Aristocrats in Gutter.

We hear rumors of grand dukes and other members of the old nobility of Russia driving cabs and peddling bootlaces in Petrograd. This is no new thing in Europe. In England the descendants of the great Plantagenets have been found in very lowly occupations. A few years ago a lawsuit proved that a genuine Bourbon was then hawking vegetables in the streets of Paris. A few years earlier a son of a cousin of Empress Josephine, Napoleon's first love, was sent to prison for petty larceny. In 1892 the Marquis DeFoligne was an omnibus conductor; the Comte de la Marche was a house painter; the Marquis DeTorcey d'Etalinde kept a small inn at Carnac, and the Marquis d'Hauteroche, a descendant of the nobleman who, at the battle of Fontenoy, called out to the English: "Tirez les premiers," was a gendarme.

Antimony in the Transvaal.

A new body of antimony is reported to have been opened near the Komati river, in the district of the Steynsdorp gold fields, Transvaal. As the ore is found to be valuable, a mining company is now carrying on smelting operations on the spot. Three shafts have been sunk to a depth of 50 feet, besides open workings. One is continuous throughout. A furnace capable of smelting ten tons of ore per day is in operation and it is stated that there is sufficient ore in sight to keep the furnace working while developments are being made.—Scientific American.

A DANGEROUS SITUATION FOR THE UNITED STATES.

The proposed constitution of the league of nations contains no provisions for disarmament. There is talk in it about disarmament, but there is no provision for disarmament. It provides that the league might make a decree reducing the armament of the several nations. Whether it will do so or not, upon what terms it will act, what the relative proportions of military strength shall be are left in the power of a combination in which Europe and Asia will be predominant.—From Senator Poindexter's address to the Women's Civic Association in San Francisco.

Finding God.

If we cannot find God in your house and mine, upon the roadside or the margin of the sea; in the bursting seed or opening flower; in the day duty or the night musing—I do not think we should discern him any more upon the grass of Eden, or beneath the moonlight of Gethsemane.—J. Martineau.
