QUALITY FIRST

ITALIANS ADVANCE IS STILL UNCHECKED

Italian Headquarters—The Austrian army is again beyond the Piave. Their crushed forces were pursued across the river and the Italians occupied strong bridgeheads at some points on the eastern bank. Had not the sudden torrent filled rapidly, the enemy would have lost immeasurably more men. The extent of the Italian victory is not yet clear.

There are no present indications of the Italian advance continuing eastward from the Piave. Any Austrian forward movement will probably be delayed. The allies are waiting another blow from the North sea to Switzerland.

Tokio, June 25—Newspapers report today that Japan has decided not to comply with the Entente request, and will refrain from an intervention with Siberia at present.

COMING EVENTS

June 29, Saturday—Dance at Deet Creek by Red Cross auxiliary.

OREGON WEATHER

Fair; warmer Wednes-day; northerly winds.

London, June 25.—The Italian line was restored to the water's edge today. The river began rising again, washing away some Italian bridges, thus hindering the pursuit.
