Pay enough for quality in your spring clothes

"Pay enough" refers to the good of you men who buy—not the man who sells. It means the price of all-wool fabrics, fine tailoring, good style—those things are absolutely necessary for long wear and satisfaction.

In Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes you get these qualities you need for less than you can get them anywhere else.

C. A. SIDLER SEEKS LEGISLATIVE HONOR

C. A. Sidler, one of Josephine county's prominent attorneys, has at the earnest solicitation of a number of the taxpayers of Josephine county, consented to allow his name to be used as a candidate for representative of Josephine county in the next session of the legislature. Mr. Sidler has been a resident and taxpayer of Josephine county for the past 10 years and is intimately acquainted with the needs of this part of Oregon. He said today that the next session of the legislature will be one of the most important because of war conditions, and that if elected he intended to see that needful laws pertaining to irrigation and mining were enacted. In speaking about the embargo on cars for chrome he said he intended, unless the embargo was withdrawn, to demand its withdrawal in the name of the state of Oregon.

G. P. HOME GUARD HAS 80 MEMBERS ON ROLL

There are now 80 names on the roll of the Grants Pass home guard. Wednesday night organizers met and held an election for the three principal officers, captain, first and second lieutenant, F. B. Olding receiving the election as captain and Fred A. Williams and Ralph Davis being named first and second lieutenants.

Application was made today to the adjutant general for a supply of rifles and ammunition, which it is thought will be supplied without delay, and drilling will be commenced in earnest. The company will meet every Monday night at the court house for drill and other drill nights will be named later.

A majority of the men signed up have already been sworn in as deputy sheriffs and all others will be sworn in during the week.

Captain Olding has had eight years of national guard service, three years in the Minnesota guard and five years in the guard of South Dakota, holding non-commissioned offices and commissioned offices up to captain.

First Lieutenant Williams has had eight years military training, two years as cadet in preparatory school, four years in the University of Iowa and two years in the Dodge Light Guards at Council Bluffs, Ia.

Second Lieutenant Davis was a member of the militia company which was in existence in Grants Pass in 1899 and later.

Non commissioned officers will be appointed later.

Period of Rest Coming.

See the studious young man. How solemn he is. His brow overhangs like the back of a snapping turtle, and he is as ominous as the first mutterings of an earthquake. He burns the midnight oil in great quantities, poring over ponderous tomes until he is worn almost to skin and bones. But never mind, he will presently have ample opportunity to rest. In a short while he will be admitted to the bar, and after that he will not have anything to do.—Kansas City Star.

GAS COMPANY ASKS CHANGE OF RATES

Fred A. Rasch, of Portland, utilities engineer and gas expert connected with the public service commission of Oregon is in the city today and will remain here during the week with headquarters at Hotel Josephine. Mr. Rasch is here to make a valuation of the physical property of the Oregon Gas & Electric company, which company has asked for a readjustment of rates in Grants Pass.

April 3 has been set as the date for a public hearing and it is expected that Frank J. Miller, H. H. Corey and Fred Butchel, members of the commission, will be at the meeting, which will be held at the court house.

Mr. Rasch states that he will investigate complaints which are brought to his attention and which come under the province of the commission, as, he says, the commission aims to serve the public at all times.

"If Men Wear It, We Have It"

ANYBODY CAN MAKE MISTAKES

Everybody Able to Blunder, But Few Are Willing to Frankly Admit They Have Made an Error.

Mistakes are things anybody can make successfully.

I have known people, writes Strickland Gillilan, in Farm Life, who seemed to fall at every other kind of manufacturing who could make as splendid specimens of mistakes as one could wish to see.

Yes, and do it easy!

I have made mistakes.

Yep, I have.

I used to think I made none.

Now I list that think as one of the biggest mistakes I ever made or knew about.

Those days I find myself wondering if I am not the fellow who invented them.

Sometimes a fellow takes a mistake that nobody else would take, and afterward finds out it was a mistake.

Anybody under twenty never admits that he has made a mistake.

And he is usually honest about it.

If anything goes wrong, blame it onto someone else.

After twenty-five he begins to think of a few he made when he was eleven.

By the time he is forty-five he will forget the mistakes he made in early youth because, in looking back over the trail, the little ones of childhood are completely hid by the whoppers he has made since he was thirty-five.

I don't know why people have to make mistakes.

But they are built that way.

I believe I never made the same mistake twice.

This encourages me.

For as I look back over a mistake-dotted career I believe I have reached the point at which I cannot make any mistakes without repeating.

But that may be a mistake.

Qualified Explanation.

The teacher had asked the children to tell her something about giants, when one little boy blurted out: "A giant is an awfully great—oh, big, big man—" and then a pause and, fearing some one would think he believed in them, quickly added: "But most everybody knows there isn't any!"

WATCH FOR IT

There will be an explanatory letter in Friday's issue of the daily, and also the weekly Courier in regard to the accusations set forth in the petition in circulation now.

14 C. G. GILLETTE.

Tremendous Speed.

Fulminate of mercury, which is used as the original detonating charge in torpedoes, expands at a furious rate. A writer in the Illustrated World makes a comparison between this rate of expansion and an express train traveling at the rate of 90 miles an hour.

"Fulminate," he says, "21,000 feet a second—instead of the 80 feet a second made by a mile-a-minute train—and you will know why fulminate of mercury going off in your hand will carry a finger with it and yet not burn your coat." That is the ultimate in speed.
