have made their cause our cause. Their defeat would mean our defeat. Anything which strengthens their hands will hasten the victorious ending of the struggle. The military and civil leaders of certain of our allies have made it clear that there is no one way in which America can help their cause more than by plac-because of the direct and vital bearing which the work of the association has in accomplishing the purpose of the war. Napoleon has said that in war morale is to other factors as three to one. Each day the warring countries are spending over $139,000,000 to supply what might be called the material factors and forces. This budget calls for devoting less than one-third that sum among over one-half of the soldiers of the war, and this not in one day but in nine months. America wisely and generously subscribed over $120,000,000 to the Red Cross in response to the first appeal. This work of the association, calling for less than one-third of that amount, ministers not only like the Red Cross to the physical comfort of the enlisted men and to the military prisoners, but also to their intellectual and spiritual natures—in other words, to their morale.

The organization for Josephine county has been completed with T. P. Cramer as county chairman. All committee heads and team captains eagerly await the opening of the campaign for it is the consensus of opinion that the quota of $2,500 for Josephine county will be greatly oversubscribed.

been arrested by the revolutionary committee.

"M. Kerensky has taken flight and all military bodies have been empowered to take all possible measures to arrest Kerensky and bring him back to Petrograd. All complicity with Kerensky will be dealt with as high treason."

Nikolai Lenin was introduced by Trotsky as an "old, old comrade whom we welcome back."

Lenin said:

"Now we have a revolution. The peasants and workmen control the government. This is only a preliminary step toward a similar revolution everywhere."

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 9.—In an address here tonight Boris A. Bakmetieff, the Russian ambassador, declared that if Russia is to achieve her political freedom, the Maximalists who revolted against the Kerensky provisional government at Petrograd, must be overthrown. Immediate peace, such as the Maximalists propose, he said, could result only in Russian oppression.

While not attempting to belittle the gravity of the situation in the Russian capital, Ambassador Bakmetieff said the Maximalist revolt was a revolt of the few against the many.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Discouragement felt here over the news of the overthrow of the Kerensky government at Petrograd is tempered by the hope that the extreme radicals who have seized the capital may not be able to extend their control over the army or any considerable part of the country. However, it is feared that much blood must be shed and the nation further demoralized before any power rises above the tur-

DULL AND SHARP SHOOTING PAINS

Michigan Lady Suffered Such Pains In Back and Head, But Says Cardui Stopped These Bad Spells.

Palmyra, Mich.—Mrs. Chas. T. Fuller, of this place, writes: "In 1911 I got run-down, and I suffered great pain...with both dull and sharp shooting pains...also back and head. I was weak and could only drag around, and should have been in bed, for I really wasn't able to be up. At times I would have spells that would be so bad I'd have to go to bed, and suffered intensely..."

I decided to try Cardui, and saw a great improvement in less than a month's time. I used 7 or 8 bottles and was stronger...I got so much better that my strength returned and my work was easy for me. Cardui did me a world of good. It built me up in health and strength. I haven't had one of those bad spells since. I haven't had to take any more medicine since or have any doctors either and have been able to do my work right along...I recommend it to other women highly as the best medicine I know of for women who suffer from female trouble."

If you suffer from female troubles, follow this advice. Get a bottle of Cardui today and give it a thorough trial. It should help you, as it has helped thousands of other women in the past 40 years. At all druggists.

meal strong enough to control the situation.

The state department and the Russian embassy here were without official advice tonight, consequently there was no official comment on the situation.

Informally, it was pointed out that with the telegraph lines and semi-official News Agency at Petrograd in the hands of the radicals, it would be difficult to learn the true state of affairs, although there was no disposition to question the collapse of the provisional government's power in the capital.

BRITISH ADVANCING IN MESOPOTAMIA

London, October 7.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The occupation of Ramadiah has carried the British Mesopotamia army some 30 miles upstream from its previous outpost at Eelaja. This is the distance measured as the crow flies, but it is nearly double that distance by the winding Euphrates. The British convoys, though moving by day, pass each other in the darkness of a London fog, and the white dust which covers the faces of the Arabian porters gives them the ashen complexion of circus clowns.

On the right bank of the Euphrates the flat alluvial soil of the delta is left behind and one comes to the first low dunes and pebbly ridges, while the roads are better and easier. It was on ground of this nature that the battle of Ramadiah was fought.

The British troops showed themselves in excellent condition, after their long march, being put through a two days manoeuvre battle after a night march. The heat, however, was no longer oppressive. The nights are now fresh and cold and the health of the force is excellent.

When the British forces entered Ramadiah, they found many signs of the confusion and surprise of the Turkish forces. The British eye-witness, writing from Ramadiah, says: "A deep gully west of the town was strewn with miscellaneous litter for half a mile, including pack-saddles, furniture, books, suit-cases, and office paraphernalia. Forty horses and baggage animals have been collected and some 30 camels."
