no better way to use good apples, says the department, than to make them into butter. The peeled and sliced apples may be cooked in the boiled cider or they may be first made into apple sauce which is then cooked in elder. It usually takes about equal quantities of sweet cider and sliced apples to make butter of the right consistency. In other words, 2 gallons of sweet cider should be boiled down to 1 gallon, and 2 gallons of the prepared apples should be added to it either uncooked or as apple sauce. The two essentials of good apple butter are long slow cooking—from 4 to 6 hours—and frequent stirring. If sugar is used, it should be added after the cooking is about two-thirds done. About 1 pound of sugar is the usual proportion for each gallon of apple butter, but more or less may be used to suit the taste. The butter may be spiced with cinnamon, cloves and allspice, or with any one of the three, the spices being stirred in when the cooking is finished.

While still boiling hot the butter should be packed in sterilized glass receptacles, or in stone jars, with thorough precautions against spoiling as with any other preserves.

Without Cider
Good apple butter may be made without cider. In this case enough water is added to make a thin apple sauce. Brown sugar rather than white sugar is ordinarily used. If a grape flavor is desired, it may be obtained by the use of grape juice in the proportion of one pound to each gallon of the peeled and sliced apples. There should also be added a cup of brown sugar and 1/4 teaspoonful salt. When the desired thickness is obtained, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon is stirred in.
Pear butter is made like apple butter without the cider.

AERIAL HIGHWAY IS BEING MAPPED OUT

New York, Sept. 24.—The Aero Club of America has named the transcontinental airway from New York to San Francisco the "Woodrow Wilson Aerial Highway," and has received the president's approval of the same.

It was announced that the plans for making the map of this highway will be considered immediately by the club's committee on aeronautic maps and landing places, and that various governmental, commercial scientific bodies will be invited to carry out the project as soon as possible.

The Aerial highway, it is proposed, in addition to running in a straight line from coast to coast, will have connecting branches extending north and south of the main airway and reaching every important city from Maine to Puget sound.

USE WOMEN PICKERS IN APPLE ORCHARDS

Hood River, Sept. 24.—Apple growers of this section are planning to employ women to a large extent in picking the coming crop.

R. P. Bonham, of the United States immigration bureau, said today: "It should be borne in mind that men are scarce, and, therefore, women must be employed more than heretofore. You should reconcile yourself to this fact and govern yourself accordingly."

It is suggested that if your help is satisfactory this year you secure their names and addresses and invite them to return next year. You are in a permanent business and your labor problem is important and may be vital to you next year."
