THREE BROTHERS LOSE ARMS

Machines Take Two Limbs, a Shell the Third.

Misfortune of a peculiar kind has followed the Kemp family, pioneers of the Imperial valley in Oregon and well known through the connection of the men with its development. Three of the Kemp brothers have each lost an arm within a year, the last to meet the misfortune being a soldier in the trenches in France during the last days of the fighting.

Just a year ago Harold Kemp's hand was caught in the "auger" of a cotton gin, into which his right arm was drawn and mangled so badly that amputation was necessary. Two months later Harley Kemp, a younger brother, lost his left arm in the same gin and in much the same manner. Recently the news came from France that a piece of shell had struck F. O. Kemp and carried away his right arm. The last victim was married, his wife residing in Yuma, Ariz.

"Dewey" Haviland Back—

George K. Haviland arrived Sunday night on a furlough from the navy to pay a visit to his mother, Mrs. Ella Haviland. George has an elegant gold V on his left sleeve as memorial of his overseas work. He was in convoy service and made several trips across the Atlantic with troop and supply convoys. He tells some interesting stories of his experiences with submarines and other dangers he encountered. Mr. Haviland was a member of the high school when he joined the navy three years ago and paid the school a visit Monday. He is now with the U. S. S. Vigilant.

Attention Cyclists—

Policeman Ed. Garrett has received instructions to arrest anyone found riding a bicycle or motorcycle on the depot platform, or on the granite walk by the railroad track. One boy was almost arrested today by Policeman Garrett, but the lad had ridden only a few feet on the walk and got off with a sharp lecture. Such riding is forbidden and Mr. Garrett says he will arrest every person disobeying the order.

Wanted at Once—

One thousand two hundred and fifty customers to ride in the Owl Taxi. City or country. The Owl Billiards, phone 172-J. 92

WILL REPAIR BRIDGE ON ROGUE AT GALICE

Engineer C. M. Allen, of the district forester's office in Portland, completed his work on the Siskiyou national forest Wednesday and went on to Medford where he will work on the Crater national forest.

While on the Siskiyou national forest Mr. Allen inspected the forest service suspension bridge across Rogue river below Galice, and prepared plans and specifications for repairing it. This bridge was constructed in 1908 at a cost of $1,350. The tower timbers have now rotted to such an extent as to be in a dangerous condition and will have to be replaced. This work, which will necessitate practically the reconstruction of the bridge, will be undertaken as soon as weather conditions are favorable.

While here Mr. Allen also made a trip to Fage creek, Smith fork and West-Moore ranger stations, inspecting the telephone work and instructing the district rangers in telephone work and in the construction of lookout houses.

SEEMED POOR, HAD MILLION

Stated Self So That Household Furniture Was Worth Only $92.

Although he left an estate appraised at $319,597 in Illinois and twice as much in Texas and other southern states, among the largest of McHenry county, Abram B. Brinkerhoff of Huntley, Ill., believed in the simple life, occupying a small cottage, cheaply furnished. The value of his household goods was appraised at only $92. The treasury of Illinois will be enriched to the extent of $8,000 by the inheritance tax on the Illinois holdings. The wife receives $148,000, and two nephews, Thomas and Hames Brinkerhoff, both of Elgin, each receive $50,000 from the Illinois holdings alone. The testator commenced his career in the employ of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. He invested his salary in western land and ran his fortune up to nearly if not quite a million.

AMENT DAM NOT TAKEN OUT BY THE FLOODS

The Ament dam above Grants Pass was not carried out by the recent flood as was rumored along the river, according to Game Warden P. H. Daily, who returned Wednesday afternoon from a visit to the dam, though the high water has seriously damaged the structure and destroyed the effectiveness of the fishways, rendering the ascent of the fish more of a problem than ever the coming season.

In the center of the dam, where the newer concrete portion joins the old crib work of logs, a hole has been washed under the logs and the water is shooting under with tremendous force. The structure creaks and groans and trembles so that another freshet would probably sweep away the log portion of the dam, says Mr. Daily. At present the fish are ascending through the holes in the crib work and the penstocks, though the network of iron rods injures many fish.

Sheldon's bill authorizing the condemnation and removal of the dam passed the house Tuesday—Medford Tribune.

SPECIAL AGENT FINDS 200 QUARTS OF BOOZE

Last night was a good night for the officers and a poor one for bootleggers. Over 200 quarts were seized here by Government Agent Grant. The goods were found in the J. S. Taylor residence at the corner of Evelyn avenue and North Fifth street, which has been vacant until recently rented by the bootleggers. The men who rented the house were two of a bunch of five, all of whom are now under arrest and held at Portland. When making application for the house they stated that they would want it for the summer. One of the five was arrested at Corvallis, being the person who recently shipped an auto loaded with booze through this city to Corvallis, two others were taken at Portland and the other one at Albany.

Thus one whole division of bootleggers has fallen into the hands of the enemy, and the local officers state that they have a very good "hunch" who the gang's local agents are at this place.

When Mr. Grant was standing by an automobile at the Taylor residence last night about 11 o'clock, Night Policeman Wible approached him and asked the government agent what business he had there. Grant showed his credentials and then asked Wible what he was there for. The night watchman then showed his star, after which the two got along together quite well.

In a diary taken from one of the arrested men was found a notation which read: "This man we know," and Grants Pass was named and the street and number of the house were given. With the aid of this it was little effort for Mr. Grant to locate the precious liquid.

With the aid of Sheriff Lewis the whiskey was boxed up and stored at the county jail this forenoon, where it awaits disposal with other consignments.
