SHEEPMAN WINS "JACK POT" ON END OF WAR

Salt Lake City, Nov. 25.—D. O. Mackey, prominent sheep raiser of the Intermountain section, who lives in Salt Lake, guessed within four days of the time the great war would end, and as a result he has just deposited a "pot" of $2,900, made up by sheepmen of this section in February, 1915.

Twenty-nine sheepmen who were gathered here in February, 1915, made up the "pot" one evening, each contributing $100. The one who guessed nearest to the date of the end of the world war was to receive the "pot." The $2,900 and the 29 guesses were placed in an envelope and placed in a safe deposit box to await the end of the war. It was opened several days after the signing of the armistice terms by Germany and Mackey was found to have been the best guesser, November 15, 1918, being his guess.

SOLDIER LETTERS

Elmer Whipple With Engineers
Blois, France

Dear Mother:

The boys are sure giving the kaiser hell here lately. Things begin to look pretty good now.

We are still pegging away at the same old work. I am sawyer in a saw mill.

One of our tractors let a log fall off in the road and a Frenchman came along about 11 o'clock at night and hit it. It turned his machine up side down and broke his shoulder. We have the car in camp and fixing it up.

Nearly every other night the truck takes a bunch of the boys down to a river nearby and they go swimming. I went down the other night and had a swim. It was sure fine. It was the first swim I have had since I left Rogue river.

I suppose you have got the pictures and the French money I sent. They are only a part of what I have. About 8 or 10 boys are in the Y. M. C. A. singing—they go there and sing every night except Sunday night—Some of them are fine singers. One little fellow is cracking jokes all the time.

There has been a new order that we can't send any packages home without paying postage and if there are any valuables we have to pay duty.

We moved camp yesterday about five miles from here. But eight other fellows and myself are staying here to finish the work. I expect we will be here a month or so. I like it fine now, because we don't have to wait in a chow line for our meals and we make the cook wash the dishes.

The people here are thrashing their grain now. You had ought to see the machines they have—they look just like toys. They are about the size of one of our bean thrashers.

Say mother, I'll bet you couldn't guess what we had for dinner today. Well, this was our bill of fare: We had chicken with a capital "C," and dumplings, biscuits, salad, real butter, cream and sugar with our coffee, mashed potatoes, blackberries with cream, also some Vin Blanc to wash it down. I never ate so much since I have been over here. You see there was just nine of us and we put in together and paid for all of our good eats.

I will close with love to all.
Your loving son,
ELMER WHIPPLE,
20 Co., 20th Engineers,
Blois, France.

Speed of Bullet.

A rifle bullet covers about two miles in five seconds, while sound travels the same distance in a shade more than nine and one-half seconds, so it is easy to understand why the bullet strikes before the report of the rifle is heard.

Mrs. Kemp Returns to Portland.

Mrs. Jennie Kemp, who has had a prominent part in publicity work of the food administration in this state, left this morning for a conference with the state administration at Portland. Mrs. Kemp Sunday night spoke at the M. E. church of the work she has been engaged in and gave many instances of the help Oregon settlers in the out of the way places of the state have been giving in the cause of the great war. Mrs. Kemp spent the weeks during the flu ban with her sister, Mrs. James Hair.

Un-Smoked American.

Audley Egger. I am on the job. But the war is off and so is the flu. I got blown up with a cannon, but not the kaiser's. You can find me on the job after school hours at the Arcada Barber shop. Audley Egger.

Only a Rumor.

Yesterday and today word has been passed around to the effect that Chas. W. Atkin, son of Sergeant-Major H. W. Atkin, of the Salvation Army of this city, had been killed in France. Mr. Atkin today stated that it was only a rumor, as he has received no word concerning his son's death. He did, however, receive a letter about two weeks ago from his son, in which the boy said that he was well and feeling fine.

Letter heads that will please you, at the Courier.

Good Advice.

The man who doesn't worry when he ought to is as bad as the one who worries when he shouldn't. Worrying is bad for the health, but probably not as bad as letting things drift. In case of rain, run for an umbrella. Instead of saying "Don't Worry" the best advice to give a man in trouble is "Get Busy."—Thrift Magazine.
