LADY BUGS MAY HELP U. S. TO WIN THE WAR

Again during these strenuous times will the "female of the species" be called upon to bear a heavy share of the burdens of war, says the Telegram. To this end "lady bugs," or beetles, as they are more properly called, will be requisitioned to save the wheat crops of the state wherever infested by destroying aphids.

"During the past season," said A. J. Jaenke, insect control expert of the district forest service, "there has been much loss to the Oregon farmers by the devastating aphids. The lady beetle is the natural enemy of the wheat pests and have been used in California with great success."

"Millions of these lady beetles will be collected by the U. S. department of entomology in conjunction with the local authorities from their colonies on the tops of the mountains of Oregon and Washington. Men in the forest service will be told to keep a record of particularly large habitations of the beetles and department men will be sent to collect them."

"The beetles will be kept in boxes with excelsior and parceled out to the infested communities according to the needs. They will be shipped by express in pound units, there being about 25,000 beetles to a pound. "The Forest Grove headquarters of the bureau of entomology is now working on the problem."

WILSON WANTS TO KEEP DEMOCRATS

President Asks That, If People Approve of His Policy, to Keep Them in Congress

Washington, Oct. 25.—President Wilson has issued an appeal to the people to return a democratic congress in November, if they approve of his course in this critical period. The president said that the return of a republican majority to either house "would certainly be interpreted on the other side of the water as a repudiation of my leadership."

The president said that he would accept the country's verdict without cavil, but that if adverse, would grossly impair the power to administer the great trust assigned to him.

The president's statement says that the republican leaders desire not so much to support the president, as to control him, and have been "pro-war but anti-administration."

The republican leaders have issued statements declaring that the republicans have been more loyal to the administration than the democrats. They deny that the result of the election could effect the success of the war.

Anderson, son of a fullblood Cherokee Indian father, and a negro mother, was born in the Cherokee nation. He escaped in 1861 and served in the Union army throughout the Civil war, later serving in the regular army. He settled here in 1872. Two years later he served as guide to a party of gold seekers which was attacked near the site of what was later the Custer massacre on the Yellowstone, by a large band of Sioux. BRITISH AND YANKS BEATEN SAYS BERLIN

GERMANS ARE VICTORIOUS ON THE WHOLE FRONT, ACCORDING TO BOCHE REPORT

SAY RETREAT WAS A VICTORY

Civilian Population of Germany Are Told the Americans and British Have Suffered Heavy Losses

Berlin, via London, Oct. 25.—On both banks of the Meuse, Wednesday, says the official statement from general headquarters today, attacks were made by American troops on a wide front. All efforts were repulsed by the Germans.

In Belgium the Germans defeated hostile attacks near Deynze, while they withdrew their lines on both sides of Vichte, east of Courtrai. The statement reads:

"In the Lys lowlands partial engagements continue. We beat off renewed attacks of the enemy along the Deynze-Waerghem railway southeast of Deynze. On both sides of Vichte Tuesday night we withdrew a short distance. Yesterday in the neighborhood of Kattestraat the enemy was beaten back. The Belgian inhabitants took part in this fighting on the side of the enemy."

Tournai and Valenciennes have been subjected to British fire. There have been successful forfield engagements near Tournai and in the Scheldt lowlands.

"On both sides of Solesmes and Le Chateau the British, bringing up fresh divisions, resumed their attack on a front of about 20 kilometers (about 12 miles). In the Harpies region their first assault broke down early in the morning."

"In the course of the day they advanced on both sides of Romeries as far as the neighborhood of St. Martin and Salesches. In the center of the battlefield the enemy was brought to a standstill on the Pol-Bousies line. South of Bousies cyclist troops prevented the enemy from advancing further."

"Southeast of Le Cateau several enemy assaults broke down. Between Pommereuil and Catillon we held our positions against enormously superior forces."

"South of Catillon attacks against the Sambre-Oise canal were held up by our fire. Between the Oise and the Serre there were enemy attacks on the north bank of the Serre. They were repulsed. Partial enemy attacks against the Souche sector, north of Pierrepont, broke down. Montcornet, which is densely inhabited and packed with refugees, is being subjected to a strong French fire."

"On both banks of the Meuse the American attacks against us assumed a great extent. From Bantheville wood and north of Cunel they advanced against our lines with strong forces, accompanied by tanks. They were repulsed, suffering heavy losses under our concentrated fire. East of the Meuse violent fighting for the wooded heights on both sides of Consenvoye-Damvillers road kept up until evening. In stiff fighting by successful counter attacks the Americans were thrown back several times."
