WHAT BOOZE MONEY WILL BUY

We talk of war loans in billions, of public improvements costing hundreds of millions, but very few people except those who have been studying the matter realize the immense sum which will be set free for other purposes by the enactment of prohibition.

One man who has made a study of dry financial possibilities in the city of Cleveland is authority for the stunning news that thirsty Clevelanders pour $22,000,000 down their throats annually. This does not represent the money invested in buildings or breweries, but just that passed over the bars for drinks.

This sum, if invented for public service, says the lightning calculator, would:

- Pay all the expenses of city government for two years;
Pay the salaries of all the teachers for five years;
Repay the entire city and leave a fat balance in the bank;
Pay the expenses of the City Hospital for 78 years;
Light the streets for 50 years; or
Keep the parks in fine condition for 110 years.

KINNEY & TRUAX GROCERY Quality First

These are only a few of the useful and constructive things which could be done with all this money, every cent of which when spent for liquor does its little quota of harm.

The cities where prohibition has been in force for some time report that constructive things are really being done. Taxes are being reduced gradually. Bank deposits are increasing. Expenses for public institutions made necessary by the evil effect of drink are growing less.

Five months after his death, Mrs. Minnie Miller, of Seattle, received notice from the war department that her son had died of wounds received in battle. Some time ago the war department announced that J. V. Andrews of La Grande, Ore., had died of disease in the army overseas. This same Andrews arrived in New York Friday—he was not dead. These are but two instances of the thousands of errors made by our war department, yet democratic papers claim that the American people are prone to find fault and are heckling the administration. The war department's record for accuracy compares favorably with the Burleson record for efficiency.

Herr Rudiger, now with the German delegation at Versailles, said of his trip over war-torn France: "Words fail to describe my feelings as I crossed your devastated regions. I hope the peace that we are about to sign will bring satisfaction to all the nations." At last, is here one repentant German, or did Rudiger experience feelings of rejoicing on beholding what the kaiser's troops had accomplished?

The republican congressional committee recently sent out a circular letter to newspapers asking for advice regarding the 1920 campaign. That's easy, says the Medford Tribune. Don't reengage the management of 1916. The Tribune is right. Had Hughes' managers taken a vacation to the North Pole until after election, the result would have been different.

Senators Chamberlain and Mc-

Nary are strong for the league of nations covenant since the suggested amendments have been made. It looks very much like the league scheme will be endorsed by congress if all the present members do not die of old age before the matter is presented to them.

Dr. J. F. Reddy of Medford went to Portland the other day and when buttonholed by an Oregonian reporter, said "all southern Oregon is heartily in favor of the Roosevelt highway." Possibly the Doctor put it a little strong, yet we believe most people in this part of the state are in favor of that highway.

"I earnestly hope," says Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, "that Fiume may become an Italian possession so as to give Italy that security to which her armies and her heavy sacrifices entitle her." There are other senators who don't agree with Lodge.

Those Irishmen who are asking Uncle Sam to help them battle for their country's independence, display great nerve. The part played by most of these very same Irishmen during the great war smacked strongly of Hunism.

What's the matter with Portland? The Beavers are in a deep hole, while the metropolis is holding back the state in going over the top in the Victory loan drive.

The bolsheviki are disposing of their scientific instruments. They believe higher education is harmful to the Little Reds.

Don't forget to await the fly NOW!

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY (May 1)

British lines stagger before relentless attacks of the Huns on fifteen mile front in Flanders.

Appalling losses fail to halt German assaults in the Noyon sector. Ypres salient still held by the French and British, but at a tremendous cost.

Germans massing thousands of reserves at Liege to force decision regardless of losses.

Vanguard of America's millions lend small reinforcement to hard-pressed Allies.

IT RAISES THE DOUGH

Successful baking is assured when Crescent is used, because it rises first when moisture is added in the mixing bowl, and then again when heat is applied. The result of this double raise is deliciously light, wholesome, and easily digested breads, cakes and biscuits.

Crescent has been the established standard baking powder for a quarter of a century on the Pacific Coast. No better formula has been produced. The Crescent Cook Book is very helpful. Write the Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle, for a copy. Grocers sell Crescent Baking Powder.
