WORRY AND ILLNESS LEAD TO A SUICIDE

Willard Meals, a well known resident of this county, committed suicide by shooting himself in the forehead with a rifle about 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

Meals was one of the Meals Bros. who had lived for a number of years on a ranch between the ferry and Merlin. He had later lived in this city where he was employed as watchman at the old Warren box factory. During his stay here, he and his brother had lived together. A long spell of semi-illness had led him into a thoroughly discouraged condition. He was worrying somewhat about a matter of certain machinery which was stored in the factory and the owners of which had requested permission to remove. Meals had refused to permit this without specific instructions from his employers. A telegram was received only a few hours after he committed the rash act, giving such permission.

Meals had risen apparently as usual Sunday morning, but soon after left the front door with his rifle in his hands. As he stepped off the porch, he dropped a note addressed to his brother telling of his intention to shoot himself and asking his brother's forgiveness for his step.

Letters that will please you, at the Courier.

Westminster Abbey. All visitors to London make it a point to visit the famous Westminster abbey. But in reality there is no such place as Westminster abbey, because the abbey disappeared many, many years ago. What they see now is the church that used to belong to the abbey, and the proper name for this building is the Collegiate Church of St. Peter. They keep up the old name Westminster abbey because people like it, just as they keep the blood stains in the Tower freshened up with paint now and then.

NEW YEARS GREETINGS

If you haven't been wearing earmuffs for the past several weeks you must have heard a lot of talk about the wonderful pictures being shown at the Bijou. There's a reason.

For one thing we have secured the best photoplays that are on the market. For another thing we have the best, steadiest projection possible to be obtained. There is no eye strain, no fatigue in Bijou pictures. A fault finder can't find very much to his liking at the Bijou. We please only those who want the very best.

We are happy this week as we have secured for the year 1918 the entire output of the Art Craft, Paramount and Triangle pictures, as there are none better, which will please every one who wants to see good pictures. Selecting pictures to please all the people is some job. If it weren't for the people who tell us, as they pass out each night, "there's what I call a real picture," "best thing you ever had," I don't know what I would do.

We hope that every patron of the Bijou feels that we are trying to pick the best pictures on the market and the ones that will please. We want you to feel that any night you come to the Bijou you will be entertained and enjoy yourself.

Don't forget to tell us when you pass out if you like the show. Seeing a good picture is like reading a book that cost you one dollar for 20 cents.

You also help the boys at the front as we pay the war tax.

In closing we wish our patrons and all a happy and prosperous new year.
