The banks used to buy United States bonds bearing 2 per cent interest before the war. That's how good the credit of the United States is.

The $100 you put into a Victory Liberty Bond will be worth $125 plus interest when prices settle down. A dollar is worth what you can buy with it.

Better have the bonds of the United States in the hands of 30,000,000 ordinary citizens than concentrated in the hands of a few rich men. Think of that when Uncle Sam offers you a Victory Liberty Bond.

German Title of Honor. "Von" before a name in German denotes a privilege title, either inherited or bestowed by a monarch upon his subject for meritorious services. While formerly this prefix was found in military or feudal families only, many commoners, captains of industry, scientists, financiers and artists were so honored by their monarchs. The title is either hereditary or ceases with the death of the distinguished person.

Long Distance Covered. Including all the movements of the earth, a person travels 85,250 miles in taking a three-mile walk.

Don't think you have sacrificed because you may be paying for your interest-bearing Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds. These fellows back from France legless, armless or sightless don't think they've sacrificed. They simply think they did their duty.

Didn't Suit Carolyn. Carolyn was fond of sweet corn. One day while the family was seated at the table her mother said: "Carolyn, I think you have had enough corn." Carolyn looked up earnestly at her mother as she said: "Mother, I hate for you to do my thinking."

Mangroves Destroying Island. The island of Aldabra, near Madagascar, is being wiped off the map by the action of the mangroves that grow along the foot of the cliff. They eat their way into the rock in all directions, and into the gaps thus formed the waves force their way.

WOMEN ASKED TO SHARE BURDENS IN FIFTH LOAN

Mrs. Baldwin, Liberty Loan Chairman, Says Closer Cooperation With Men

Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, chairman of the Women's Liberty Loan Committee of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, sends the following appeal to Western women to stand fast by the government in the Victory Liberty Loan: Having responded ungrudgingly to the government's calls in the past, and victory having come to us because of this, shall we hesitate for a moment to respond to the last call—the Victory Liberty Loan, when we can do so by pledging our credit perhaps with some little personal inconvenience, sacrifice or small discomfort? The credit and good faith of our country are now at stake. We have said to those at the helm: "Go ahead. Win the war at any cost." We have won the war, and the cost is small compared with what has been won.

This last call is truly a Victory Loan. What greater pride can men and women experience than in contributing to it? A Victory Bond will be worth more than its price expressed in dollars. Every one will be a badge testifying that the holder has helped his country to fulfill its pledge to those who have been spared as well as those who have made the supreme sacrifice.

At the joint conference of the Men's and Women's Committees called by Mr. James K. Lynch of the Federal Reserve Bank of the Twelfth District, it was decided that in the campaign for the Victory Liberty Loan, the men and women should coordinate their work. With this in view I appeal to all women members and workers who have so earnestly and steadfastly labored in the past, to give their undivided time and efforts when called upon, as they will be shortly, to join with the men in making this last Liberty Loan an overwhelming success. I have every confidence in the outcome of the Victory Loan, especially with the help which will come from the united efforts of the men and women workers of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District.

USE OF PARAVANES SAVES MANY LIVES

British Invention Which Picked Up Mines Ahead of the Vessels.

Hundreds of American bluejackets undoubtedly were saved from death because the American warships, while proceeding through the mine-strewn seas, were equipped with paravanes, through courtesy of the British admiralty.

Fitted with paravanes, the warships fished out any mines ahead of the vessels. Novices often mistook the apparatus for torpedoes. The thing made a humming sound when adjusted to a speeding ship, owing to friction.

The paravane consists of a water-plane shaped like a torpedo, having a pair of large flat fins projecting on either side of its body. The tail is fitted with rudders to keep the thing at any set depth. It is towed over-side by a wire rope which runs from the ship's bows outward. The wire rope is intended to pick up the mooring ropes of mines and slide them along till they reach the nose of the paravanes, where a sharp saw is fixed inside a V-shaped slot. The saw cuts through the mooring rope and allows the mine to float free, where it can be either avoided or destroyed.

Due to the cable and fin arrangement the twin paravanes kept diagonally ahead of the vessel. Naval men say the invention did more than any other single device to defeat Germany's policy of attrition.

FEW CHANGES IN GOVERNMENT'S '19 THRIFT CAMPAIGN

Benjamin Franklin's Likeness Printed on the New Savings Stamps

The United States government in its hour of need has turned back to the homely philosophy of Benjamin Franklin and has honored "Poor Richard" in a way that he, himself, would have liked best. The 1919 issue of War Savings Stamps bears Franklin's portrait.

Thrifty Stamps for the new year are identical with the 1918 issue. Nineteen stamps may be exchanged for the new War Savings Stamps. No new thrifty card is necessary.

Besides bearing the likeness of Franklin, the 1919 War Savings Stamps differ from last year's stamps in size, being somewhat smaller and consequently more convenient. They are blue in color.

The new Stamps bear the same interest and cost the same, $4.12 in January and one cent additional each month, as the 1918 War Savings Stamps. The interest is 4 per cent compounded quarterly.

The 1918 War Savings Stamps do not have to be cashed in or converted to the new issue. Rather the express advice of the Treasury Department is to "hold them." Each one of them will be worth five dollars January 1, 1923, whether one's card is filled or not.

For the 1919 War Savings Stamps new cards are necessary. The government warns Stamp purchasers not to paste War Savings Stamps of the new issue on the old 1918 cards. Ask for a new card, the Treasury Department says, when you buy your first Stamp of the new issue.

Every purchaser is entitled to purchase a maximum of $1000 of War Savings Stamps during 1919. Each member of a family is entitled to this maximum, but to no more.

This rule is inflexible because of the value of the Stamps as a security investment to large investors who would snap up an entire issue within 24 hours were they permitted.

Peace Will Put New Value on the Dollar

The greatest merchants and industrial chiefs in the country agree that there will be a readjustment during the peace period. There will be a gradual decline in prices and a gradual improvement in the buying power of money.

The secretary of the treasury has a pretty good opportunity to form an opinion of financial tendencies. He says:

"Every dollar saved now and invested in Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps will be worth much more when peace readjustment comes. Every provident man and woman in the United States may find their savings double in purchasing power in the next few years. How can any one more certainly make money than by saving it now with assurance of its enormous enhancement in value when normal conditions are restored?"

Well Described. A short time ago we were discussing a friend, who, while her hair had grown white with the years, had retained a youthful figure. A few days afterward Ruth, referring to her, said, "You know who I mean, Anny—that lady who looks so young behind and so old in front."—Chicago Tribune.

"Pone." Pone is a word of Indian derivation and an early English historian of Virginia took pains to explain that it was not from the Latin panis, meaning bread, but from the red Indian word oppona, and it was early applied in the south to any bread made of Indian corn.
