PARIS CELEBRATES U.S. NATIONAL HOLIDAY

Paris, July 5.—A vast crowd turned out yesterday to celebrate the Fourth of July. Fraternity between the French and the Americans was the spirit of the day. A mighty throng witnessed the dedication of Avenue President Wilson, a new street named in honor of the American executive.

The American troops paraded and the line of march was one mass of people, struggling for points of vantage.

The newly named avenue was a forest of waving flags. President Poincare took part in the celebration and as his motor car drove up the new avenue he was lustily cheered.

ARMY CASUALTY LIST NUMBERS TWENTY-THREE

Washington, July 5.—The army casualties for today number 23. Five were killed in action and seven died from wounds.

GRAVE DISTURBANCES IN SOUTHERN AFRICA

Pretoria, July 5.—Premier Botha of the Union of South Africa, issued a statement today showing the unrest that exists in South Africa at present. Strong police and military measures are being taken.

Botha says that if the military measures had not been taken, the situation would have culminated in a grave disturbance and probably serious loss of life.

AMERICANS ARE HONORED ON 4TH

Business Places and Private Homes Gay With Flowers and The Stars and Stripes

With the American Forces in France, July 5.—French villages where there are Americans presented a truly American appearance yesterday, French soldiers and civilians joining the Americans in celebrating the Fourth and making it the holiday of both nations.

Civil and military buildings and business places and private residences were decorated with American and French flags and the colors of the other allies. Children in the streets waved small flags in honor of the Americans, many of the boys and girls throwing wild flowers at passing American automobiles and motor trucks. Hundreds of French automobiles moving back and forth at the front were adorned with American and French flags.

Many villages were enlivened by athletic games participated in by American soldiers, while impressive ceremonies were held at some of the army posts.

NINETY-FIVE VESSELS LAUNCHED ON JULY 4

Philadelphia, July 5.—Ninety-five vessels were launched yesterday, of which 42 were steel.

Portland, July 5.—Twenty-two finished hulls were contributed to the government's "bridge of ships" in the Portland-Columbia river district yesterday. Of these 20 were for the government direct and two were for private owners. Their aggregate tonnage was 30,000 tons.

While every one of the 22 vessels were completely ready for launching, and two more could have been turned loose on the ways, making a total of 24 by stretching a point, fresh conditions at and near Portland made the launching of the majority of them impracticable.

PUBLISHERS ASKED TO ECONOMIZE ON PAPER

Washington, July 5.—Necessity for stricter economy in news print paper is emphasized in a letter addressed by the war industries board to all newspaper publishers, who are asked to put into effect a number of economies.

On and after July 15 unsold copies may not be returned, sample or free promotion copies are not to be distributed, copies are not to be brought back from dealers or agents at either the wholesale or retail selling price, and all free exchanges are to be discontinued.

NON-PARTISAN LEADERS DECLARED NOT GUILTY

St. Paul, July 5.—The Minnesota supreme court held today that A. C. Townley, president of the non-partisan league, and organizer Joseph Gilbert, did not violate the state law by circulating literature referring to the war. They had been indicted on a charge of discouraging enlistments.

ALLIES MAKE DRIVES FAR INTO HUN LINES IN WEST

British Take Over 1500 Prisoners In Successful Drive In Somme—German Counter-Attacks Repulsed On the Amiens Front

Paris, July 5.—The harassing of the German lines in the West shows no signs of letting up. The allies continue to gain and bring in prisoners. During the past ten days the allies have taken positions that would have been very useful to the enemy in future offensives.

Nearly 6,000 Germans have been taken prisoners in a week. General Diaz, in Italy, has taken over 4,800.

London, July 5.—The Germans counter attacked on new positions of the British troops on the Amiens front last night, east of Hamel. The enemy was repulsed and left prisoners in the hands of the defenders.

Over 1,500 prisoners were taken by the British in the Somme area yesterday, also 100 machine guns and a number of trench mortars.

With the British Army in France, July 5.—Australian and American troops yesterday swept forward on a four-mile front between Villers-Bretonneux and the River Somme and penetrated German positions to the depth of a mile and a half, capturing the village of Hamel, Vaire wood and other vital points beyond Hamel. More than 1,500 Germans have been made prisoners. The battle continues.

In the north of this region, between the Somme and the Ancre, another smashing blow was struck by the British troops which advanced the front line 400 yards along a width of 1,200 yards. Several hundred prisoners were taken in the advance.

Washington, July 5.—Adjutant General Crowder today directed Alaska to furnish 300 registrants to proceed to Fort William H. Seward, at Haines, Alaska.

PRES. WILSON DEFINES ANEW HIS WAR AIMS

DIPLOMATS OF ALLIED NATIONS GATHER ON SLOPES OF MT. VERNON

OPPOSES COMPROMISE PEACE

Declares Destruction of Military Autocracy is Only Possible Road for War

Washington, July 5.—President Wilson yesterday answered all feelers for a compromise peace with a new and unqualified consecration of America to the struggle for cleaning military autocracy from the earth.

An Independence Day gathering on the gentle slopes of Mount Vernon, home and tomb of George Washington, and surrounded by scenes which looked upon the creation of this nation, the president addressed a small gathering of officials and of diplomats of the allied nations.

But he spoke to the world and he spoke the logical sequel to his "force without stint or limit" declaration of several weeks ago.

Unreservedly the president declared that there could be no thought of a peace which did not mean the destruction of military autocracy or its reduction to virtual impotence.

"A reign of law, based on the consent of the government and sustained by the organized opinion of mankind," was the way he summarized in a single sentence the objects of humanity in the world war.

Whether the president was addressing his remarks directly to the recent speech of German Foreign Secretary von Kuehlman, or to the fore-shadows of a renewed German peace offensive, or whether he merely took the occasion of the celebration of American independence to emphasize to the world the war aims of the nation can only be divined. He did not deal with the progress of the war or any particular phase of it, but he spoke eloquently of America's attitude toward Germany's so-called peace treaties in the east by grouping the people of Russia "for the moment unorganized and helpless" among the peoples of the world standing against the enemies of liberty.

"The past and the present are in deadly grapple and the peoples of this world are being done to death between them," said President Wilson.

"There can be but one issue. The settlement must be final. There can be no compromise. No half way decision would be tolerable. No half-way decision is conceivable. These are the ends for which the associated peoples of the world are fighting and which must be conceded them before there can be peace."

THREE NEGRO SOLDIERS HUNG AT CAMP DODGE

Camp Dodge, Ia., July 5.—Three negro soldiers, convicted by court martial of "assaulting and outraging" a 17-year-old white girl on the cantonment grounds, May 24, after slugging her white escort, were hanged this morning with virtually the whole division present. They marched to the scaffold singing "God Have Mercy on My Soul."

Three negro soldiers among the spectators fainted and another ran amuck when the traps were sprung, running toward the scaffold. One white soldier fainted.

Roslyn, N. Y., July 5.—Aaron Ward, retired rear admiral of the United States navy, died here today of heart trouble.
