

GIRL HAS COUSIN INTERNED

Said He Was Trying to Join the German Navy.

There is one enemy alien less at large in the country as the result of the patriotism of a Bismarck (N. D.) girl. Frank Peters, alias Peter Hansen, has gone to Fort McPherson, Ga., for internment in a federal prison camp instead of doing his bit for the kaiser as a member of a U-boat crew, because Miss Mary Burkman was courageous enough to report him, even though he was her own cousin.

Peters was arrested as he was about to board a Northern Pacific train on the first lap of his journey to Germany. He had boasted to his cousin that he would soon be back in the fatherland serving on one of the kaiser's submarines.

When Miss Burkman assured him she would not permit him to leave America for such a purpose, he reminded her of their blood ties, threatened her and declared she dare not report him. There was a brief struggle in Miss Burkman's heart, but it was very brief and her country won.

Don't Like Kaiser's Face.

When the War Mothers met in the assembly room of the library at Bedford, Ind., they found a picture of the kaiser exposed on a table, possibly placed there by a joker. The War Mothers tore the picture into small pieces and then stamped on the bits. What the women thought is not for publication, but what they said would make the ears of the kaiser and the joker burn.

SHORTAGE OF FISH

DELAYS THE MAIL

Scarcity Causes Curtailment of Motive Power by Which Mail is Carried in Alaska.

Shortage of fish is interfering with the mail in Alaska. On account of their scarcity, the motive power by which the mail is carried in that cold territory is curtailed. An abundance of fish, according to a report to the post office department, is essential to the prompt delivery across the region of ice and snow, and a necessary supply is not to be had.

The mail carrier out from Anchorage, Alaska, wrote to the department under the date of March 25, 1918:

"Your letter of February 27, 1918, is at hand, and I notice the late arrivals of mail as indicated in same. The whole trouble is on account of my dogs. I was unable, and still am, to get fish for them as it is not to be obtained in the country. The dogs I use on this mail are wolf dogs that have been worked on fish all their lives. It is almost impossible to change from a fish diet to cooked feed and work them. I have done the best I could to keep this mail moving and have had to stop and rest my dogs several times while the mail was in transit as they would not stand it. . . . All of the late mails were caused on that account. . . . I have managed, however, to keep this end (Seward-Anchorage) running on schedule time and believe in a satisfactory manner owing to the fact that I am on this run myself, drive one of my own teams and I have been able to keep it going somehow. . . . The mail is moving now better. Our dogs are getting so they stand up under cooked food."

Status of Great Men.

The fashion of placing statues of popular heroes in parks and squares has prevailed for a long time, and is apparently not losing any of the popular favor, says the Ave Maria. It would not be so prevalent, however, if Rossini's plan were carried out.

The great Italian composer was waited on one day by a delegation who informed him that a statue of himself was to be erected in white marble, and that it would adorn the public square of his natal city. The artist inquired how much the statue would cost.

"Twelve thousand francs," was the reply.

"Well," said Rossini, "give me that sum, and on state occasions I'll go and stand on the pedestal myself, so that instead of a mere copy you'll have the original."

Commercial Morals Low in Japan.

China, for long centuries a highly developed nation, has an elaborate code of commercial ethics. Japan, on the other hand, which is a nation comparatively new to civilization, is not so scrupulous, says a writer in System. He continues:

"In Japan they say a contract is never a settled thing, whereas in China it is absolutely binding. The Japanese admit they have no traditions in trade, and the average Japanese merchant is firmly convinced that if he orders goods today, and the market declines before they arrive, he does perfectly right to refuse them. Banks in Japan recognize this trait in Japanese character. There is no such thing as lending money to a man on his personal note."

Power of the Old Song.

Consider the old song. Immediately all the things that make up the present existence fade into dim obscurity and for a while, for the duration of the melody at least, we live in glory of the song and its association.

One thing has remained the same and that is the song. The years have made no change in the beauty or the meaning of that. In the face of the constant change and activities which mean man's existence and the world's progress, the song has remained the same.

With the keen insight of human nature, authors have been appreciative of the power of the haunting melody, and have made it the theme of their work.

A Woman's Burdens

are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. If her existence is made gloomy by the chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, she will find relief and emancipation from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she finds new life and strength. It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and nerve which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years, in all cases of "female complaints" and weaknesses. For young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life"; in bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine put up without alcohol—ingredients on wrapper. Nearly all druggists sell the "Prescription" in liquid or tablets.

For free medical advice write Doctor V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., or send 10 cents for trial package of tablets.

ROSEBURG, OREGON.—"I suffered something terrible, had displacement so bad that I could scarcely stand on my feet, also had inflammation. My head and back ached hard and I was weak and nervous. My legs and feet ached—would bleed, and I was troubled with constipation. I had a severe pain in my side. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets and they made me well and strong. Then during middle life I again took these medicines and got through so well—was strong and well."
