HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By Alice Ament. The usual number of students have returned after the Christmas holidays, and brilliantly colored ribbons, socks and ties are being displayed.

Friday morning it was found that some of the pipes in the high school building were burst, and there was quite a bit of water running around loose on the stairways and floors.

On New Year's day the students came to high school, as usual, but were dismissed early in the afternoon. This came as a surprise, and the chance to go out into the clear air and bright sunshine was greatly appreciated.

The girls of the high school, under the direction of Mrs. Gunnell, are taking the fundamental steps in aesthetic and gymnastic dancing. The exercises are now being given in the high school assembly room.

The boys have lately been taking their military drill under the direction of Lieutenant Williams, and have been getting it just as it is given at the army camps. The boys are drilling with wooden guns now.

MARY ROBERTS RINEHART'S NOVEL "K"

A New Spirit of Good Will

Thanks to the opportunity given it by the War Department, at home and abroad, a new spirit of good will has grown up around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

Wherever soldiers meet, this car is spoken of in terms of admiration, and even affection.

Soldiers grow to love the tools, and weapons, and implements, that serve them.

They admire, especially, the inanimate thing that shows grit, and endurance, in a tight place.

That is American—and that is the American soldier in particular—and that is the sort of glory being woven around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

There will always be associated with it, the remembrance of the work it did in the world war—in army service on both sides of the ocean.

Thousands of American soldiers are coming back, now, from the camps in America, and the battlefield in France, telling how well that work was done.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low. The tire mileage is unusually high.

DODGE BROTHERS, DETROIT

J. H. DENISON, Distributor

They are telling it to their fathers and mothers, their worshipping small brothers, their sisters, their sweethearts and their friends.

It is the central figure in many a stirring story told about the family fireplace.

To many a white-haired American mother, it means something more as it goes by than just a motor car.

She links it, somehow, with what her own boy did, with what America did, and with what America stands for.

Dodge Brothers are proud that theirs was the one car of its type and class chosen by the War Department.

They are prouder still that it has been taken into the hearts and homes of the American people.

The old folks, and the little folks who don't forget, are spreading a leaven of good will which will endure for years to come.

Dodge Brothers cherish this new spirit of good will, which has come out of the world war, as their most valued possession.
