A DEAF EAR
Who are the Armenians—are they human? The missionaries tell us that they are and that thousands of them are Christians.

Who are the Armenians—are they human? The missionaries tell us that they are and that thousands of them are Christians. Further, competent authorities tell us that the Armenians are a peace-loving, inoffensive people who love their homes.

From the one town of Aintab, 30,000 Armenians were driven into the desert to die, and now there are, so far as we can learn, only 4,000 or 5,000 alive. If this proportion holds true throughout, then nearly 850,000 men, women and children perished in that desert.

America went to war in the name of humanity—shall we finish the job? The Turks were defeated, but the allies, apparently, have discontinued their watch over them and have turned a deaf ear to the cries of the helpless who are being ripped with saber, shot and bayonet by the cold-blooded Turks who are allowed to carry out their relentless persecution, uninterrupted.

If America is fighting for the safety of humanity it would seem that the president is sending the Yanks home too soon. There is a little job that needs quick action and the allied troops and the Yanks should not establish permanent camp until the last military tooth is jerked from the foul jaws of the Turk.

Will Lloyd George and the president explain why they look with complacency upon these Turkish atrocities? The people would like to know. There should be a 15th "point" to cover the hellish situation being maintained by the Moslems.

In the meantime, Secretaries Daniels and Baker are seeing Paris and the "Big Four" are talking.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Colonel John Leader, of the University of Oregon, was warmly received when he visited the high school last Monday, in the interest of the military training recently installed in all high schools in Oregon.

The annual senior trip to Table Rock was taken Saturday by the class of 1919, the members going in cars and taking a plentiful supply of eatables with them.

Tuesday morning the assembly time was beguiled with clever stunts and orchestra music, coming in the form of a junior program. The orchestra played some hair-raising, or rather foot-raising pieces, and after a piano solo by Carlotta Wiseman, the Harmony Trio, composed of Veroneta and Lynetta Quinlan and Muriel Meyers, gave a number of the latest songs, accompanied by their ukeleles.
