MEMORIAL DAY

WHEREAS: On Memorial Day, May 30th, 1918, at the opera house in Grants Pass many of the good citizens of Grants Pass, thoughtlessly neglected to attend the Memorial exercises on that date, and listen to the patriotic address of Hon. Frank Bramwell, wherein he paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the nation's, and those who paid the supreme sacrifice during the Civil War that the Union be preserved.

When it is recalled that during the Civil war there were two and a half million men in the Union army, and only a little over half of these men ever returned to their homes and families surely we of this generation are thoughtless in neglecting to pay due respect to their memory on Memorial Day.

Were it not for these patriotic men of 1861-65 who fought the battles for the Union for four years of awful fighting, when the nation's life was in the balance there would be no nation today.

To every patriotic, 100 per cent, American Memorial Day should be sacred. As an example in faith and patriotism to the present generation his sacred day should be observed as the spirit of General Logan's Memorial Day order of May 5th, 1868, wherein he asked as a respect to the memory of the Union defenders that their graves be strewn with flowers, or otherwise decorating their graves.

May 30th, is now a legal holiday in about 40 states of the Union. Why should good, loyal citizens permit his sacred day to be commercialized by the "dollar chasers?" Why should many good citizens of Grants Pass and vicinity thoughtlessly use his day for picnicking, ball playing and vaudeville shows? Not but these amusements are proper in time and place, but should not be on Memorial Day when we assemble to honor the memory of our soldier dead.

THEREFORE, Be it Resolved that we, the members of General Logan Post Grants Pass, Oregon, and the Womans Relief Corps endorse the foregoing preamble, and ask the papers of Grants Pass to publish the same.

S. W. PHILLIPS, Commander General Logan Post No. 39. ANNA STINEBAUGH, President Womans Relief Corps.

"There is no desire anywhere to delay the treaty of peace with Germany one moment beyond the time necessary to understand it, but we must have it before us in the official form. As to the league of nations, the American people must know just what they are to be asked to agree to. By what league they are invited to take the gravest step ever taken by the United States, and no organized clamor, no manufactured pressure of any kind will swerve the senate from its high duty of laying before the American people exactly what the league involves and what it means to the United States and to the future peace of the world."

REO SIX TAKEN LAST NIGHT, FOUND TODAY

A Reo Six automobile, owned by the Grants Pass-Crescent City stage line, was stolen from its garage in this city last night sometime after 10 o'clock. The car is a 1917 model, black body, and bearing license No. 50,909.

Just before noon today the automobile was found standing beside the Baptist church, the last drop of gasoline gone. The car had been run about 125 or 150 miles, and there was evidence that a party of joy-riders had been having the time of their lives with it.

This afternoon a man by the name of Riley Cox, who had been in the city for about a week, was arrested here by Sheriff George Lewis and Deputy Sheriff Lister, accused of having taken the auto. When taken before Justice Holman, Cox said he knew nothing about the car, and his case will come up for hearing tomorrow at 10:30. Not being able to raise the $350 bond required by the judge, he is awaiting in jail until the hour of his trial.

HAND GRENADES GONE, THEY THREW STONES

Loss of Equipment Fails to Kill the Fighting Spirit of the Yanks.

The fighting spirit that made the American army irresistible is illustrated in the case of Private Michael J. Feeney of Company G, One Hundred and Fourteenth infantry regiment, Twenty-ninth division, who, with his "buddy," named Brady, put a German squad to flight by hurling stones at them. The incident is related in a letter received in New York from First Lieut. T. J. B. Lang, Feeney's commanding officer, who vouches for its authenticity. Lieutenant Lang volunteered from Jersey City, while Feeney's home is in Bayonne, N. J.

The Twenty-ninth division was in heavy fighting in a wooded district in or near the St. Mihiel sector. "Feeney and his running mate, Brady, were occupying the same bunk hole in the woods," writes Lieutenant Lang. "There was just some tangled underbrush between them and the lines of Boches close in front. During the early morning some Boches who evidently had come up during the night got close enough to hurl their hand grenades into our lines. We were not in trenches. We had gone far, far beyond them.

"One Hun hurled a grenade quite accurately and it landed on the edge of the hole which was the 'hunting lodge' of Feeney and Brady. Feeney saw the grenade coming and jumping himself, he hauled his comrade, Brady, after him into the next hole less than a foot and a half to the right. Of course he didn't have time to save his equipment.

"The grenade exploded with a terrible noise. It shattered the stock of Feeney's rifle, making it useless, but Feeney wasn't long in deciding that the 'Dootchmen' were a dirty lot and needed a beating. He had no gun and no grenades so, with a curse at the Kaiser and his servants, he stood up in plain view of the enemy and threw rocks and stones at the Huns a few yards away.

"They evidently didn't feel safe facing Feeney and his mate, Brady, and, thinking they were due for a shower of grenades, beat a mighty hasty retreat for their own territory."

WOULD "DIP" PEOPLE TO KILL THE VERMIN

Constantinople, May 20—Constantinople is being cleaned up by the allies and soon it will be like a Western European city. The regeneration of Turkey is commencing with a general sanitary campaign in which the American Red Cross commission to the Balkans has been asked to aid.

"American sanitary engineers of the Goethals type are badly needed out here," declared an American physician. "Sewage systems must be installed throughout the Near East in hundreds of towns. Constantinople must be cleaned up till it looks like a Swiss housewife's kitchen. Mosquito netting by the millions of bales must be brought over. Local doctors do not believe in the screening of sick beds or of hospital windows. They must go to school again in their profession. Swamps and unhealthy valleys must be drained. The people must be driven out of the filthy centers of disease into the open country where the sun can get at them and where they can engage in healthy farm work.

"Sometimes," said the Red Cross doctor, "I feel an irresistible desire to gather 10,000 of these unfortunate wretches together, strip them of their crazy quilt bundles of vermin-infested rags, force them all into a vast petroleum pool, then into a great tank of clean water. I would give them one and all a pair of American shoes, a pair of overalls and a sweater."

MOLASSES USED FOR FUEL BY THE CUBANS

Havana, May 20.—Great quantities of molasses are wasted by the sugar mills of Cuba. Attempts have been made to utilize this waste product as fuel for the boilers of the sugar mills and now a Cuban inventor claims he has invented an apparatus which will permit the use of the molasses as fuel without choking the furnaces. All the sugar mills produce more molasses than can be marketed and, it is asserted, twice the amount needed to furnish fuel for steam power.

MEDFORD SANATORIUM

The people of Rogue River valley are to be congratulated upon having at their doors an institution like the Medford Sanitarium. It is the only institution on the Pacific coast thoroughly equipped for the treatment of diseased conditions. The building is so constructed that each room has its own lavatory accommodations, private telephone, sleeping porch, etc. Take the item of the X-ray department alone. The cost of equipping same would purchase a very comfortable bungalow of five or more rooms. But without such equipment it would be impossible to thoroughly examine a person. In diseases of the stomach every portion of the intestinal canal can be seen and the diseased portion shown to friends and often the patient themselves. Special attention is paid to diseases of women, the stomach and Nutritional diseases. 711f
