OREGON WEATHER

Fair; gentle easterly winds.

LONG-DISTANCE DIAGNOSIS

A new way to summon the doctor's aid in emergency has been found in a wireless message. A transport recently docked in New York reports that while at sea it received a wireless telegraph message from another vessel, the British steamer Pollac.

The doctor on the transport was given the symptoms. He diagnosed the case and sent back a wireless message explaining the proper treatment to be followed. The two ships kept in touch, the doctor on the one receiving hourly reports from the sick man on the other.

Of course, if a surgeon's hand had been needed or certain unavailable medicines had been essential to the man's recovery, the simple wireless messages would not have been sufficient to save his life. Since it was chiefly a matter of careful diagnosis and special treatment the directions were easily given at long distance.

LET'S BE REASONABLE

Now that people are again beginning to seek investment in this part of the state, let us use discretion. Don't tell a stranger that he can make a fine living on any old five-acre tract and that he can become wealthy on ten acres of our Southern Oregon soil.

A number of strangers are coming to the city and from here are going to various parts of the county with the view of making investments in farm property. A great many who have been working in the shipyards are also returning to the interior towns and many pieces of property will no doubt change hands within the next few months.

Road are petitioning the county court to prohibit people from dumping rubbish along the road and using the highway for a depository for old tin cans.

Spring is here. The birds say so and insects attest to the fact by poking their heads from mother earth.

Roseburg and other cities are preparing airplane landings, to be used when the first machines begin to fly over Oregon.

It's all in the way you look at it. Hindy says former Kaiser Bill is a martyr and a patriot for having run away.

That was an awful dose of winter we just experienced, but cheer up, we'll have a fine run of spring and summer.

And don't you forget it: The open season on six-inch trout begins on April 1.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The members of the school board and their wives were the guests at a six course dinner given Monday night by Miss Cornell, assisted by the cooking class.

During the dinner music was furnished by pupils from the high school. The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lundburg, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Best, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Imel, Miss Katherine Bridges, and Miss Edna Cornell.

The reading of the first act of the senior play occurred Thursday night, and the different parts given out. The play is by far the most difficult yet attempted by a graduating class, but everyone is sure of its success.

Military drill at the high school is becoming very warlike in its aspect. The boys are now learning to go "over the top," and a thrilling sight it is to see them go charging across the campus with ear-splitting shouts and bayonets ready.

The gymnastic dancing which is being given the girls is progressing by leaps and bounds, literally as well as figuratively. Progress around the assembly room is a series of daring leaps, breathless poses, and narrow escapes from collisions with the ever present desks.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON MEN'S GLEE CLUB 28TH

Grants Pass will have an opportunity to hear the University of Oregon men's glee club on Friday, March 28.

"Music everybody likes," is the way in which John Star Evans, leader of the glee club, describes the program which will be presented to Grants Pass music lovers.

Choruses, quartettes, solos and clever "stunts" will comprise the varied entertainment offered by the singing organization.

NOTICE

For the information of those contemplating planting gardens this season notice is hereby given that the sprinkling rate in force last year and the year before will prevail during the coming irrigation season.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard.

Easter Star Honor the Irish

Over a hundred members and friends, including out of town guests of Josephine Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, made merry at a St. Patrick's costume party at Masonic Temple on Wednesday evening last.

A number of delightful parties and luncheons have been given this past week and others are planned, in honor of Mrs. W. H. Jensen who will leave Monday with her husband for Minneapolis, Minn.

NOTICE

In honor of Mrs. W. H. Jensen, Miss Alma Wolke entertained delightfully Thursday afternoon. After spending an informal hour in conversation and music a two-course luncheon was served in the dining room which was made beautiful in shades of yellow.

Miss Beulah Williams was hostess Friday evening to an informal evening in honor of Mrs. W. H. Jensen at her home at 621 North Fourth street.

Little Miss Dorothy Zimmerman celebrated her 12th anniversary Saturday afternoon of last week by inviting a number of friends to her home at 613 A street.

Mrs. L. O. Clement gave an informal dinner party Saturday of last week for her son, Norris, at her home at 830 Washington boulevard.

An event anticipating great enjoyment will be the dinner-dance at the Hotel Josephine this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Martineau are delightful hosts and to those who attend, these parties are looked forward to as the most enjoyable evenings of the week.

Mesdames D. J. Mannel and A. V. Ray were hostesses to the ladies of the Church of Christ and their friends at a silver social given Wednesday afternoon at the Mannel home on West D street.
