Oregon, this is revealed again her marvelous faculty for interpreting a part in which youthful innocence is the dominating characteristic. The play, the beautiful creation of a poetic imagination, or rather two, was written by Granville Barker and Laurence Housman. and relied upon its rare lines and fanciful setting, as well as the exquisitely simple love story, as old as the ages. As a consequence, it needed sympathetic treatment during its transformation into a picture. This it has received, first from Charles Malgne, who made the scenario, and who fully realized the necessity of retaining the simplicity of the original work, and secondly from Maurice Tourneur, than whom a better director for this type of picture could hardly be found. Mr. Tourneur is possessed of an imagination that carries him far from the commonplace. One is transported from such material things as theatre chaims, projecting machines and screens, on witnessing "Prunglia," that is unless one has no vestige of poetry in his soul. The settings designed by Mr. Tourneur are fanciful and form a beautiful background. This charming production will be shown at the Joy theatre this week, what it is

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

The war industries board demands a reduction of 15 per cent in the consumption of news print paper so that the manufacture of print paper may be conserved and the power and material thus saved to account in the manufacture of war necessities.

The board requires of the newspapers that they discontinue the sending of papers not actually paid for and the discontinuance of all papers in arrears.

In accordance of the demands of the board all papers coming under the above classes will, he discontinued September 15. Remittance should be sent at once so as not to miss an issue.

War Time Sweeteners

MERICA has several excellent war time sweet-eners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply.

shortage in the sugar supply.

They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing descrits and other dishes requiring sweetening.

When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipes should be decreased one-fourth. One-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar. One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One table-spoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals.

Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful.

Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup.
