"YOU FELLOWS"

We've licked the Hun. Now let's everybody get his coat off and pitch into the new enemy, says John A. Britton, of the Twelfth Federal Reserve district.

Who is the enemy? Why, the professional pessimist, the arch enemy of progress. Not the pessimist who says, "It looks hard to do, but it ought to be done and we'll do our best." Not that fellow. But the real Blue Monday pessimist who says, "You fellows are going to have a hard time putting over the next loan." That's the enemy we're after.

"You fellows —?" Where does he get that "You fellows" stuff? Whose war was this, anyway? Whose country was vindicated when we punished the blackguard gang that sank the Lusitania? Whose children and whose children's children in America will be saved the disgrace of paying homage and tribute to a cut-throat monarch and his bloodthirsty bunch because American heroes gave up their lives?

Who is that government, any way?

"You fellows —?" Whose Victory loan is this going to be? Whose life and lands have been saved by the sacrifice of young men called upon to fight for America and humanity? Was this war fought for any particular American? Was it for any one man's liberty or that of any one set of men? Wasn't this war for all of humanity? Didn't everybody believe America was justified in fighting? If any American didn't believe we were justified in winning the war why didn't he voice his sentiments while we were fighting?

If anyone in America is disappointed because we won the war; if anyone is dissatisfied with the results, let him hold up his hand in plain sight. This was his war just as it was his neighbor's. There is no place in America for the term "You fellows" when it comes to talking of the war or its benefits. It was a vindication of all America. The victory benefited the slacker just as much as it did the most loyal man or woman in the land.

Look out for that "You fellow" adviser.

Secretary of Labor Wilson is quoted as saying that several recent strikes in the United States were not industrial disputes in their origin but, rather, results of "a deliberate, organized attempt at a social and political movement to establish soviet governments in the United States." With the espionage laws giving them almost unlimited power, what have the department of justice and the postoffice department to say in defense of their failure to cope with this "deliberate, organized attempt" to establish soviet governments? Ole Hanson had no government appropriation nor government espionage law, but he did the work.

FEW MEN REPORT FOR WORK IN BAY REGION

San Francisco, Mar. 27.—An attempt to reopen the shipyard and contract machine shops in the Bay region after the strike has failed. But few men reported back to work as requested.

CAR OF REGISTERED SHORTHORNS IN CITY

Clinton Cook, whose ranch is on the Applegate river, arrived in this city today with a carload of registered Shorthorn cattle, from Princeton. There were 31 head all told, eight bulls ranging in age from eight to 11 months, and 23 heifers and cows, ranging in age from eight months to three years.

The cattle arrived in fine shape, although rather tired from a two days and three nights' ride in the car. Mr. Cook has taken them to the Parker barn where he will have them on sale until May 1. The animals are all registered and Mr. Cook states that he will furnish papers of registration with each one sold.

The Josephine County bank is interested in the shipment here of these thoroughbreds and will assist, in a financial way, all those ranchers who wish to purchase one or more of them to build up their present stock.
