S. A. WORKER IS WELL PLEASED WITH RESULTS

Mrs. M. Sawyer, Salvation Army Industrial Home representative, who spoke at the Christian church Sunday, desires to express her appreciation of the fine treatment received in this city and the support given.

There are two Salvation Army homes in Portland and Mrs. Sawyer represents the Workmen's hotel. During the past five years this one institution has furnished free, 15,000 beds and 12,863 meals, and clothing, furniture, etc., to the amount of $6,168. They have also supplied during the same period, to men who made payment in work, 43,471 beds and 12,863 meals.

TAKING FARM EXHIBIT TO SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

New York, Mar. 4.—A $60,000 farming exhibit is being shipped this week to France by the war work council of the Young Men's Christian association to be used for the instruction of thousands of soldiers in the American expeditionary force who want to return to the farms when their regiments are demobilized. The exhibit was assembled by the United States department of agriculture at the request of the war department.

It includes samples of soil from every county of the United States, dairy utensils, egg testers, cereal and corn samples, insecticides and fungicides, and other material sufficient to fill five cars.

With this material will go to France four government experts to supervise the setting up of the exhibits and to prepare for the work of instruction in France. These experts will remain with the expeditionary force four months to teach men assigned from the army so that the work of instruction can continue as long as the American troops are held overseas.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY FACES NEW PROBLEMS

Oxford, Eng., Mar. 3.—Oxford university is once again alive after four years of war quietude. Twelve hundred undergraduates are in residence, many still in khaki, some on crutches, others lacking a limb. Rhodes scholars are expected to arrive in record numbers very soon. Problems face the authorities however. Overcrowding is feared, changes of education are demanded, and already a large proportion of the students want to take up chemistry and science while a still larger portion are studying history instead of classics. The authorities are said to be perturbed at the upheaval facing them.

REPORT SHOWS DECLINE IN OIL PRODUCTION

San Francisco, Mar. 4.—The reporting of only 80 wells ready to drill up to the middle of February as against 112 for the same period last year will make a noticeable decline in the state's production of oil if the condition continues, according to the California State Mining Bureau. The report says:

"The flush production of the no longer new Montebello and Casmalla fields masked this condition temporarily. However, the history of oil field development, even if present production data of the Montebello and Casmalla fields were not available, should warn operators against counting too heavily upon initial productive conditions.

"Rapid decline of gas pressures and improper drilling, with respect to protection from water, are two of the principal causes which prevent oil fields from maintaining their brilliant initial records.

"Gas pressures can be controlled to a large extent, and there expulsive powers conserved, by the proper drilling and preparation of wells for production. However, the supervisor has on a number of occasions directed popular attention to the fact that even the new fields of the state have not been drilled in a manner best to conserve the petroleum resources and protect them from water.

SEN. EDDY EXPLAINS LIEUT. GOVERNOR BILL

An erroneous opinion is held by many in regard to the bill for the establishment of the office of lieutenant governor, according to Senator B. L. Eddy, says the Roseburg News. It is not proposed, he states, to have the office filled permanently, only during the time that the legislature is in session or during the absence of the governor. During the time that the lieutenant governor would be required to serve, he would be paid the sum of $10 per day, but this salary would hold only during the time that the senate was in session or during such time that he was required to fill the gubernatorial chair. An objection has been made to the bill on the grounds that the salary would be $3,600 per year, but this is a mistaken impression, Senator Eddy states, as he would draw a salary for only a few weeks out of the year.

The lieutenant governor, if appointed by the people, will be president of the senate, and in case of the death, sickness or absence of the governor, will take the position of that executive.

FICKLE FASHION PUTS FEATHER MAN ON BUM

El Paso, Tex., Mar. 4.—Fickle fashion has been playing fast and loose with the ostrich industry. A stock company started an ostrich farm in the valley with more than 50 of the long-legged birds. Then the creator of fashions ruled out ostrich plumes. The birds were sold and the few remaining ones given to the city for exhibition purposes at Washington park. Now plumes are in style once more. Park Commissioner Fisher is planning to
