PORTLAND SOCIETY STARTS HOOVERIZING

Portland, Oct. 29.—"Hooverizing" at social functions got an auspicious start in Portland when the simplest of refreshments, with a strong "war flavor" were served by Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, a recognized social leader, at her reception to Madame S. Akamatu, wife of the Japanese consul here. The edibles consisted of sandwiches made of dark bread with fillings of vegetables and fish, unsweetened brown cakes and tea. Informality and simple fare, it is said, will characterize most society luncheons and receptions here this winter.

Madame Akamatu bid fair to be a favorite guest at such affairs.

HENRY MORGENTHAU MAY VISIT PORTLAND

Portland, Oct. 29.—Henry Morgenthau, former United States ambassador to Turkey, will be in Oregon sometime during November, bringing a message from war-torn Europe, according to word received here by Ben Sellag and Rabbi Wise. Mr. Morgenthau has offered to contribute one million dollars to a fund for the relief of Jewish sufferers in the various warring countries, on condition that five million is raised throughout the United States, to make a ten million dollar relief fund in all. He will come to the coast leaving New York November 19, to speak in behalf of this relief work.

Sometime ago Mr. Morgenthau was recalled from his post in Turkey to accept a place in the federal banking system.

JEROME PRAIRIE

A pleasant evening was spent at the Vocational school on Saturday, October 13th, when the celebrating of the birthdays of Miss Fox and C. G. Voorhies took place. A large crowd was present and all enjoyed the talks of Mr. Voorhies on "Why I am glad I was born," of Mr. Wylberg on the Red Cross work and Mr. West on the subject of the New Jerusalem, besides short talks by Mr. Byington, Mrs. Voorhies and Mrs. West. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. W. W. Walker and refreshments were served to all those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Harmon returned Saturday from a camping trip in the hills and report a pleasant time.

Joe Breazeale, of Selma, was calling on Jerome Prairie friends Sunday.

Dr. Loughridge was called to the C. J. Armstrong home on Tuesday when Mrs. Armstrong had an attack of paralysis. She is improved at this writing.

J. R. Tucker and family were visitors on the Prairie Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Melvina Fox, relatives of Mrs. Voorhies, were visitors at the Vocational school last week.

Saxons.

Saxon is from "seax," a sword, and so the "Men of the Sword" in the early days the Saxons took for themselves such names as "Bloody Ax," "Skull Cleaver," "Death's Head," names which in no way belied their original character. The "berserker race" of the old Vikings spread death and destruction all around the coasts which they haunted, and by the terror of their name they led the Christians to put into their litany the prayer, "Deliver us, O Lord, from the fury of the Northmen."

MAGIC GAS

Read what one man who has thoroughly tested Magic Gas has to say about it. Several others who are using it are getting the same results.

Mr. Chas. Mee, Applegate, Ore.

Dear Sir: I have used your magic gas for two months now constantly and have secured splendid results. I have increased mileage per gallon a little more than five miles, entirely dispensed with foul plugs and in many ways my machine is rendering me greater efficiency. I feel that the investment is a profitable one. Yours truly, A. B. Cornell.

You can save money too by using Magic Gas: $2 per quart, equal in value to 50 gallons gasoline. For sale by Chas. Mee, Applegate, and M. Clemens, the Rexall Store. 07

DEALING IN STOCKS.

Know What You Are Buying Before Investing Your Money.

We hear of fortunes quickly made in Wall street, of miners who have accumulated enormous wealth by a lucky strike, of inventors that have made inventors rich. But how many of these instances are there? Just a few, while countless thousands and hundreds of thousands have lost everything in unsuccessful ventures.

The prosperous, successful man or woman is the one who buys with knowledge of what he or she is buying, whether it be a piece of beef, a dozen eggs, a horse, a house or stocks and bonds.

Money has been made in Wall street and will continue to be made. Those who buy stocks when they sell low and sell them when they advance must make money. The operation is no different from buying a house or a farm at a bargain and selling it at a profit. But one should exercise just as much care in one transaction as in the other.

Have nothing to do with those who offer glittering opportunities to get rich quickly. This will save your money. It may sound very nice to say that one owns a thousand shares of a gold, silver or copper mine with a par value of $10,000 and that cost the holder only $50 or $100. But what use is such a certificate unless it has real value? Better put the $50 or $100 in one share of a dividend paying stock and be satisfied with moderate returns and a moderate profit on any advance the stock may enjoy.—Leslie's Weekly.

HOLES IN MACARONI.

Did You Ever Wonder How the Dough Was Put Around Them?

Haven't you often asked, "How do they get the holes in macaroni?" Yes, you undoubtedly have, and unless you have visited a macaroni factory you are probably still in doubt. Interesting methods are employed in bringing this food into the form in which it is placed before the public.

After the dough has been well mixed and kneaded in a powerful machine it is ready to form into macaroni, which is of a tube shape about one-fourth inch in diameter, or spaghetti, which is a solid stick shape, of about one-eighth inch in diameter. This is done by forcing the dough under hydraulic pressure through a cylinder with a flat circular bronze die or mold at the bottom. The macaroni die is full of holes about one-fourth inch in diameter, and each hole has a small pin in the center of it, which is attached to one side of the hole. This pin forms the hole in the macaroni and divides the dough on one side as it starts through the hole, but before the dough reaches the end of the hole the divided side comes together and remains so, making a perfect tube. The spaghetti die contains only plain holes about one-eighth inch in diameter arranged in groups. When macaroni and spaghetti come from the presses or cylinders they are cut into certain lengths, the length depending upon whether the curing or drying is to be done on trays or by hanging over rods.—Exchange.

Here Are Two Kinds of Education.

In an article called "Increase Your Driving Power" in the American Magazine a writer says:

"George Taft, a brother of the former president, once told me that he never considered a man as educated just because he could talk a long time and answer a lot of questions about a given subject, but that he did consider him as educated if set down before some hard, unknown subject or task he could in two hours make something out of it. Judge Daly, brother of Augustin Daly, once told me that he and his brother at the ages of twelve and fourteen years were left as the sole supporters of their widowed mother.

"That," the judge said, "I consider about as good an education as a boy can be given."

Our Climate an Asset.

On no other continent, under no other sun, in no other zone, in all the world can be found the same extent of fertile, available agricultural land as in these United States. And in no other equally large tract as that stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific and between the great lakes and the gulf can be duplicated, the same amount of normally good weather as nature has bestowed on this favored land. Our rain and sunshine are so proportioned the one to the other as to produce the best yearly conditions on earth.—Detroit Free Press.

Our Platinum Product.

The United States produces platinum as a byproduct of copper refineries and also from most of the placer gold mines of the western slopes. Its occurrence there is very widespread, being found along the entire west coast, from Alaska to California. Except in a very few localities, however, it is found in such small quantities that its recovery save as a byproduct is not profitable.—Exchange.

Holy Land Earthquakes.

Earthquakes more or less violent have been of frequent occurrence in Palestine. One of the most violent occurred in the reign of Uziah. This was connected by Josephus with the sacrilege and punishment of that monarch.

Often Well Hidden.

"A woman can never keep anything to herself," said Danbo to his wife, who had been repeating something to her neighbor's wife.

"Oh, yes, she can," said Mrs. Danbo sweetly.

"I'd like to know what it is?" he growled.

"It's her real and private opinion of her husband."—London Tri-Bits.

A Fine Deal.

"I had a fine deal today," "That so, my dear? What was it?" "You know Jiggs & Jiggs' store, where I always paid cash for everything I bought?" "Yes." "Well, they let me open a charge account, and now I shall have more money to spend on myself."—Detroit Free Press.

A Fair Chance

Every man owes himself a fair chance.

He owes his business a fair chance.

Because his business is the machinery through which he pays himself for his work.

A fair chance means that he gives his business every known opportunity to flourish.

Business is like gardening.

The gardener who picks out the shady corners for his sun-loving plants doesn't give them a fair chance to turn into food and flowers.

The business which keeps its offerings in the dark doesn't give them a fair chance to turn into dollars.

The man who expects the public to come to him without telling it what to come to him for isn't doing himself justice.

A fair chance means, among other things, turning on the sunlight,—the sunlight of publicity.

PROSPERITY ENJOYED BY ALASKAN NATIVES

Seattle, Oct. 29.—The native Alaska women are now so prosperous that they are wearing high, white-topped shoes and silk and satin party gowns, according to J. L. McPherson, manager of the Alaska bureau of Seattle Chamber of Commerce, who has just returned from a six weeks' trip to the north.

Mr. McPherson reports that the present fad of the Ketchikan natives is taxicab riding, in which entire families participate at a tax of $3 an hour. The seven taxis at Ketchikan are paying excess profits.

To bid good-bye to him on the southbound passenger steamer, Mr. McPherson says an entire family of natives rode down to the dock, alighted and seriously shook hands with him, wishing him bon-voyage, re-entered their car and the head of the family airily waved to the chauffeur, "Home James."

As a result of record prices being paid at the canneries for salmon the aborigines are enjoying a prosperity comparable with that of the early

Klondike days. Alaska's copper mines are being worked to maximum capacity.
