KNOW YOUR ENEMY

Here are a few choice selections from speeches made by the kaiser, and other Germans of high military standing. Read them closely, that you may know the kind of enemy we are dealing with; an enemy who for four years has delighted in torturing the innocent and helpless. These excerpts give an idea of the teachings that have been instilled into the German brain for generations. They are vouched for by the war board and are permitted by our government officials to be republished:

"I am the instrument of the Almighty. I am His agent, His word. Woe and death to those who oppose my will."—Kaiser Wm., 1914.

"O Germany, hate now! Arm thyself and steel and pierce with thy bayonet the heart of every foe; no prisoners! Look all their lips in silence; turn our neighbors' lands into deserts."—Vierordt.

"Might is the supreme right, and the dispute as to what is right is decided by the arbitration of war."—Bernhardt.

"Woe and death to all those who shall oppose my will. Woe and death to those who do not believe in my mission."—Kaiser Wm., Proc. 1914.

"War must leave nothing to the vanquished but their eyes to weep with; modesty on our part would be only madness."—Tannenbergh, 1911.

"It makes for health that the nobler race should absorb the inferior stock."—Tritschke.

"Every great people needs new territory; it must expand over foreign soil; it must expel the foreigners by the power of the sword."—Wagner.

"Terrorism is seen to be a relatively gentle procedure useful to keep in a state of obedience the masses of the people."—von Hartmann.

"It is better to let a hundred women and children belonging to the enemy die of hunger than to let a single German soldier suffer."—von der Goltz.

"The country suffers. Lodz is starving. It is deplorable, but it is for the best. War is not carried on sentimentally."—Gen. von Hindenburg.

"Whoever cannot prevail upon himself to approve from the bottom of his heart the sinking of the Lusitania—whichever cannot conquer his sense of the gigantic cruelty to unnumbered perfectly innocent victims and give himself up to honest delight at this victorious exploit of German defensive power—him we judge to be no true German."—Pastor Baumgarten.

"Use your weapons in such a way that for a thousand years no Chinese shall dare to look upon a German askance. Be as terrible as Attila's Huns."—The kaiser to his troops going to China, 1900.

"War is not a work of charity and in the soldier's heart there is no compassion. The soldier must be hard. Grow hard warriors!"—von der Goltz.

"Perpetual peace is a dream, and it is not even a beautiful dream. War is a part of the eternal order instituted by God."—von Moltke.

"War is the most august and sacred of human activities. For us, too, the great joyful hour of battle will one day strike. Deep in the German heart must the joy in war and the longing for war endure."—von Gottberg in Weekly Paper for Youth of Germany.

"Let us laugh with all our lungs at the old women in trousers who are afraid of war, and therefore complain that it is cruel and hideous. No! war is beautiful. Its august grandeur elevates the heart of man high above all that is commonplace and earthly."—von Gottberg in Weekly Paper for Youth of Germany.

"The duties and the obligations of the German people... cannot be fulfilled without drawing the sword."—Bernhardt.

"It is nothing but fanaticism to expect much from humanity when it has forgotten how to wage war. Kultur can by no means dispense with passions, vices and malignities."—Nietzsche.

"We must not look for a permanent peace as a result of this war (1914); Heaven defend Germany from that."—O. A. H. Schmitz.

"The triumph of Greater Germany which some day must dominate all Europe, is the single end for which we are fighting."—Kaiser William Proclamation, June 1915.

"America will have to look out after the war. I shall stand no nonsense from America after the war."—The kaiser to American Ambassador Gerard, 1915.

"Not only Alsace and Lorraine but all France and all Europe as well as the whole world will belong to us. Yes, the whole world will be German."—Heine.

"It is precisely our craving for expansion that drives us into the paths of conquest, and in view of which all chatter about peace and humanity can and must remain nothing but chatter."—Reimer.

"We are the salt of the earth."—Kaiser Wilhelm, 1905.

"The Teutons are the aristocracy of humanity. The cultural value of a nation is measured by the quantity of Teutonism it contains."—Wolffmann.

"He who does not believe in the divine mission of Germany had better hang tomorrow. Germany is chosen. Germany is chosen, for her own good and that of other nations, to undertake their guidance."—Herr H. S. Chamberlain.

"All written constitutions are only scraps of paper."—Frederick Wilhelm IV.

"Not by speeches and the resolutions of majorities are the great questions of the time decided, but by iron and blood."

"Looking upon myself as the instrument of the Lord without regard to the opinions or intentions of the day, I go my way."—Present kaiser, 1910.

"I welcome with all my heart those who wish to assist me in my work, no matter who they may be, but those who oppose me in this work I will crush."—Present kaiser, 1910.

"Woe and death to all those who shall oppose my will! Woe and death to those who do not believe in my mission! Woe and death to the cowards."—Kaiser.

You now know something of the nature of the enemy you are fighting. A nation fanatically devoted to war—the scientific barbarism, the "kultur" of arrogance, blood and loot. At present a de-humanized nation with a conscience deadened and a soul shriveled and numbed by the poison of hate and self-worship upon which it has fed. A nation whose record of broken treaties and hideous cruelties in war goes back as far as its history. A nation which has gathered from advancing civilization and Christianity the one controlling inspiration—that by blood, iron and frightfulness it must subjugate the nations of the world to its will.

And now the kaiser says he will "extend his hand only for an honorable peace." He may extend it, but the allies will not touch it. What kind of terms would YOU give the kaiser? Here are some of the terms he offered France in 1914:

All French colonies and all north-eastern France to be taken by Germany.

An indemnity of 400,000,000 pounds ($2,000,000,000) to be paid. A tariff to be established allowing German goods to enter France free for 25 years without reciprocity for French goods entering Germany.

No recruiting to be allowed in France for 25 years.

All French fortresses to be destroyed.

France to surrender 3,000,000 rifles, 2,000 cannon and 4,000 horses.

All German patents issued in France to be protected without re-iprocity for French patents in Germany.

France to cut herself adrift from Russia and Great Britain.

France to make an alliance with Germany for 25 years.

To insure the fulfillment of the conditions, French fortresses at Verdun and elsewhere were to be occupied by the Germans.

PORTLAND IS IN FAVOR OF NORMAL SCHOOLS

The Portland Chamber of Commerce, by action of its board of directors, passed on eight of the nine measures to be voted on at the November election appearing on the state ballot, says the Oregonian. Its action was in accordance with the report of the committee on legislation and taxation, of which John F. Daly is chairman.

The question of establishing a home for dependent, delinquent and defective children was reported unfavorably. The delinquent tax notice bill and the proposal for fixing compensation for publication of legal notices both were reported adversely. No action was taken on the Rogue river fishing measure. All others were reported favorably.

Some of the measures, in the order of their numbers on the ballot, the arguments presented, and the action in each instance, were as follows:

"Establishing and maintaining southern and eastern Oregon normal schools," 300 yes.

The arguments introduced were that normal education is inadequate; that it cannot be made adequate without education being more widely distributed; that the old evil of log-rolling has been eliminated by the proposal to have a fixed millage tax, and that the board of directors of the normal school would not ask for building funds until after the war. The measure was submitted by the legislature. Recommended.

"Establishing Dependent, Delinquent and Defective Children's Home," 303 no.

Eliminating all other considerations the committee recommended that the time is not here for undertaking heavy new construction, as provided in the measure. Submitted by the legislature. Unfavorably reported.

"Prohibiting seine and set-net fishing in Rogue river and tributaries," 304—Yes. 305—No.

This measure was placed on the ballot by referendum of the people. As it did not involve the propagation of fish as an issue, it was argued that it should therefore be left to the state game and fish commission. No action.

"Delinquent Tax Notice Bill," 309—No.

Proposed by initiative petition initiated by C. S. Jackson and R. W. Hagood. Reported unfavorably.

"Fixing Compensation for Publication of Legal Notices," 311—No.

Initiated by C. S. Jackson and R. W. Hagood. Unfavorably reported. "Certificate of Necessity for Increase in State Tax Levy for 1919," 312—Yes.

Referred by the state tax commission, this measure was favorably reported on the ground that additional revenue is absolutely needed for necessary war work.

FLOYD GIBBONS

Floyd Gibbons, a Chicago war correspondent who was wounded in France while going to the aid of an officer, and was decorated by the French government, has returned to deliver a series of lectures. He is telling of what he saw over there and is "waking up America" to the best of his ability.

THE MEN IN CLASS A 1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and dable at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A 1. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be invigorated, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work.

Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original imported Haarlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.

LETTERS from our boys in the trenches and from the women in canteen and other war work, all bring to us the same message—SEND US NEWS FROM HOME.

World news is all right, but OUR BOYS want NEWS OF THIS TOWN. They want the home newspaper. Publishers are prevented from sending their papers free to anyone, even boys in the service. Consequently a national movement has been started by Col. William Boyce Thompson of New York, who is acting as President of the Home Paper Service of America to give the boys what they are calling for. Every community is joining the movement. Let us see that our boys are not forgotten.

Send to the publisher of this newspaper whatever amount of money you can—5 cents or $50.00. We will publish a list each week of those contributing, and the amounts contributed.

Every cent received will be used to send this paper to our boys at the front. If at the end of the war, there is any surplus, it will be turned over to the local Red Cross Committee.

There is no profit in this to the publisher—even in normal times, subscriptions are not sold at a profit. With war prices prevailing, and the high rate of postage on papers sent to France, our cost will scarcely be covered by our full subscription price.

Remember that over in France, some brave soldier or sailor from this town—perhaps even some splendid woman working within sound of the guns—is depending on you to "KEEP THE HOME LOVE KINDLED."
