STRIKES AND BOYCOTS LEGALIZED BY SOLONS

Salem, Ore., Feb. 27.—If Governor Withycome signs the bill, as it is expected he will, labor organizations will have the power to conduct strikes or boycotts as a means of obtaining shorter hours and better wages so long as they do nothing that would be unlawful for any individual to do. The senate passed a measure to that effect late yesterday, following the action of the house.

The act prohibits courts from issuing injunctions to restrain unions from doing the things that would be unlawful for an individual.

This is said to be the greatest victory ever won by organized labor at the hands of an Oregon legislature. The bill establishes labor as a personal right, repudiating the theory that it is a property commodity.
