

Extravagance Not Efficiency

A great writer describes the "efficient extravagance" of the American people. But he is wrong. Extravagance can never be efficiency—except in WASTE. And WASTE makes WANT. But SAVING insures COMFORT, and comfort is the highest goal. You can take care of your own comfort while you are making money. But if you waste your money, the time will come when you CAN'T have comfort. This bank wants to cooperate with you in saving for future comfort. Start an account NOW.

Ed. Holmes left this morning for the Southern Pacific hospital at San Francisco. Mr. Holmes has been out of the hospital for some weeks but he feels that he is not making satisfactory improvement.

The Dr. Clement family in their new Nash car and Frank Nombalats and party visited Ashland Sunday and returned home via Eagle Point, but at night all desert roads look alike and the two machines traveled many unnecessary miles. They finally found a wayfarer who piloted them to Central Point and the rest was easy.

Eternal Leap Years.
There exists at least one place in the world where men consider it below their dignity to notice women at all, much less to make overtures of marriage. Consequently the proposing is left to the women. When a New Guinea woman falls in love with a man she sends a piece of string to his sister, or, if he has no sister, to his mother or another of his lady relatives. Then the lady who receives the string tells the favored man that the particular woman is in love with him. No courtship follows, however, for it is considered beneath a New Guinea man's dignity to waste time in such a pursuit. If a man thinks he would like to wed the lady, he meets her alone, and they decide whether to marry or drop the idea.

BORN
KRYTZER—To Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Krytzer, 805 D street, Monday, July 21, a daughter.

Dream Reveals Crime.
A dream once played its part in a celebrated criminal case—the "Red Barn Murder"—the memory of which is kept alive by the melodrama still played in country towns in England. Mrs. Marten, the mother of Maria Marten, the victim, dreamed three successive nights that her daughter had been murdered and buried in the red barn. She insisted that the floor should be taken up. This was done and the body of the missing girl was found, and constituted a link in the chain of circumstantial evidence on which the murderer, William Corder, was convicted and executed in August, 1828.

Here From Portland—
Rev. and Mrs. Joseph D. Boyd, of the Woodlawn Church of Christ, Portland, were here today visiting Mrs. Boyd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vernon. They left today for Lodi, Cal.

Spend Week at Holland—
Dr. R. J. Bestil, accompanied by Mrs. Bestil, is leaving today for the Holland district where he will spend the balance of the week giving dairy cows the tuberculin test. While the doctor is busy, Mrs. Bestil will amuse herself camping out and forgetting the hot weather.

Swimmer Has Close Call—
Mrs. Ofeo Wimer came near losing her life while in bathing near the railroad bridge Saturday evening, being rescued and taken from the river by her brother. Mrs. Wimer can swim, but was rather tired out from over exertion and was caught in an undercurrent.

Excursion Rates to Coast—

Denies Olcott's Statement—
In reply to Governor Olcott's letter reproduced in Monday's Courier, W. R. Whipple of this city called at the Courier office this morning and denied having called the governor's attention to a possible airplane route along the coast. Mr. Whipple states that he called attention to many possible airplane landing between Oregon and California, but did not mention a coast route.

Remodeling Wonder Building—
The remodeling of the former Wonder store building is now in progress and when completed will be occupied by Treichler-Pierson, Inc., of Medford, as a Dodge and Oldsmobile sales room. The front of the building has been taken out and a stairway to the Trement rooms will be placed on the north side of the front. The small rooms in the rear of the building will be opened into one with an arch cut through between the front and the rear.

Reading the "Signs"—
Pat Carnegie, a stranger about 56 years of age, was picked up yesterday near the Riverside park by District Attorney Miller, who noticed that Carnegie was acting in a strange manner. The stranger informed the District Attorney that he could "read the signs," and that there was a fire war on in Tennessee. Regardless of the Tennessee unpleasantness, Carnegie will be examined tomorrow and it is probable that he will spend some time at the state institution at Salem. He is now resting at Sheriff Lewis' boarding house.

Laurence Underwood Returns—
Laurence Underwood, who has been absent from this city for the past 18 months, the greater part being spent in the U. S. army, arrived last night from Washington, D. C., and will be employed at Olding's garage of this city. Underwood was a sergeant in the tank corps, having been lured into that branch of the service by a poster stating "Why walk to Berlin when you can ride in a tank?" Underwood says, however, that he did more walking while drilling at Gettysburg than ever before in his life. Since his discharge in February, he has been working as a drafts man in the shipyards at Washington.

Sees Son on Screen.

"There he is; there's John!" shouted Mrs. John Hughes, who with her husband was watching a picture at a movie at Macon, Ga. The parents were overjoyed when the picture of their son, Sergeant John H. Hughes, Jr., of the aviation service in France, was thrown on the screen and they "saw him," though a thousand miles away.

Quotations for Authors.

"The press is open and my book is fairly set a-going. . . . The proof sheets amuse me finely at breakfast. I cannot help hoping for some applause. You will be kind enough to communicate to me all that you hear, and to conceal from me all censure. I would not, however, dislike to hear impartial corrections; perhaps Mr. Gray may say something to you of it."—James Boswell to William J. Temple (1767).
