FALSEHOODS AGAINST THE RED CROSS ARE NAILED

Inasmuch as false reports are circulated occasionally concerning the sale of Red Cross supplies to individuals, and salaries being paid and scholarships rendered, the local Red Cross chapter wants to go on record as branding these stories false and in most instances maliciously circulated to injure the Red Cross cause. No salaries have been paid, no scholarships have been given away, no rugs have been furnished anyone, no socks being sold to individuals, and the public are requested to take notice of those who circulate these false reports and report the facts to the chairman of the chapter or the chairman of the military relief committee. The government is trying very hard to find the source of such stories.

GRANDMA WILLIAMS WONDERFUL KNITTER

The Grants Pass Red Cross chapter recently sent a shipment of knitted garments to headquarters, among which were three sweaters made by Mrs. Williams, "Grandma" Williams, as she is generally called, who is 82 years old. The local chapter considered them the most beautifully made sweaters the members had ever seen and the chapter is much gratified to have had Mrs. Williams' work appreciated at headquarters as shown by the letter of acknowledgement received a few days ago, in which they were described as the three wonderful sweaters. A remarkable feature of Mrs. Williams' knitting is its rapidity. She made each sweater in from eight to ten days.

SOCIAL

The Golden Rule class of the M. E. church gave a party Friday evening at the home of their teacher, Mrs. J. M. Isham on Washington boulevard. A very enjoyable time was had by those present. Singing of patriotic songs, games and other amusements were indulged in. Refreshments, cookies and cocoa were served to the following, Edith Spaulding, Dock Childers, Dorris Condit, Howard Young, Vera Johnson, Lyle Wimer, Arda Isham, Glenn Howard, Helen Smith, Frank Wilcox, Velda Rader and Louise English.

The Honor Guard dance to be held next Wednesday night is to be an even more enjoyable affair than the past dances have been. A floor committee has been appointed from among the girls, this will assure every one attending of an opportunity of meeting new dancing partners. The patronesses for the dance are Mrs. Hough, Mrs. Upson, Mrs. Heriman, Mrs. Stonaker and Mrs. Cass.

OLD TIME FAVORITE NEVER TIRES PUBLIC

The history of the American stage does not record a more enduring success than that achieved by "In Old Kentucky," which will be seen at the opera house on Tuesday, December 6th. Notwithstanding its marvelous career of many years, it goes on delighting thousands, as strong in popular esteem as in the first year of its existence. From Maine to California, from British Columbia to Mexico, from the British Isles, from France, and even from far-off Australia come resounding echoes of its enduring popularity. In every city its annual visit is looked for with pleasurable anticipation. It is beyond question, the only purely American play of our time that will endure. It is the sweetest and prettiest story of American life ever written for the stage. It is as pure, clean and wholesome as the clear crystal spring water which trickles down the rugged sides of the Kentucky mountains, to give life and vigor to the beautiful blue-grass region below, where the stirring scenes of the play are laid. Pure sentiment, valorous deeds, romance, humor, splendid clean-cut comedy are combined with keen dramatic instinct. In the faithful drawing of these characters of our own country and of our own time, and the faithful portrayal of a phase of American life hitherto neglected by the dramatist that have made "In Old Kentucky" the greatest popular success of this generation, and that is why it will go on forever delighting thousands.

JAMES H. COLLINS

James H. Collins, for 15 years a widely known writer on business subjects, has charge of the food administration's publicity handled through trade papers.

The Gardinians.
Sardinia was a wild place in the middle of the last century. A traveler says: "The men are clothed in goat-skins, one before and another behind, without breeches, shoes or stockings, and a woollen or skin cap on the head. The women have no other habiliments than a long woollen gown and a woollen cap. The peasants always go armed to defend themselves from one another, so that traveling in the interior is extremely unsafe without an escort, and it is even dangerous for ships to send their people on shore for water unless they are well armed. In some of the Saries are the Malays of the Mediterranean."

The Bauer Piano

(Established 1837)

with its new system of construction marks an epoch in the development of the upright piano.

Its tone quality and tone durability are a revelation and mark it as the greatest up right ever built.
