THIRTY-SEVEN ANSWERS

An eastern news bureau recently sent out questionnaires to newspapers of the United States with the view of getting the opinion of the press in regard to the proposed league of nations idea.

The outstanding fact seems to be the overwhelming sentiment in favor of the league of nations. Of these 37 representative papers 34 profess themselves friendly to the idea of a world federation.

In some of the letters there is drastic condemnation of President Wilson's method of procedure, especially his attitude toward the senate. In some there is severe criticism of certain things in the document he submits.

given the preference in examinations or promotions is open to question. The positions for which civil service examinations are required have to do with the business of the state, and it is manifestly for the public good that the persons, soldier or civilian, best fitted to fill those positions should have them.

The system was inaugurated to do away with favoritism, with political and party handling of state offices to the jeopardy of state business and equal rights for the individual. Merit determined by the same tests for all, open to all, was accepted as the only just basis for decision.

Any soldier will stand just as good a show as any civilian in passing the examinations which have been carefully compiled to test the ability of the average citizen, and which should therefore work no more hardship upon one than upon another.

$25,000 WORTH CONFISCATED WHISKEY STOLEN AT SEATTLE

TELLS WHY UTAH'S SUICIDE RATE IS LOW

Salt Lake City, Apr. 1.—In the matter of suicides, Utah, in 1915, had the lowest rate of any state in the union, according to statistics of the state health office. The percentage was 12.7 per 100,000 of population. Even this record was bettered in 1916 and 1917, when the number per 100,000 population was 11.8 and 10, respectively.

Credit for this low suicide rate is given in a large degree to the "block teacher" system of the Mormon church. Utah's population is largely Mormon and visits by these "teachers" has been found an important factor in preventing actions due to loneliness and lack of advisors.

In each ecclesiastical ward of the church are both ward teachers and relief society teachers. "Blocks," approximating from six to twelve homes within a ward, are visited regularly by these teachers, both men and women. Families are given counsel in both religious, business and family affairs when they desire it. In this way, according to the authorities of the church, those persons of a morose disposition are cheered, young mothers are advised and numerous other matters taken up that have proved of benefit to all.

While the "teachers" are principally for the purpose of visiting and counseling members of the church, the help is offered to gentiles if they wish it. No one, including church members need be visited if they do not wish it.

POULTRY INCREASE POULTRY AND EGGS

Few Essential Things Are to Be Constantly in Mind—Dispose of Surplus Cockerels.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The general features of poultry husbandry, if adhered to by farmers and farmers' wives, by city dwellers who have enough space to keep a few hens, and by poultry specialists of the country will result in a remarkable increase of poultry and egg production. Only a few essential things are to be constantly borne in mind.

Another matter of prime importance is the production of infertile eggs. As soon as the breeding season is over every poultry keeper, whether general farmer, specialist or city dweller, should see that the hens are kept separate from the cocks. If this practice is followed it will result in the saving of millions of eggs that would otherwise become spoiled.

When the chicks have reached a marketable age care should be exercised to dispose promptly of all surplus cockerels in order to conserve feed. As early as possible such pullets and hens as are not profitable producers should be culled out and sold.

Throughout the year care should be exercised to prevent the marketing of all profitable hens of the general purpose class. Hens of this kind should never be sold until the end of their second year, and hens of the Mediterranean or egg class should not be sold until the end of their third laying year. A careful check should be kept, however, on hens, and every individual that does not show herself a profitable producer should be sold for meat.

BEST FEED FOR LAYING HENS

Mixture of Cracked Corn, Oats and Barley is Recommended—Exercise is Important.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A good mixture for laying hens is four parts each of cracked corn and oats and one part barley or wheat, if available, which should be scattered in the litter. Provide four or five inches of good, clean litter.

A dry mash composed of equal parts of cornmeal, bran, middlings, ground oats and beef scrap should be kept in hoppers to which the fowls have access at all times.

Plenty of exercise increases the egg yield. Cabbages, mangels, sprouted oats, cut clover and cut alfalfa make excellent green feed for poultry.

When wet mashes are fed be sure that they are crumbly and not sticky.

Reputation and Character. Reputation is what men think you are, character is what you are. Both are important, but character is indispensable to success. Without character you are not likely to have a good reputation—very long.

POULTRY RAISING ON FARMS

Little Capital is Required and Nothing Equals It as Profitable Side Line.

Poultry raising requires very little capital, but there are very few side-lines, if indeed there are any, that are equal to it for profitable production. Much is said of the time it requires for raising young fowls. But do not forget that when they are managed properly the fowls pay liberally for the time required to raise them. Farming is greatly handicapped for lack of cash and when any side-line can be found that requires little money but considerable labor it is attractive. Such is poultry raising on the farm.

FOWLS FOR BREEDING STOCK

Young Hens With Blunt Toenails Are Not Loafers—Same Applies to Male Birds.

Be sure to look at the toenails of the year-old and two-year-old hens being selected to hold over for next season's breeding stock. The hen that has worn her nails blunt and short has not been a loafer, and if the other well-known signs are in her favor, she is worth a place in the breeding pen. The blunt, short toenails are a good indication on the cock birds as well.

GOOD QUALITIES OF ROOSTER

More Apt to Be Carried to Females Than Males—Hens Always Take After Sire.

Roosters from high-priced layers are more apt to carry these qualities to their young than are hens of the same breeding. This is because in all animal life the male resembles the dam more than it does the sire and the female just reverse.

Bumblebee's Soliloquy.

Frank, seeing a bumblebee for the first time, said to his brother: "Hear that bug whispering to itself."

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most over-worked organs in the human body. When they break down, under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism. Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Hamlet Oil Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

CITY VS. COUNTRY

He left the farm and went to work, and wrote a letter to his brother who had elected to stay on the farm:

"Thursday we autoed out to the country club, where we golfed until dark. Then we trolleyed back to town and danced until dawn. Then we motored to the beach and Friday there."

The brother on the farm wrote back:

"Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballled all afternoon. Then we went to Ned's and poked until morning. Today we muled out to the cornfield and gee-hawed until sundown. Then we sapped and then we piped for a while. After we staircased up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived."

What Doctor Pierce Has Done For Humanity!

BY DOCTOR CRIPPS

It has always seemed to me that Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., should be placed near the top when a list of America's great benefactors is written. He studied and conquered human diseases to a degree that few realize. Whenever he found a remedy that overcame disease, he at once announced it in the newspapers and told where it could be bought at a small price. He did not follow the usual custom of keeping the ingredients secret, so that the rich only could afford to buy the medicine, but openly printed the name of each root and herb he used. And so to-day the names of Dr. Pierce and his medicines are widely known, and they stand for better health and better citizenship.

One of this great physician's most successful remedies is known as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These are little, sugar-coated pills, composed of Mayapple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap—things that Nature grows in the ground. These Pellets are safe because they move the bowels gently, leaving no bad after-effects, as so many pills do. Very often they make a person who takes them feel like a new man or woman, for they cleanse the intestines of hard, decayed and poisonous matter that accumulates when one is constive. If you are constipated, by all means go to your druggist and get some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They may prove to be the very thing your system requires to make you well and happy.
