Won't Miss His Vote—

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Williams are spending a few days in the city. Mr. Williams, now a member of the public service commission, is very enthusiastic over the progressive measures to be voted on June 3 and intends to remain in Grants Pass until after election.

Herbert Bull Home—

Herbert Bull is among the boys who returned recently from overseas. A party in honor of his return was given by his grandmother, Mrs. Byll, May 24th at her home in Wilderville. Among the many friends and relatives who gathered to welcome him home were Charles Holland and George Ferren also of overseas service. All enjoyed an evening spent in dancing and patriotic singing. Refreshments were served.

Taken to Salem—

Nathaniel Smith was taken to Salem yesterday by an attendant from the state asylum. Mr. Smith has been a resident of Grants Pass for several years, but has always been considered harmless. Lately he has taken a turn for the worse and some of the citizens have become afraid of him. He is said to be a well-read man. Quite naturally he put up some resistance when taken by the officers, but finally quietly submitted.
